Burglars hit town third time

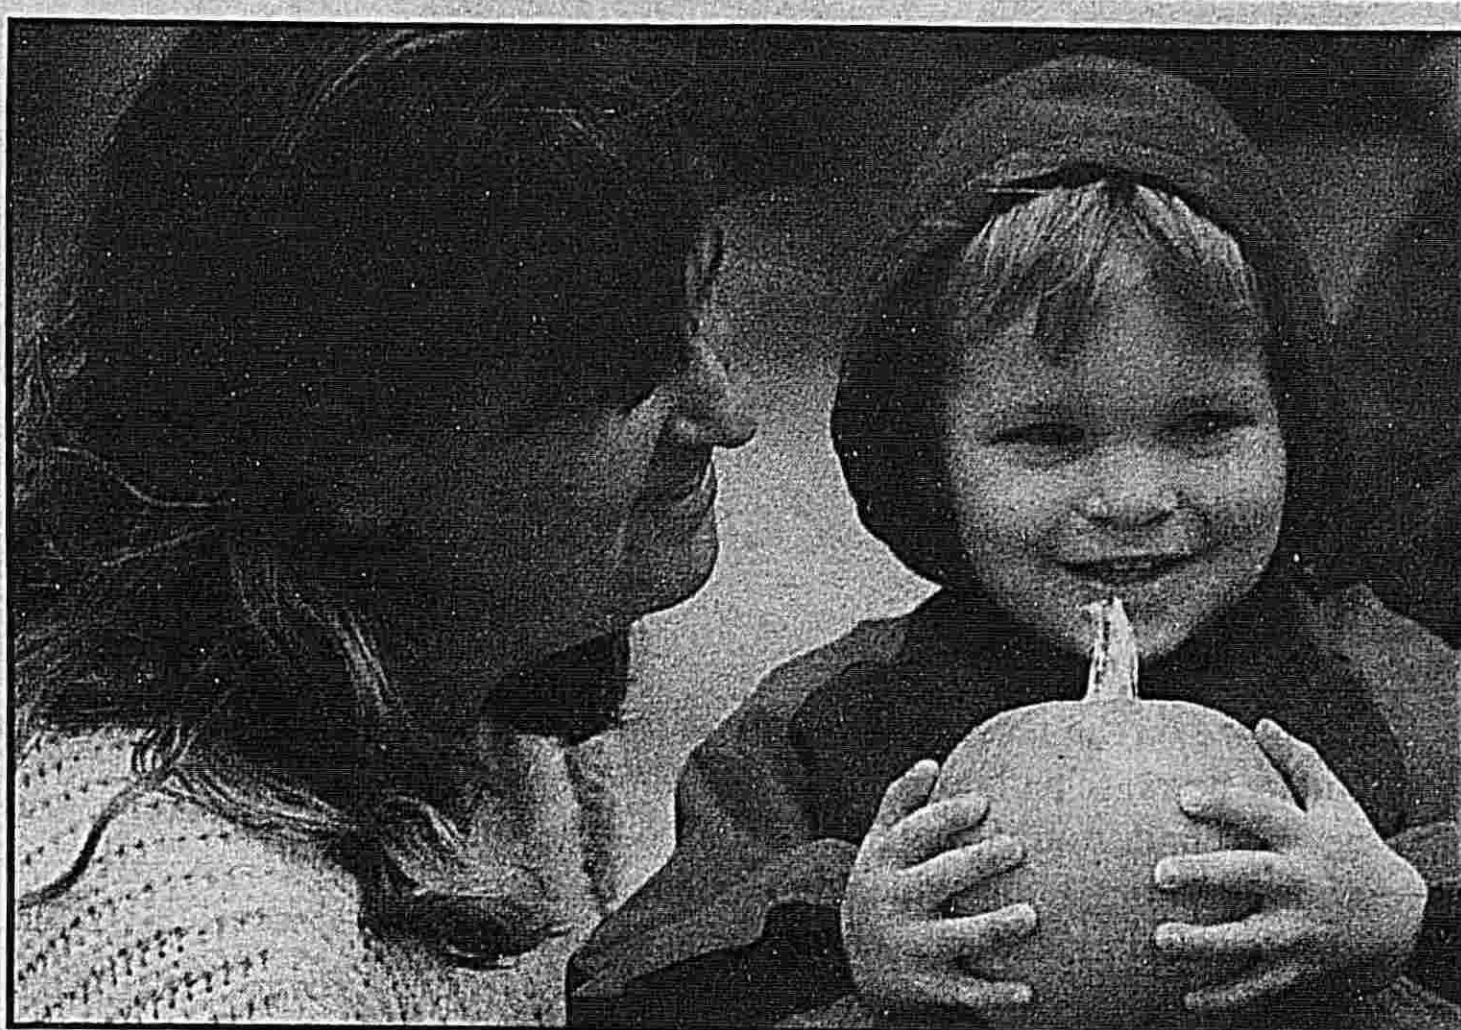

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Within two weeks, three businesses in Antioch have been burglarized. J.J. Blinkers was the most recent business to be hit over the weekend. Luigi's Restaurant was burglarized on Oct. 7 and the Old Hickory Bar and Restaurant was struck in the early morning hours on Oct. 10.

"We are investigating this," said Antioch Police Department Deputy Chief Charles Watkins. "We think the burglaries are related."

The burglary at J. J. Blinkers was reported at 10 a.m., Saturday Oct. 14. According to police reports, the thieves pried open a door and gained entry.

Antioch's 'Halloween Howl' promises spooktacular fun

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Antioch village and business leaders hope to bring the good old-fashioned fun back to Halloween when Antioch celebrates its second annual "Halloween Howl."

On Oct. 27-28, various downtown walkways will be transformed into a spooktacular maze of Halloween fun. The frightful sites include "Dracula's Cave," "Witches Kitchen," and "Tunnel of Terror," and

"Happy Ghosts." The friendlier children's exhibits include "Happy Haunted Graveyard," "Mummy's Tomb," "Smiling Spirits," hay rides and face painting.

Halloween Howl is the brainchild of Antioch Community Development Director Claude LeMere. He said he got the idea after strolling through Antioch's downtown streets and alleys late at night.

"The building walkways are a perfect area for this," LeMere said. "Between dark walkways and spooky shadows, it's a way to utilize an area that gets a lot of negative connotations and give it a real positive image."

LeMere said the village was pleasantly surprised by last year's turnout and expects more Halloween visitors this year.

"The banks, the Chamber of Commerce and Community Action Now were major funding institutions to get this thing off the ground and they deserve a lot of credit because I didn't have a dollar to do this," LeMere said. Lakeland Newspapers, the Advertiser, Antioch Jaycees, Biller Press and Century 21 - Epifanio are other major sponsors this year.

Moser committee donates money for park pavilion

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Warren Moser Committee, donated $14,170 to the Village of Antioch for the construction of a pavilion in Pederson Park. The money was generated through a benefit held at the Limerick Tavern.

Organizers of the Warren Moser Benefit had hoped to raise funds to not only offset heavy medical expenses but to fulfill a critically ill man's dreams. The event, took place on July 30, despite the fact Moser died earlier.

"Unfortunately, he died before the benefit," said Al Anderson of the Limerick.

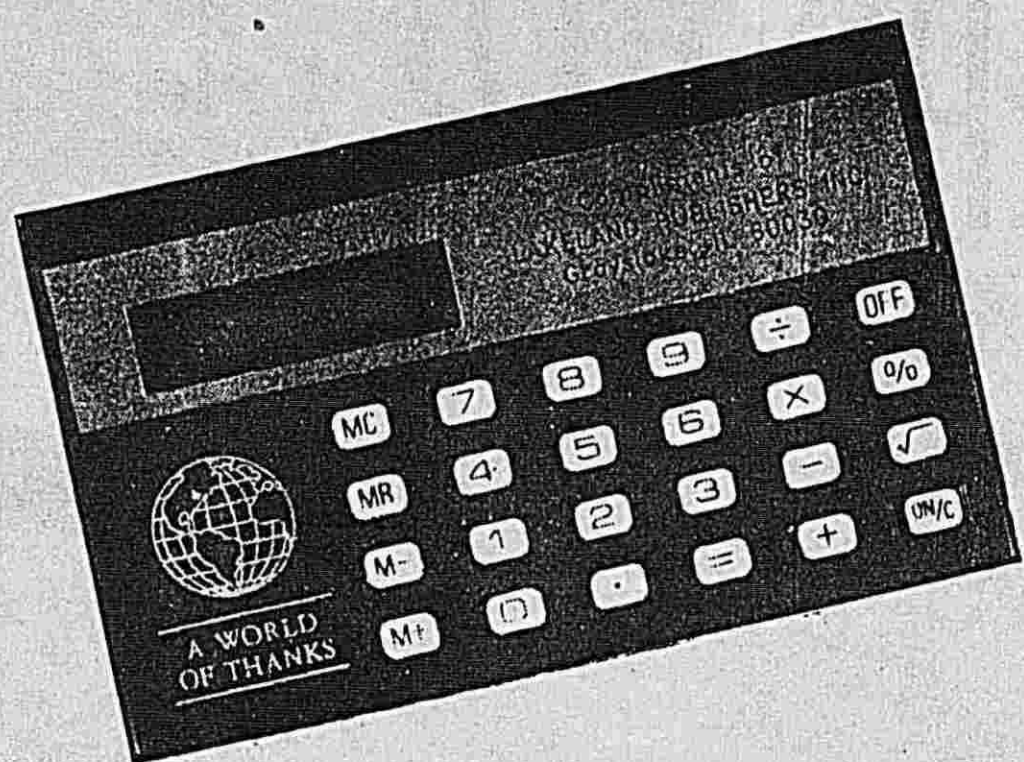

The 39-year-old locksmith and mechanic was a familiar sight in Antioch. He worked at Ray's Service in Antioch prior to his illness.

Local businesses as well as the Village of Antioch helped organizers with the benefit. The Antioch Village Board approved the use of part of the municipal lot on Toft Street for the Warren Moser Benefit. Many businesses donated items for the auction and raffle.

The Moser Benefit Committee raised $14,172.30, which they presented to the Antioch Village Board on Monday. The money is earmarked for a 30- by 30-foot hexagonal open air pavilion complete with a plaque honoring Moser.

"The pavilion will be constructed near the parking lot," said Antioch Parks Director Cheryl McCameron.

"I can't think of a better tribute to Warren," said Don Zeeman of the Parks Board. Zeeman said the pavilion will be completed by the spring but maybe even sooner, "depending on the Indian Summer."

Schools celebrate Red Ribbon Week

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Oct. 23 through Oct. 27 has been designated as National Red Ribbon Week by the National Federation for Drug Free Youth. All the Antioch elementary schools will be participating in various activities in honor of the event.

In District 34 schools, students will be wearing red ribbons and participating in drug prevention activities. According to Chris Newton, the drug prevention coordinator for District 34, the school will have many interesting activities for the week.

"We will have a poster contest for fourth-graders and a writing contest for fifth-graders," said Newton. "The theme will be 'Healthy Means Drug Free.'"

Miss Antioch, Lauren Haas will be visiting W. C. Petty to distribute information and friendship bracelets. "She will also be the Red Ribbon Story to students at Antioch Grade School," said Newton.

Winners for the post and writing contest will be announced on Oct. 27.

At Grass Lake School, red ribbons will be distributed to students. "We've got our drug free signs up," said Superintendent Jim Beveridge. "Students will receive program information."

The Red Ribbon Campaign was started in 1985 after the murder of Federal Agent Enrique Camarena. Camarena was killed by drug traffickers in Mexico.

The concept behind the campaign is the red ribbon, which symbolizes our nation's intolerance of wasted potential of youth destroyed through alcohol and drugs.

The program is not just for children alone. Parents are also encouraged to wear the red ribbon in support of the program.

Village okays two improvement projects

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Village Board has approved two improvement projects slated to begin in the spring of 1996. Funding for both projects will include federal money.

The first project will include sidewalks from Centennial Park to the new train depot. Estimated cost of the project is $69,000.

"The village is going to receive an Operation Greenlight Grant," said Village Engineer John Boldt. Boldt explained that initially, the costs will be paid with motor fuel tax moneys. Then, he said, the money is refunded by the grant.

"It is reimbursable money," said Mayor Marilyn Shineflug.

The second project will be the phase II of the Depot Street reconstruction. Work will be done on the road from Route 83 to Longview. The total cost of the project is estimated to be $340,000. The Village of Antioch will pay a third of the costs, which will be $108,000 from motor fuel tax funds. The remained will be paid through federal funding.

Since the project was not included in this year's budget, one trustee voiced concerns regarding the payment of early design engineering bills. "I have to talk to Tim (Antioch Village Administrator) because I don't have any indication how we will be able to make the payment," said Trustee Wayne Foresta. "There is probably $30,000 to $40,000 extra left over from last year that could be used."

However, board members were reluctant to delay the project because of a fear of losing the federal funding. "We got the money from the Council of Mayors," said Shineflug.

To allay the boards' concerns, Boldt said financial arrangements could be made. "We will work something out," said Boldt. "Maybe by making payments next year."

The project will include the resurfacing of a portion of Depot Street as well as an attempt to smooth out the sharp curve near Garys Drive. While it is not possible to straighten the road out as much as Boldt would like, the current 5 mph turn will be reworked to a 20 mph curve.

DiMarco's to reopen with new name, family recipes

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The popular Italian restaurant, DiMarco's, is slated to reopen on Nov. 1. While the same fine quality menu will be available, diners will notice some changes.

"There are a lot of changes," said owner-manager Donna DiMarco. "It will be a much more casual atmosphere."

Remodeling work is underway. The bar and lounge will be expanded and a la carte and half quantities will be offered on the menu. The back parking lot has been paved to allow more convenient parking as well.

"It will be more accommodative," said DiMarco.

Donna DiMarco has joined forces with Gene Pontillo to reopen the restaurant after it closed earlier this fall. Pontillo also owns Luigi's of Hong Kong in Lake Zurich.

"We both have a lot of restaurant experience," said DiMarco. "We have joined hands."

While there will be changes, the restaurant will certainly keep its identity.

"We will still be doing business as DiMarco's," said DiMarco. "I have no intention of changing the food. The recipes we use are family recipes. It will be the same quality, but more affordable."

The restaurant had been previously operated by Donna and her relatives. "They will always be with me," said DiMarco of her family. "They do intend to come and help out."

The restaurant will have a new look, new atmosphere and a new name. "Trattoria di donaponti, Inc.," will be painted on the windows. Loosely translated, it means the eatery of Donna and Pontillo.

COURAGE geared up for big Red Ribbon Week

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

A community anti-gang organization is preparing a special event to bring home the anti-drug message of Red Ribbon Week.

Community Outreach United Residents Against Gang Environment (COURAGE) will begin the festivities with a fund raiser called a Mile of Quarters on Oct. 21. The event will be held at the Linden Plaza from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"The money will go towards COURAGE. It is a good, positive alternative other than gangs, alcohol or drugs," said Linda Bergin of COURAGE.

The event will help defray the cost for major trips such as a ski trip and summer camping excursions. Both events included leadership training and self-esteem workshops besides the activities.

During the day the group will have a red-ribbon a mile long to commemorate the beginning of Red Ribbon Week. The ribbon was donated by the Round Lake Beach Kmart.

Red Ribbon Week is from Oct. 21 to 28 and honors Enrique Camarena, a Drug Enforcement Agent who was killed by drug dealers in Mexico. The week is recognized nationally and serves as an opportunity to create awareness of the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse.

COURAGE also is holding a special general meeting on Oct. 25 at 7 p.m. at Lindenhurst Village Hall with a panel of experts from COURAGE's four participating villages, Antioch, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

"It is chance see how each of the communities is doing in the fight against drugs and how individuals can help police solve these problems," Bergin said.

COURAGE is a group which takes a zero tolerance stance to gang activity. It stresses preventing gang membership through education, prevention and intervention. The organization has both a youth and adult group.

COURAGE volunteers will also participate in the Haunted Howl in Antioch from 4 to 11 p.m. and the Haunted Trail from 2 to 10 p.m. in the McDonald Woods.

Police may have found coin collection owner

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Police Department is still searching for the owners of an antique coin collection. However, they believe they may have found the rightful owner. According to Deputy Chief Charles Watkins, during the early part of August a young child between the ages of 10 and 11 years old went to a store in the village. The child asked the clerk to exchange coins for bills, which the clerk did.

Upon closer inspection of the coins, it appears the coins are part of a collection dating from the early 1900s to 1972. "Most of them are old coins," said Watkins.

The face value of the coins is $40, however it is likely the coins are much more valuable.

Last week, Watkins received a call from a woman in Florida who has a home in Antioch and has a coin collection. Police are looking forward to speaking with her when she returns to Antioch in the next couple weeks to determine if the coins are hers.

In the meantime, residents are encouraged to call the Antioch Police Department at 395-8585 if they find their collection or part of their collection missing. Caller will be required to specifically identify the coins.

"We'll wait a little while longer," Watkins warns.

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

A man accused of sexually molesting at least two children is free on bond awaiting his next court hearing.

Leroy Simon, 64, of Kildeer, was released from Lake County Jail late last week after posting $30,000 cash as bond, said Lake County Assistant State's Attorney Mary Schostok.

His bond was reduced from $500,000 to $300,000 Oct. 13 by Associate Judge Victoria A. Rosetti.

A preliminary hearing was set for 10 a.m. Oct. 26, but Schostok does not think that will happen.

Cases like these involving children are typically sent to the grand jury, she said, which is barred from public view. Schostok said Simon would likely appear before the grand jury on Oct. 25.

Simon is accused of having sexual contact with two children for more than 10 years. He is charged with two counts of child pornography, a Class 1 felony, two counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse, Class 2 felonies, and one count of aggravated criminal sexual assault, a Class X felony.

Authorities have identified two children now age 12 and 17 who were allegedly abused by Simon beginning when they were 4 or 5-years-old, officials said.

An investigation is continuing to try and identify any other children who may have had contact with Simon, Schostok said.

Lake County Sheriff's investigators found a large amount of child pornography in the form of videos, magazines, still pictures and others hidden throughout Simon's home.

Armed man stand off ends quietly

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

Whenever it rained in an Ernest Hemingway story, tragedy would soon occur. Rain was a powerful foreshadowing tool for the late author but fortunately it did not come into play during a rain-soaked police stand off with a man who had three loaded guns and his four children inside his house.

Police say the tense minutes leading up to the surrender of Robert M. Galvin, 30 who lives in the 200 block of Highland Rd. in Grayslake, was actually the product of a domestic dispute between Galvin and his wife. To relieve the tension and because her husband had been drinking, his wife left the home for a short while. Grayslake Police Sergeant Matt McCutcheon said the trouble escalated when she returned to the home.

"He held a hand gun to her head and said she could not come into the house," McCutcheon said.

Terrified, the woman raced to the Grayslake Police Department to report the situation. McCutcheon said the woman was hysterical because her four children, ages 7, 5 and 3-year-old twins, were still in the house with her intoxicated and armed husband. Police quickly surrounded the house for a tactical situation and established verbal and visual contact with Galvin.

McCutcheon said this situation can be one of the most dangerous for police because they cannot defend themselves as easily when children are being held hostage. McCutcheon credits the five police personnel on the scene for diffusing the situation in less than 10 minutes.

Galvin exited the home and surrendered to the police without incident. More frightening to police is what they found when they entered the home. McCutcheon said Galvin had placed three firearms about the house indicating he was prepared to hold a stand-off with police. Two of the loaded weapons were .38 caliber hand guns. The other loaded weapon was a .308 caliber high powered rifle.

What's frightening about that is it will go right through the vest the officer's are wearing," McCutcheon said.

The children were unharmed in the incident, which occurred on Friday, Oct. 13. Officers on the scene credited by McCutcheon are Sergeant Conrad Gutraj, officer Mark Voykin, officer Kevin Robinson, K-9 officer Thor, officer Todd Smith and rookie officer in training Darrell Shearer.

Officials caution on tax savings solicitation

Lake County State's Atty. Michael Wallers and Supervisor of Assessments Kenneth Larson have become aware of mail solicitations offering to save homeowners up to $200 on their real estate taxes for a fee of approximately $67. Although not disclosed in the mailing, the service being offered allows those homeowners who do not currently benefit from the Limited Homestead Exemption to receive this exemption.

The Limited Homestead Exemption is available to all owner occupied residential property and causes the assessed value of the property to be reduced by $3,500. Depending on a homeowner's tax rate, the real estate tax savings is approximately $200.

The State's Attorney and Supervisor of Assessments want Lake County homeowners to know that the Limited Homestead Exemption is available without paying a fee. To receive this exemption homeowners are advised to examine their most recent Lake County real estate tax bill. There is no application or form to be completed. If they currently receive the Limited Homestead Exemption, it will be indicated on the tax bill. If they are not now receiving the Limited Homestead Exemption, homeowners should contact their township assessor. Receiving the Limited Homestead Exemption in Lake County may be as simple as calling or writing your township assessor.

There is no reason for any Lake County homeowner to pay a fee to obtain the Limited Homestead Exemption. If any Lake County homeowner has a question about receiving this tax savings, they should contact their township assessor.

'Timmy the Toolman' watches too much television

As part of the "getting to know each other" routine at the beginning of the Camp Crayon year, the teachers have the kids stand up and introduce themselves. On this particular day, the routine started and proceeded around the circle until it reached little Timmy Runyard.

Miss Marie, who has the tendency to always call Timmy "Tim the Tool Man," asked Timmy his name. He replied "Tim." Wanting him to give both his first name and his last name she said, "Okay, Tim the Tool Man, what's your other name?" She received a blank look and silence from Timmy. Diligently she tried another approach and questioned him by saying, "Tim the Tool Man _____?"; to which Timmy Runyard replied, "Taylor." I think those teachers are messin' with you, Timmy!

Emmons News No. 1

Emmons School has implemented a program in which S.T.A.R.S. students are selected monthly based on performance, improvement and effort. The students from the Kindergarten to fifth grade classrooms receive a button and a book courtesy of the PTO. The students from grades sixth to eighth will have their picture exhibited and receive a lunch, also compliments of the PTO. I thought the kids might like to see their name in the paper, regarding this achievement, so they have something to put in their scrapbooks to show their own kids what great students they were.

For the month of September, here are the students that earned this prestigious award: Brandon Booth, Kelsey Wade, Douglas Mouradian, Kevin DeKind, Mostafa Nasr, Eric Kruthers, Kyle Moncelle, Brad Ptasienski, Kevin Kruthers, James Cansler, Erin Demien, Courtney Willding, Liz Ersler, Rick Ross and Derek Duba. Congratulations to you all—keep up the good work.

The busy folks over at Emmons have an Ice Cream Social scheduled for tonight, Friday, Oct. 20 from 6 to 9:30 p.m. They will be having delicious treats and not just games, but exciting games. Prize walks will be going on all night long and door prizes will be given away throughout the evening. There will be Speed Pitch and Free-throw games for all you sports enthusiasts.

So moms, forget about cooking dinner tonight. Make the kids

Seems I missed some really important birthdays this month. Young Krissy Foerster celebrated her seventh birthday this month with a roller skating party. The ever-helpful Cindy Seamon volunteered her services at the party, which meant donning roller skates and assisting the unskilled little skaters. It seems, though, that Mrs. Seamon hit the floor a number of times herself while my Tricia was around and then swore my 6 year old to secrecy so as that little tidbit didn't hit the presses. Guess it didn't work because here it is!

Young Joey Glaimo celebrated his birthday on Friday the 13th! Joey didn't seem the least bit superstitious about his birthday being on such a haunting day. As long as there are cake and presents, kids could care less.

Also young Shondra Moon will be celebrating her birthday this month with a costume party. I, for one, greatly appreciate this opportunity for my daughter to wear her Halloween costume again. After spending all that money and time on the goofy thing, it's nice to know she won't wear it for one day and pack it off in her closet. Jeesh! Isn't that what we do as newly-married brides with our wedding dresses? I think if we pondered that thought very long we could come up with some correlation between the two events—I bet our husbands could too!

Also, a member of our Schreiber clan had a big birthday celebration this month. My Uncle Frank—that's Frank Smith to all you townsfolk—turned 80 this month. We celebrated his birthday at one of our many family "annual" outings, complete with this huge cake. When I told my girls that Uncle Frank was 80 years old, Tricia asked, "Mom, that's older than God, isn't it?" Thank goodness Uncle Frank is a little light on the hearing.

And last but not least, how could I possibly pass up the opportunity to wish St. Peter's very own Father Hanley a "Happy Birthday." Now as you know, I don't like to publicize exact ages of people, but I usually give a few nearby milestones that make your guesses a little more on track. So for all you who are wondering how old Father Hanley is, let's just say that after all these years, the good padre is real close to finally having Sundays, Christmas and Easter off! Belated happy birthdays to all of you.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle"...don't forget to call 395-6364.

Women of the Moose honor Jorgenson

Women of the Moose Senior Regent Pat Serwa presented Betty Jorgenson with a gift in honoring her as co-worker of the month. Jorgenson is very active with the Women of the Moose and is also very helpful with Loyal Order functions. The College of Regents led by committee chairperson Dorothy Laursen provided the refreshments for this meeting.

On Sept. 23 the Red Tassel ceremony was held. The tassel was changed for collegian Maryann Fischer by collegian Judy Gipson, and Ann Byczek's was changed by collegian Theresa Grefkowicz. The College of Regents had an open meeting with dinner following the enrollment ceremony. There was one miscellaneous raffle and one split the pot raffle. There were 12 visiting chapters in attendance. Among them were: one Past Deputy Regent, 37 collegians, 48 Antioch co-workers, one Loyal Order of the Moose State Board Member, two Pilgrims, 13 Loyal Order of the Moose members, and 60 co-workers and guests.

Ruth Gussarson who had received her college of Regents cap and gown this summer was honored and in giving her speech choked with emotion, it was clear that she cares very much about her friends and chapter, and by the applause, that they care very much for her, too.

For the October meetings, the Mooseheart committee headed by Shirley Turney is in charge of the refreshments. On Oct. 5, she and Phyllis Drije provided the sandwiches after the meeting.

Baked goods are needed for Marilyn Franke's bake sale which is held after each Friday night fish fry in October. Bring home-baked goodies to the Moose Lodge after 4 p.m. on Friday afternoons. The proceeds will be sent to Mooseheart to help senior citizens.

Chicago Marcella Nieghoff School of Nursing in Hartford. She is a registered nurse for Hartford Hospital Surgical ICU and a part-time Vernon visiting nurse and community care in Vernon, Conn.

The groom-to-be is a 1987 graduate of Chamberlayne School of Design in Boston, Mass. He is owner and president of Custom Builders.

Class of '55 reunited

The Antioch High School Class of 1940 held their 55th year reunion at Columbia Bay Inn on Sept. 23.

Twenty three of the original 57 graduates were able to attend with husbands and wives for a total of 39. Many of the original group still live in the Antioch-Lake Villa area. They were joined by classmates from as far away as Arizona, Utah and Florida.

A number of people wrote letters bringing classmates up to date on events in their lives since the last meeting to celebrate their 50th reunion. No elaborate program was planned, only a chance to renew old friendships and recall memories their high school days. The class hopes to plan another get together in two years time.

FROM THE CAPITAL

US Cong. Phillip M. Crane (R)

Medicare — an important issue

As this is written, the House is about to vote on one of the most important issues of the decade—Medicare. Congress has only two options if Medicare is to continue providing health care to seniors, either restructure and reform the program or significantly increase payroll taxes on American working families and businesses.

Just the thought of increasing taxes for this program is revolting. According to the National Taxpayers Union, middle-class American families with children already pay over one-half of their income in federal, state and local taxes. Some liberal-spending members of the new minority party believe there is no need for drastic action to save this program from bankruptcy by 2002.

I'm positive the House will vote to allow seniors to choose between traditional fee-for-service Medicare and several other options which will offer a wide range of choice to meet individual needs. However, those who prefer to stay with the traditional fee-for-service would be able to do so.

One of the options which I particularly like would be a Medical Savings Account, called MediSave. This would offer an insurance policy along with a cash deposit from the Federal Government into an interest-bearing Medical Savings Account. This option would give seniors complete control over the money they spend on routine medical care. Money in the account at the death of a senior would be passed on to his or her heirs.

Seniors will continue to have complete choice of doctors. No one will be forced into any plan.

Seniors will have the option of switching programs on an annual basis. The average beneficiary spending will increase from $4,800 in 1996 to $6,700 in 2002 and there will be no change in copayments and deductibles. Also, there will be no change in the current rate for premiums. Premiums will continue to be calculated at the current rate of 31.5 percent of Medicare B costs so that they will stay in line with general Medicare costs. Opponents of our plan say it was crafted without enough public hearings.

The facts are that the Republican plan is the result of more than two dozen congressional hearings and thousands of pages of testimony. These opponents would do well to remember that the former Democratic Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee many times permitted only members of his party to attend closed-door hearings at which tax legislation was drawn up. Only when his party had drafted the legislation were the outnumbered Republican members permitted to vote on the legislation.

Almost the entire Illinois House delegation joined us in gaining passage for legislation authorizing funds necessary for the Metra Wisconsin Central line commuter rail project which would connect the Eighth Congressional District by rail with downtown Chicago. The only member of the Illinois delegation who did not vote for the measure, which passed the House 419-to-7, was Mel Reynolds, who was absent when the vote was taken. Earlier, the House had passed legislation appropriating the $14.4 million needed for the line which will run service on the route from Antioch to Franklin Park.

If enacted into law, the funds would help Metra begin service sometime next year. Besides linking the Eighth Congressional District to downtown Chicago, commuters will also be provided access to O'Hare's International Airport.

—LETTER TO THE Editor—

Thanks supporters

Editor:

The committee would like to thank all of the generous people who gave from their hearts to help make Warren Moser's benefit such a huge success.

For those who gave early, you may not have been aware that we lost a great guy and good friend when Warren passed away in midstream of the benefit.

We went ahead and had the benefit and want to thank everyone who showed up in the blistering heat and helped us to achieve our goal.

Warren was not able to take his trip to Alaska, but he knew how generous everyone was being on his behalf and he was very grateful. Because the funds could not go to Warren, the committee decided—with the permission of the Pederson's and the decision makers of the Village Board and the cooperation of the park district, the mayor, Tim Wells and Joe Huber—together, we're going to build a pavilion at Pederson Park in Warren's memory. We also donated $1,500 to the Antioch Rescue Squad in his memory and started two college funds.

We felt so many people from Antioch were so unselfishly willing to give to us for the benefit, that we felt it only right to give back to Antioch in some way. We can all be proud that we live in such a caring and giving town that always seems to rally around to help others.

There were so many people that helped in all aspects of the benefit and with Warren's last few days, there's just too many to list. Whatever you did to help, whether it was helped care for Warren, drove him to the doctor, visited him at home or at the hospital, cooked, donated for the benefit, emceed, sold tickets, made donation computer lists, bought tickets or auction items, helped with the advertising, helped form the benefit, or helped set up and worked the benefit that day—whatever capacity you helped in, no matter how big or how small—please know that it was greatly appreciated and we can't thank you enough!

All we can say is that we are proud to call Antioch our home, and for Warren we thank each and every one of you.

We will miss Warren dearly, each in our own way, but his memory will live on at Pederson Park and in our hearts—thanks to a lot of good people.

Keep a little of Warren in your hearts and lives by taking the time to be a good friend to someone—that's what Warren was to us—because tomorrow your friend might be gone too soon, too.

Footlights to include professional talent

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Both local and professional talent highlights St. Peter School's annual Footlights this year. While hard to describe, Footlights is one of Antioch's biggest events of the fall. It is 10 rooms of music, dancing, singing, dining, gambling, comedy, acting, and just plain fun. For the price of admission, visitors can enjoy as many shows as time permits and the shows run continuously all night long.

"This is our 14th year," said Linda Pederson, one of the Footlights coordinators. "It brings in a lot of money for the school."

Professional Theater Group PML will be on hand this year to entertain Footlights-goers. PM&L is presenting "The Best is Yet to Come," which is directed by Linda Hachmeister.

New this year is the County and Western Room, Dan's Hoe Down Jamboree. Live music provided by Exit South will keep dancers "in line." And, for those who have never tried line dancing, instructors will be available.

Return to the days of the Pharaohs in Tut's Tomb." The music of Grease and Lost Childhood will be rocking the pyramids all night.

Another new room this year will be Company C. Musical talents of Lloyd Pederson, Jane Miles, Donna Shehorn, and Jeff Smith will make you believe you are back "in the army now" with their tunes of the 1940s.

Comedy is also on the menu for Footlights this year. "Cafe Intervention" provides improvisational humor.

In advance, tickets cost $8 per person for Friday nights and $10 for Saturday nights. At the door, tickets are $10 on Fridays and $12 on Saturdays.

Footlights opens its doors at 6 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 3. It will continue on Nov. 4, Nov. 10 and Nov. 11. Tickets can be purchased at all area banks, St. Peter's Rectory, Prince of Peace Rectory in Lake Villa, American Family Insurance, Reality World-Tiffany, and at Osmond Insurance.

Burglars

said Watkins. "When they pried the door open, in the process, they destroyed the lock."

An undisclosed amount of cash was taken along with a 3-inch brass kaleidoscope. Watkins said the store was ransacked.

The theft at Luigi's occurred after midnight on Oct. 7. The offenders forcibly entered the restaurant, located near the corner of Routes 83 and 173. The thieves took an undisclosed amount of cash. The Antioch Police Department are still investigating.

On Oct. 10, at approximately 3:43 a.m., the Lake County Sheriff's Department responded to an activated alarm at the Old Hickory on Routes 173 and 45.

"It appears they threw rocks through the window to gain entry," said Sergeant Rick Eckenstahler of the Lake County Sheriff's Department. A pry bar was also found at the scene.

Sheriff's deputies quickly arrived at the scene, however, not quick enough. "They were pretty quick," explained Eckenstahler.

An undisclosed amount of cash was taken.

The Antioch Police Department and the Lake County Sheriff's are comparing notes on the three robberies, hoping to find a common link. Eckenstahler said there have been other robberies in the area that may be connected, particularly in Gurnee.

In the meantime, Watkins has several suggestions. "It is not wise to leave large amounts of cash either in your homes or businesses. Some simple precautions can help reduce the likelihood of becoming a victim."

Watkins believes it is important to avoid displaying large amounts of cash in a business and suggests elevated cash registers whenever possible. He thinks those planning to steal often visit the business before making a burglary attempt.

"They do enter the business a day or two before the burglary," explains Watkins. "They make sure they know where the cash is located."

Chain O' Lakes Bible Church's congregation celebrates the 10th anniversary of its founding.

Bible church celebrates 10 years

This October the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church is celebrating its 10 year anniversary. The church was founded in 1985. It began meeting at Camp Moyoca in Antioch. It outgrew the camp's facilities and moved to the Antioch VFW hall. In 1991 it moved to its current site on Grass Lake Road. Since that time the church has gone through two building programs.

The 10 year anniversary coincides with the completion of its second building project—a large addition of extra class rooms and multi-purpose room.

When asked what impact the church is having on the community Pastor Don Sweeting answered "I think that our church has introduced vital Christianity to many people here in the Chain O'Lakes. We want to be a presence for the gospel of Jesus Christ in this area. Along with this, we have a strong youth program to give guidance and encouragement to young people. There are also a lot of activities to support families." This summer the church sent out three short term missions groups to Haiti, Jamaica and the inner city of Chicago and two missionaries to Peru and the former Soviet Union.

Worship services are on Sunday at 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. Sunday School is at 9:45 a.m. Small group Bible studies and support groups of various kinds meet throughout the week. Other ministries include JAM (Senior High), Mania (Junior High), AWANA for children, adult and children's choirs, men's and women's ministries, parent discipleship groups, etc.

Area schools to hold meeting

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

In an effort to search for a single solution to Antioch Community High School's space and financial woes, along with the individual problems of feeder school districts, an organizational meeting will be held on Nov. 1 at College of Lake County. Representatives from area school boards along with area mayors will meet to discuss the future of area schools.

The problem of shrinking resources and growing attendance projections compounded with inter-village disputes and individual school district agendas, makes long term planning for school districts nearly impossible. The meeting is a result of efforts to address possible approaches to these issues.

"Nobody looks at the whole picture," said ACHS Board President Laurel Dahl in an earlier interview. "It's very frustrating."

The ad hoc committee is comprised of representatives from ACHS and ACHS feeder school districts along with some concerned local officials. The group, which is still in the formation process, traces its genesis to the last election when a proposal to form a unit district in Lake Villa failed.

Lake Villa announces Metra delay

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

It's official. The starting date for the Metra commuter line has been pushed back to August 1.

Lake Villa Trustee James McDonald informed trustees Metra has moved the timeline back from April to August. He said the reason for the later date was the delay in construction caused by Metra and Wisconsin Central haggling over a rail agreement.

"August 1st is the reality," McDonald said.

On the positive side, the village virtually can keep the planned alignment of the station after Wisconsin Central reviewed the station plans. The station will only have to be adjusted about 5 feet, according to McDonald.

The village had hoped to put some plantings but that space will be taken up by brick because the station had to be moved back.

The village also can proceed with construction of the project. Trustees would like to see as much work completed this year as possible.

"We can get as much done as possible because the prices are still good," said Mayor Frank Loffredo.

The village has awarded the Metra station work to Nielsen Construction and the station improvements to Alliance Construction.

"Alliance has already ordered the materials. And we are the first one on the list in the spring," Loffredo said.

It all depends on weather," McDonald said about how much work can be finished this year.

The village will join a new commuter train line from Antioch to Union Station with a stop at O'Hare International Airport.

The station is designed after the original train station built in the early 1900s. There will be 100 parking spaces at the location between Cedar and Grand avenues.

Kane has strong interest in education

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Joe Kane, candidate for Antioch Community High School Board of Education, has a strong interest in public education. A former program coordinator and interim principal at Allendale in Lake Villa, Kane is experienced in both education and private industry.

"I have a genuine interest in public education," explained Kane. Kane believes big changes will occur in the way public schools are financed. "As a board member, you must play an active role in the retooling of public education in Illinois."

Kane feels there are three key issues in this campaign: a good short term plan, addressing the long term issues, and the improvement of communication between the school and the community at large.

A 17-year resident of Lake Villa, Kane currently works at Hewitt and Associates as a manager of a software development team. He has four children, two who have already graduated from ACHS, and one a freshman at the school.

"I have had children in the school, and have one attending now," said Kane. "I have a significant investment in the school."

Kane has been attending ACHS board meetings and has met with school officials. He is planning to attend the Sequoit Pride's candidates forum, which will be held on Nov. 2.

Antioch girl runners settle for second overall in NSC

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Chalk one up for experience—or lack thereof.

Four-year varsity cross country star Megan Durney did what she could to help the Sequoits seal a North Suburban Conference title, but her second-place effort fell short as Antioch finished third behind Libertyville and Stevenson in the conference meet.

The third place finish forced Antioch to settle for second place in the overall standings.

"I really don't know what happened. I think some of it was inexperience," explained Coach Dick Harland. "I think they were disappointed because they really wanted it (conference championship) badly. I wanted our senior girls who have been running for us four years to have that opportunity to be conference champs."

Antioch entered the conference meet 8-0, while Libertyville was 7-1. The Wildcats had to come out on top to win the conference title out right. Stevenson finished second to spoil Antioch's chance for a tie of the conference title.

"You can't take anything away from Libertyville. They did what they had to win," Harland said. "It was a very successful year. Going 8-0 was a real accomplishment for us."

For Libertyville, the Wildcats won their eighth straight conference title in girls cross country.

After Durney's second place, Liana Rothermel gained 9th, while Christina Barbic was 15th, Beth Lennon was 19th, Esther Schuerer was 24th, Lauren Steinburg was 30th, and Colleen McCandless was 33rd.

The Lady Sequoits still have high hopes in this week's 12-team regional at Lakewood Forest Preserve in Wauconda on Saturday. The top five teams advance to the sectional.

"We usually run there pretty well. Our girls like that course," Harland said.

Libertyville stands in the way again at the regional. Last year, Antioch won the regional ahead of Libertyville.

"We'll have another shot at it at the regional," Harland said. "We're not just going to sit down and die. We're going to go after them...I don't know if it will be revenge or just satisfaction."

Before the regional, Harland said the team will be re-grouping and trying to regain their confidence.

"I have to get the girls to believe to work as a team," Harland said. "We want to improve our times because I don't think we'll have any problem going to the sectional."

Sequoits win, hope to spoil LF's hopes

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

After a dismal 1-4 start, the Antioch football team finds itself with a three-game winning streak, a .500 record, a chance to end the season with a winning record, and the opportunity to play spoiler in Lake Forest.

Antioch exploded for a 55-19 conference victory over visiting Mundelein.

"I didn't expect that to happen," commented Coach Del Pechauer. "We really executed well. It was one of those games when everything came our way."

The win improved Antioch's record to 4-4. On Saturday, the Sequoits travel to Lake Forest, who finds itself in a must-win situation to gain a playoff berth. With a win, Antioch can salvage a winning season as well as spoil Lake Forest's chances to play in the post-season.

"I hope we can continue this streak against Lake Forest, but that's going to be a pretty big job," Pechauer said. "They have to win to get into the playoffs, so they're going to be hungry."

Nevertheless, the Sequoits had plenty to celebrate about last Saturday.

Antioch's offense garnered nearly 500 yards of offense, most coming on the ground with its barrage of running backs. Jim Groth gained 95 yards rushing on 7 attempts, while Ajredin Elez racked up 93 yards on 6 tries.

Both scored twice. John Migalla added another touchdown to his TD total and 76 yards rushing.

Antioch scored on six consecutive possessions.

Quarterback Walter Martens also surprised Antioch diehards with 140 yards passing. He went 4-for-6 passing, gained 60 yards on the QB keeper, and ran for a TD.

"It was the first time in a long time from what I can remember when we had our quarterback throw over 100 yards," Pechauer said. "He did an excellent job reading the option. He threw the ball well and pitched the ball well."

His four targets included: Migalla, who caught a screen for a 57-yard TD; Andy Davis, who snatched a 50-yard pass; and Dave Gooch, who caught two passes for 37 yards.

"It's a pleasure having him back," Pechauer said of Gooch, who has been idle for four weeks with a knee injury.

Mundelein actually led 7-0 after driving the ball to the end-zone on its first possession. Calvin Davis scored from 21 yards out. After that, Pechauer said the defense made some adjustments.

"We switched from one safety to two safeties, so the two safeties could come up to make the tackle," Pechauer said.

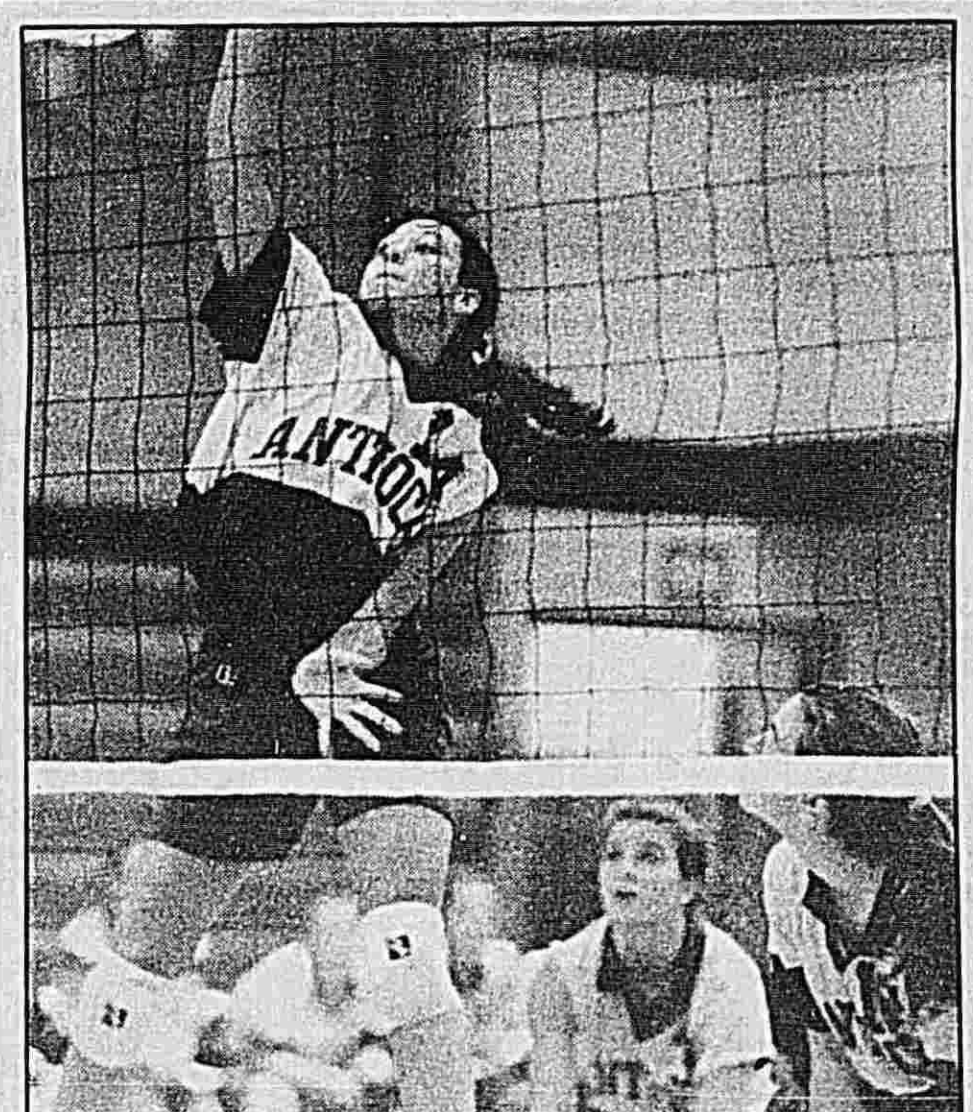

Defensive standout Jason Breen also had his turn in the limelight. The All-Conference linebacker was called to duty as halfback. His 3-yard run was good enough to cross the goal line for the score.

"He has no moves; he just runs over people," Pechauer said.

"It was funny to watch him run."

The three-year varsity starter will have one more chance for paydirt when Breen plays his last game as a Sequoit against Lake Forest.

Forget the regular season, and bring on the post season.

For the first time in three years, the Antioch (8-10-2, 4-2) soccer team did not at least share first-place honors in the North Suburban Conference. Early losses to Libertyville and Stevenson cost the Sequoits the chance to share title honors.

Libertyville (11-3-2, 6-0) clinched sole ownership of the conference crown with a 5-1 victory over Mundelein.

"We didn't play our best soccer early on in the conference season," said Antioch Coach Brad Wilson. "Both were one-goal games. We were right with them and could have beat either one of them."

But Antioch has been playing better soccer since then, and the team feels more confident with first round of the regional set to begin Friday, Wilson said.

Antioch hosts Deerfield at Polley Field at 3 p.m.

"We've been playing pretty well and we look forward to the state playoffs," Wilson said.

The Sequoits nipped Crystal Lake Central 1-0 Monday night. The win defined Antioch's determination as early red card forced the Sequoits to play with one less player. Chris Phillips netted the game-winning goal.

"Crystal Lake Central is suppose to be a real tough team," Wilson noted. "On the one hand, they could have just folded being short a player, but they didn't. That said a lot about our team."

Before the regional Friday, Antioch purposely scheduled a non-conference game against St. Joseph, a respected soccer team. That contest was set for Wednesday.

"It will be a good tune-up before the state tournament," Wilson said.

Wilson said the late season success has been due to the defense led by James Patterson, Tad Harper, Scott Landgren and Cal Cruickshank, who returned to the defense after some time on the offense.

Wilson also said moving Bill Johnson to the offense has been successful.

"He's been wreaking havoc on opposing defenses," Wilson said of Johnson. "When he's not scoring, he's giving us a lot of scoring opportunities."

Wilson likes Antioch's chances during the regional and hopes the Sequoits are afforded the opportunity to avenge Libertyville or Stevenson during the playoffs.

"We just have to keep playing hard. We're moving in the right direction at the right time," Wilson said. "Hopefully, we'll get a chance to see them again."

Grade schools' girls compete in golf invite Antioch High School hosted its second annual girls golf tournament for budding linksters in sixth through eighth grade. A total of eight girls entered the nine-hole competition held at Spring Valley Golf Course.

Five area grade schools were represented with Grass Lake, Emmons and Faith Lutheran each having two participants. Single entries were entered from Antioch Upper Grade Schools and Lake Villa Intermediate.

Individual trophies were awarded to tournament champion Whitney Sehmer (32) of Faith Lutheran, second place to Crystal Massimo (33) of Emmons, and third place to Desiree Brown (37) of Grass Lake.

Ribbons winners included: Natalie Dear (40) of Antioch Upper Grade and Karyl Gebeck (40) of Faith Lutheran for fourth place, Nicole Adelizzi (41) of Grass Lake for fifth place, and Jessica Salminen (45) of Emmons.

"The tournament was well represented in its second year, and we hope to expand participation even more next year," said Antioch Coach Steve Wapon.

Helping to run the tournament were Antioch High golfers Abigail Clark, Sarah Murphy, Angie Pederson, Sarah Rockow, and Kacy Sehmer.

Rams' trio, JHS' Szarek qualify for state tennis

At the 1994 state girls tennis meet, Heather Lawrence and Rachel Lesinski watched as Sarah Lesinski lost her two matches.

This weekend, all three will be competing as they qualified from the McHenry sectional. Sarah Lesinski gained a second-place finish at first singles and the doubles team downed Zion-Benton for third place.

"Sarah lost to the top seed in the finals. Her game is outstanding; very strong. The McHenry girl (Erica Watson) is nationally ranked," Rams Coach Chuck Olson said.

Lesinski lost to Watson 6-4, 6-2 after earning the state qualification with a win over Libertyville. The top three finishers in each singles and doubles position will compete at various sites in Arlington Heights area Oct. 20-21.

"A lot depends on the draw at state," Olson said.

The Rams finished with 17 points at McHenry. McHenry won the meet with 24 points and Libertyville had 22.

"We were so close to a lot more points," Olson said.

Paige Reardon lost in three sets at second singles and a doubles team split two matches.

Sophs Rachel Lesinski and Heather Lawrence won over Zion-Benton 6-1, 6-4.

Johnsburg scored 13 points for fourth place. The Skyhawks' effort was led by Lisa Szarek. She qualified with a third-place finish at third singles with a 6-1, 6-2 win over Libertyville.

Viking Lightweights clinch 3rd title

In celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Antioch Vikings Youth Football Program, the Antioch Lightweight team clinched their third regular season division title by defeating Round Lake 31-6.

The win assured the Vikings home-field advantage throughout the league playoffs which begin in two weeks. Antioch holds a one game lead over the Warren Packers.

Antioch wasted little time in putting points on the scoreboard as running back Eldon Rivelli opened the scoring with a 14-yard run for a touchdown, capping a six-play scoring march.

Quarterback Mark Purnell added a touchdown in the second quarter with a one-yard plunge, and running back Brad Groth raced 23 yards for another Viking touchdown before intermission.

Mike Smith plowed ahead

from two yards out to cap a 14-play, 65-yard scoring drive. Purnell added the extra point.

ing barrage with a two-yard run with less than 5 minutes to play.

The Vikings totaled 310 yards rushing. Groth topped the 100-yard mark with 104 yards, Rivelli gained 80 yards on the ground, and Adam Niles ran for another 70 yards.

Antioch's offensive line provided the gaping holes. Coach

Rick Motley praised the line of Nick Kocinski, Jarrod Lewis, Jim Peters, Chris Kocinski, Joe Kennedy, Greg Kalscheur, Luke Larson, Nick Balen and Jeff Johansen. Charles Pawlowski led the blocking from his running back position.

The Viking defensive unit limited Round Lake to 42 total yards and just three first downs.

As linebacker, Rivelli had five solo tackles and an interception. Nose tackle Pat Swanson recorded five tackles and pounced on a fumble.

From his linebacking spot, Ponce gained four tackles and blocked two punts. Niles and Jeff Norwick also had key tackles, while Rob Lodesky earned a sack.

Others who played well included Jacob Rapinchuk, Brandon Flitcroft and Craig Eibl as well as Adam Wisowaty, Dane Anderson and Chris Rogalla.

Warren rally shows way to win over rival Antioch

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

All Warren High's volleyball team needed was a few doses of cc's.

As in Carrie Collins.

The senior outside hitter gave Warren's attack a boost as the Blue Devils won in three games wins over Antioch. After losing the first game, Warren's 12-15, 15-7, 15-5 win gave the Blue Devils a senior night win.

Collins was 15-of-15 in attacks with 5 kills and 3 block assists.

"They kept setting for her. She is always steady," Warren High Coach Felicia Moscatelli said.

Both teams are at the Lake County Classic hosted by Libertyville and Mundelein Oct. 20 and 21. Warren (17-9) battles Grayslake at 4:30 p.m. at Libertyville and plays Libertyville and Highland Park. Antioch opens with Stevenson followed by Grant and Zion-Benton.

Warren hosts its own regional next week, playing North Chicago in the first match at 6 p.m. Oct. 24. Antioch (14-14) is at Libertyville Oct. 24, battling Round Lake in the second match.

Moscatelli noted several changes in Warren's game plan Tuesday which allowed the home team to brush off the slow start. The end result was the two teams ended tied in the North Suburban with 3-4 records.

"We started to mix up our offense and place the ball in the holes of their defense. We had to correct poor serving in the first game. Seven of their kills must have come because of our poor blocking," Moscatelli said.

Kim Laama, another senior, was 22-of-26 with 10 kills, despite a heart illness. Jenny Rice had 4 kills as did Caryn Poliquin, a junior.

One of Laama's kills actually came on a second attempt.

"It takes a lot of hard work and a lot of experience but it is fun. I hoped it fired us up," Laama said.

"We were not getting our passes up in the first game," Rice said of the comeback.

Antioch, behind senior Erin O'Connell and junior Carrie Kowalczyk dominated the end of the first game.

After ties of 4-4, 7-7 and 9-9 and 10-10 gained on a kill by Rice, O'Connell served for three straight points. Antioch gained the 14th point then ended the game on a kill by Jennifer Peterson.

But Warren, winners of the Zion-Benton tournament the week before, was inspired in between games. With Tara Baaske serving, Warren led 5-0. Antioch closed to within two points but Warren kept the lead as Antioch turned the ball back to the Blue Devils on sideouts.

An ace by Laama gave Warren an 11-7 advantage and Antioch called timeout 12-7.

Warren was awarded a disputed point, but it stayed and Laama finished the game. Poliquin and Collins had kills.

Warren totally dominated the third game with a 9-1 lead.

"We were aggressive the first game and served well but we lost some of the aggressiveness and we must have had five missed serves in the second game. We can be erratic. Sometimes we are our own worst enemy," Antioch Coach Gwen Varney said.

Carmel spikers will regroup

While most Lake County volleyball teams will be at the Lake County Classic this weekend, Carmel High's squad will be preparing for regional tests.

The Corsairs completed the regular season against East Suburban Conference leader Benet Academy. The first round on Tuesday went to Bent 15-9, 15-10. The two teams clashed in Lisle on Thursday.

"The second game we played pretty well, but not enough of it. We were not consistent in the things we were doing right," Carmel Coach Jo Gerardi said.

Carmel (19-8, 6-3) was led in attack by Sarah Worklan with 6 kills.

Missy Kiene had the longest serve with 4 straight points.

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Marian Central's drive to another Northwest Suburban Conference football crown was made possible by second half domination.

There was one factor the Hurricanes could not slow down in their 28-3 win over Grayslake.

That is, the kicking of Brian Witt.

Witt had punts of 56, 32, 36 and 46 yards and accounted for the Rams only points with a third quarter field goal.

"I kick each day when I get home from practice," Witt said before the NWSC showdown.

Witt booted a 22-yard field goal to cap a Rams (3-1 NWSC, 3-5 overall) drive which brought the team to within 6-3. That excited the large home crowd at Eiserman Stadium, looking for the first game with first-place meaning at home since 1990.

Witt comes from a football family, as his Dad, Chuck, played fullback at Round Lake High in the mid 1960s. The Panthers happen to be the Rams season finale as Oct. 20 away at 7:30 p.m.

Blitz, Power remain undefeated

Blitz

The Blitz continued to roll and remain on top of the IWSL Under-19 B-Yellow Division with their fifth straight victory.

With a 7-0 win over the Hoffman Estates Flame, the Blitz are still undefeated.

It was all Blitz as they dominated the action from the opening whistle. Lindenhurst scored six unanswered goals in the first half, and added one more in the second.

Scoring for the Blitz: two goals each from Becca Bleyer (three assists), Allison Earl, and Carrie Gofron. Amie Carlberg had one goal.

Goalkeepers Melissa Helbig and Jill Denoma shared in the shutout. The Blitz' defensive play was led by Elly Elfering, Katie Hoskins, Nicki Kral, Tami Wright, and Erin Nowak.

Other standouts for Lindenhurst were Susan Woodruff, Rachel Cashman, Sondra Lorang, and Nichole Wright. The Blitz (5-0) travel to St. Charles to face the Celtics Green for their next game.

Power

The Lindenhurst Power remains undefeated in IWSL play after its 2-0 victory over the Palatine Thunder.

Lindenhurst scored its first goal just six minutes into the game when Jamie Wismer was able to convert on a crossing pass from Jourdan Phillips.

The second goal was scored by Kristen Gamlin, with the assist going to Lauren Beatty, who chipped a shot into the wind that carried over the Thunder goalie.

The Power mid-field and defensive teams kept the Thunder attack in check while Jenny Barbera and Kristina Giangiorgi shared the shutout in the nets.

Rockets

The Lindenhurst Rockets improved their record to 5-0-1 with another shutout victory over the Highland Park Giants. The final score was 2-0.

The game's first goal was scored by Pam Staton. Annie Hovey assisted on the goal.

The second goal was scored by Callie Check from a penalty shot after a Rocket player was taken down on a play.

Good defense once again shut down all scoring opportunities by Highland Park. The Rockets have not allowed a goal to be scored against them the entire season.

Turbos

The Lindenhurst Turbos (Boys Under-13) traveled to Lisle and defeated the Stingers Gold 4-2.

The Turbos gave up two goals to the Stingers before Ari Brown scored when he took a pass from Michael Wheeler and outran two defenders. The Turbos fared much better in the second half as they tallied three unanswered goals.

Jeff Prorok punched in a corner kick from Steve Colletti. Then Brown hit again from the left side, taking a pass from Prorok. The final score came off a pass from Kieran Moran to Michael Wheeler whose shot bounced off the goalie and Prorok raced in to collect the rebound and push it past the goalie.

The defense of Colletti, Donny Pearson, Michael Marchetti, Adam Richter, and goalie Jason Meyers came alive in the second half to shut down the Stingers attack.

Broeder on volleyball contingent

Shelly Broeder, a Warren Township High School graduate, is on the women's volleyball roster at Culvert-Stockton College in Missouri. Through 28 games, she has 11 attacks and 51 digs. She has a serve percentage of 90.5 percent and a serve reception percentage of 83.1. Broeder returned home as the Wildcats (18-7 pre-tournament) competed in the Lake Forest College tournament Oct. 7.

Riggs helps with school finance

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

William "Bill" Riggs was appointed to fill an unexpired term. Then he ran for school board member and won.

Now in his fifth year as a member of the Grant Community High School board, Riggs is a candidate again. He will compete in the Nov. 7 primary election.

Riggs was born and raised in Fox Lake and knows the ins and outs of the area. He's a graduate of Grant High School and so is his son.

Since he first began on the school board, Riggs has witnessed several changes including a new superintendent, John Benedetti. He said he's also seen a lot of growth in curriculum at Grant.

Riggs said he would like to see continued enhancement of curriculum at the school in the coming years. More computers are also needed, and the candidate said he would like to help the school work on that goal.

Maintaining high-quality education on a limited budget is a challenge Riggs said he would like to help defeat. "Finances are one of the toughest issues," Riggs explained. He has experience with figures often in his job as director of emergency services at the Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry. The candidate is also in charge of the Flight for Life program at the medical center.

"Every meeting that goes by, we (the board) weigh very heavily on getting finances updated," said Riggs.

Riggs resides in Fox Lake with his wife Mary and his son Zach, a student at the College of Lake County. For 27 years he has been working with the Fox Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

Other candidates running for the Grant High School board are Paul Jakstas, Christopher Johnson, and Walter Sheets. There are three seats up for reelection.

Consultant to run for Grant board

Ingleside resident Walter Sheets, Ed.D., a part-time educational efficiency consultant and retired Gavin School superintendent, has announced that he is running for election to the Grant Twp. High School Board of Education.

Currently, Sheets works as an independent consultant evaluating federally supported educational programs. He also prepares federal grants to obtain funding for educational programs and writes school district personnel, operational policy manuals and instructional handbooks.

"Now that I've retired from full-time work, it's time for me to give back to my community," Sheets said. "It's important that we provide a well-rounded, balanced education for the young people in our community, both those who intend to go to college, and those who aren't planning to continue their education right now."

Sheets served as Gavin School superintendent for 21 years. Before that, he was superintendent for five years at the Rossville Unit Dist. in Rossville, Ill. Prior to that, he was junior high principal in Georgetown, Ill. He began his educational career in Fairmont, Ill., where he concurrently taught high school biology and seventh grade science and reading, and coached all sports.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Eastern Illinois University, master's and advanced certificates from the University of Illinois, and his doctoral degree in educational administration from Vanderbilt University.

Sheets is active in the Ingleside Methodist Church, where he has served as chairman of the administrative board for six years. An avid golfer, Sheets works several hours each week in the golf shop at Renwood Country Club. He and his wife, Shirley, have two children who graduated from Grant Twp. High School.

Others running in the Nov. 7 primary election are Bill Riggs, Paul Jakstas and Christopher Johnson. There are three openings on the Grant Twp. High School Board.

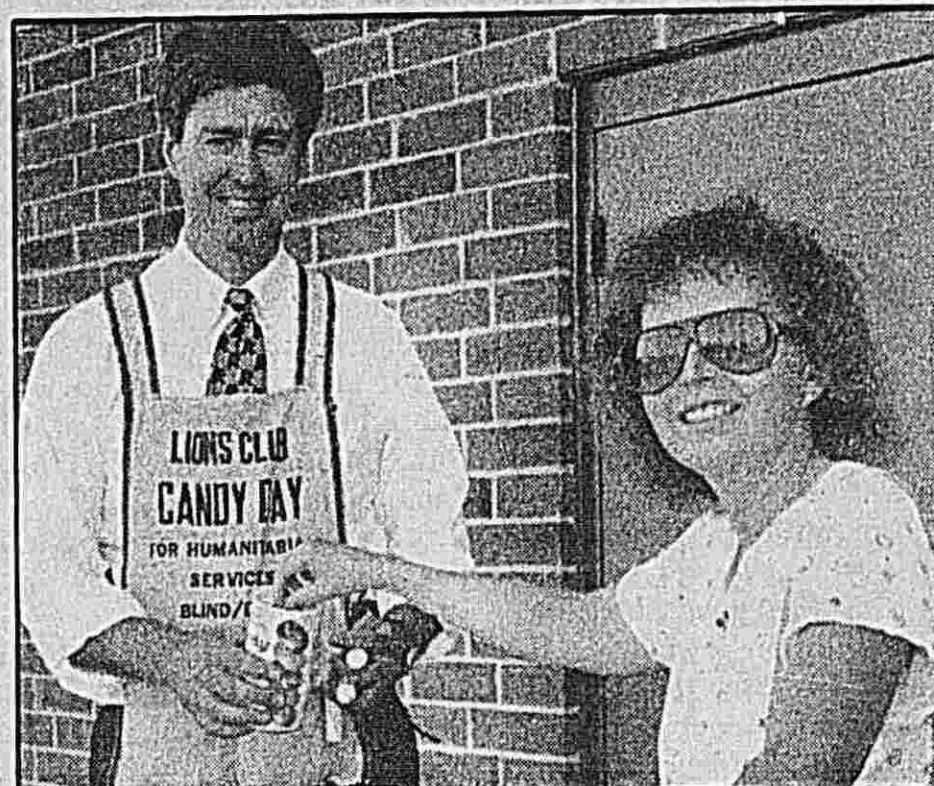

Campaign kicks off throughout county

Prevention Services/InTouch is proud to sponsor the 7th Annual Lake County Red Ribbon Celebration Oct. 23-31. In 1985, Enrique Camarena, a Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) agent, was tortured and murdered while fighting drug trafficking in Mexico. His murder served as the catalyst to call people to action and to make a visible commitment by wearing and displaying red ribbons. These ribbons and the Red Ribbon Celebration have become symbols to show the nation's intolerance of the illegal use of alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs.

In Lake County, numerous events are scheduled, including the Red Ribbon Rally at noon on Oct. 25, at the Lake County Courthouse, 18 North County, Waukegan. The celebration will include music from the North Chicago Choir and Band, skits by the TRY (Teens Reaching Youth) Group from Hawthorn Junior High, and a reading of the Red Ribbon Story by children from Allendale. In addition, Lake County State's Attorney Mike Waller will make presentations to area schools of the drug forfeiture money from the past year, and winners of the essay, poster, classroom collage and public service announcement contests will be announced.

Established by the National Family Partnership, the Red Ribbon Celebration gives individuals the opportunity to celebrate their healthy lifestyle. Wearing the Red Ribbon symbolizes no use of illegal drugs and no abuse of alcohol, tobacco, or prescription drugs.

In communities all across the United States, the red ribbon will be the centerpiece of many celebrations for healthy, drug free lifestyles.

Mettawa, W. W. Grainger reach new settlement

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

The long-time feud between the Village of Mettawa and W.W. Grainger Inc. took a turn toward peace.

A compromise was reached between the wealthy residential village and the Fortune 500 company. Mettawa agreed to drop its lawsuit against Grainger in exchange for a portion of the land the village lost when Grainger bought 525 acres and asked Lake County to annex the property.

"It's settled. It's settled," said James Baisley, Grainger vice president and general counsel. He said further details of the deal would be forthcoming as both sides fine-tune the agreement.

"For now, Grainger and Mettawa have settled, which means Mettawa has dropped its lawsuit," Baisley said.

After months of public hearings last year, the Lake County Board agreed to give Grainger the okay to build a new corporate headquarters on 155 acres near I-94 and Route 60 in exchange for a 257-acre land donation to the Lake County Forest Preserve. Another 113 acres was set aside to build 40 luxury homes.

Village seeks to annex Forest Preserve

All along Mettawa officials and residents barked at the thought of having a major corporate complex within its equestrian borders. At the end of last year, Mettawa sued the company, thus stalling construction.

Under the new agreement reached last week, Grainger agreed to hand over the Lake County Forest Preserve donation to Mettawa as well as the residential site, leaving the corporate site to the jurisdiction of the County.

The Mettawa board of trustees unanimously agreed to the out-of-court settlement.

"Our board, under the circumstances, felt it was to the benefit of our village and everybody else concerned, including Mettawa, Lincolnshire and Lake Forest, and unincorporated residents," said Jack Tindall, a Mettawa trustee.

He said having the luxury homes under the zoning of Mettawa would allow the village to reduce the number of homes from 40 to 27. "The estate property would return to Mettawa which basically fits the village's zoning," Tindall said.

Whether the village receives the forest preserve property hinges on the action of the Lake County Forest Preserve District, which was expected to vote on the matter Friday.

"When Grainger bought the property and de-annexed to Lake County, 20 percent of the village was taken away," Tindall noted. "The agreement restores a portion of the village that was taken away. Only the office will be in Lake County."

Lake County Forest Preserve Vice President Pamela Newton, who represents the area, said she was skeptical of annexing the forest preserve property to Mettawa.

"Since I've been on the board, we have never annexed any Forest Preserve District property to a municipality," See METTAWA page B3

Decision Oct. 30 on charging Rouse as adult

ELIZABETH EAKEN

Staff Reporter

William Rouse, 31, who has confessed to the 1980 murder of his parents, will return to court Oct. 30 when a decision will be announced whether he will be charged as an adult in the double homicide.

Rouse was extradited from Key West, Fla. to Lake County and appeared before Judge Margaret Mullen, in Lake County Juvenile Court on Monday.

Mullen read Rouse, the murder charges which includes: four counts of murder, two for each parent, and the transfer of petition which is the Lake County State's Attorney office's motion to have Rouse charged as an adult.

The case was continued to Oct. 30 at 9 a.m., at the Hulse Juvenile Complex in Waukegan. Rouse was also appointed counsel. Assistant Public Defender David Brodsky, will be representing him. Rouse faces a potential sentence of 20 years to life in prison upon conviction.

Rouse's charges originated in Juvenile Court because he was 15 at the time of his parent's murders. Because he was a juvenile at the time of the crime, Rouse will be ineligible for the death penalty.

The bodies of Bruce and Darlene Rouse were found slain in their mansion at 2057 N. Route 21, in rural Libertyville, on the morning of June 6, 1980. Their 16-year-old daughter Robin went to their bedroom to notify her father of a phone call when she found the bodies.

The Rouse's other two children were also on the premises the night of the murders. Kurt, 20, at the time of the murders, lived on the premises in a servant's cottage. Both Billy and Robin lived in the main house.

When police arrived on the scene Robin was hysterical but the two boys were described as being unusually calm.

Robin had told investigators she thought he brother was responsible for the death in the hours following the murder, but a relative halted the interview. She was killed in a traffic accident in 1983.

The cause of death for the Rouse's was listed as stabbing for Bruce and gunshot for Darlene.

Ryan calls for community action to curb violence

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

State of Illinois Attorney General Jim Ryan is calling for community action to stem the wave of violence sweeping the state and applauded the efforts of organizations such as the Southern Lake County Regional Action Planning Project in taking preventative action.

"Violence is the most compelling issue in the state," said Ryan. "Crime and violence have become a part of our everyday lives. I don't accept that it is something we have to live with."

Ryan pointed out nationally the crime rate has declined but juvenile violence is epidemic. He spoke at a RAPP forum held at the Ivanhoe Country Club.

"Gangs are now a rural problem and an urban issue," said Ryan. "Gangs are exasperated by the drug problem. We have to agree on how to fight the war on drugs before we can win."

The state attorney general believes organizations like RAPP should be replicated around the state.

"Violence and gangs are a community problem that require a community response," Ryan said.

Ryan believes legislators need to reform the juvenile justice system and target habitual juvenile offenders which commit 60 to 70 percent of the crimes.

"We need to build enough jails to house the criminals," said Ryan. "We need legislation to force people to be responsible. We need to strengthen families, increase child support enforcement measures, empower neighborhoods and restore a sense of community in this country."

Ryan believes the answers to crime and violence come from within the community and not from Washington or Springfield.

RAPP Chairman Ray Rose, who is chief of police in Mundelein, told the group which included several area legislators and elected officials, that RAPP and similar organizations must organize themselves to fight gangs as gangs have organized to fight.

"There is an expectation among the public that something will be done," said Rose. "We must look at each other as resources. There can't be a safe place in Lake County for gangs to go."

Beaubien: Legislators must prevent unfunded mandates

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

Republican Mark Beaubien believes the biggest challenge in state politics in the next several years will be the shifting of responsibilities from the federal to the state level.

In his bid for state representative in the 52nd district, Beaubien wants to help ensure programs are funded by the state when the torch is passed to the local level.

"There is a fundamental change in government today," Beaubien said. "We are seeing the federal government reexamine its role and passing on the responsibility for many of its programs to the state level. The state in turn is passing them down to the county and township level. State legislators need to ensure that those programs come with the funding necessary to administer them."

Baubien was elected to the county board in 1992 and currently serves as Cuba Township supervisor.

"I've been involved at the local level for almost four years and I welcome the increased opportunity for public involvement at the state level," Beaubien said.

At the county level, Beaubien says he points to two projects he has approved which he feels benefit Lake County.

"The Grainger Corporation's move into Lake County and their donation of land to the forest preserve will bring many jobs to the county in the future," said Beaubien. "Very few corporate people make such a commitment to a development and are concerned with open space."

Baubien also feels the county board did an excellent job meeting the Good Shepherd Hospital's expansion needs and of addressing the concerns of neighboring communities.

"This will also provide many jobs into the future and provides the south county with excellent medical services," Beaubien said.

Baubien feels the needs of the 52nd district are changing as the world changes to be a more global focus.

"People want to make sure state and federal mandates are funded," Beaubien said.

Baubien is a retired lawyer and has lived in Barrington Hills since 1972. He has been a Lake County resident most of his life.

Mike Salvi running for Dist. 51

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

Perhaps the biggest challenge facing Mike Salvi in his bid for State Representative in the 51st District will be making his own name in the shadow of his younger brother, Al Salvi (R-Dist. 52), a candidate for the U.S. Senate.

"I'm going to have to talk a lot and point out to people that I am an individual," said Salvi, a Republican. "Al and I agree on many issues, but not on everything."

Salvi, a 36-year-old Long Grove resident, is seeking the seat being vacated by Verna Clayton who is retiring.

During his campaign Salvi will be focusing on reducing the size of government and controlling government spending. Salvi intends to propose specific legislation to curb crime, including measures directed to everything from vandalism to the influence of gangs in the suburbs.

"I've always been interested in politics," Salvi said. "In fact, everytime I have complained about taxes or government programs, Al has told me to get involved. I felt this was a good time to do so."

Salvi said he is looking forward to having opponents in the race. "I'm certain I will have opponents, I'm looking forward to a spirited campaign. I welcome the chance to debate the issues."

Salvi is a partner in the Lake Zurich firm of Salvi, Salvi & Wisler. The firm was established by his father, Al Salvi, 40 years ago. The other partner is Peter Wisler, who is married to Salvi's sister Cathy Wisler.

He is married to Debbie Salvi. The couple has three children, Alex, 4; Samantha, 3 and Johnathan, 2.

The 51st Legislative District includes Long Grove, Kildeer, Buffalo Grove, Deer Park and parts of Lake Zurich, Barrington, Mundelein, Forest Lake, Hawthorn Woods, Vernon Hills and Prairie View.

Meyer to open campaign office

Candidate for Lake County Recorder of Deeds, Alberta Meyer announced the grand opening of her campaign headquarters, Nov. 4 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Lakeland Plaza on Rollins Road and Grand Avenue in Fox Lake.

Refreshments will be served, and Meyer will be available to answer questions.

Meyer is running on the Republican ballot in the March 19 primary election to replace retiring Recorder of Deeds, Frank Nustra.

The candidate has worked under Nustra for the past five years, and she's been a village trustee in Fox Lake currently on her third term.

Gang violence conference to attack medical, social costs

RUTH SUTTON

Correspondent

The only age group where the death rate is increasing steadily, rather than dropping, is that for youngsters from 14 to 24 years old.

This has alarmed doctors as well as other related professions.

Many in the medical and public health fields believe that youth violence has reached epidemic proportions. The main cause is gang violence. It is starting to happen in outlying counties as well as the "big cities."

As a result a Fall Clinical Symposium will be devoted to "Medical and Social Cost of Gang Violence" at the McHenry County College Conference Center on Oct. 25. Joint sponsors include McHenry County Medical Society, McHenry County Department of Health and Northern Illinois Medical Center/Centegra Health System. Doctors and related professionals from Lake County have been invited to join those of McHenry and adjoining counties of Illinois and Wisconsin. Also attending will be other medical, law enforcement, government, school, and public and mental health professionals.

The day-long conference was organized by Edward F. Wilt, Jr., M.D., FACP, who is program chairman for the McHenry County Medical Society and NIMC Education Department. He pointed out, "Personal safety and community safety are a responsibility for all citizens."

Gangs have not yet dominated our communities, but the situation is analogous to pollution: We need to take precautions before it gets out of control.

— Edward F. Wilt, Jr., M.D., FACP, program chairman, McHenry County Medical Society

"Gangs have not yet dominated our communities," Wilt warned, "but the situation is analogous to pollution: We need to take precautions before it gets out of control."

Among featured speakers are John R. Lumpkin, MD, MPH, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, and Les Lunsman, of the North Central Narcotics Task Force Gang Unit and a special investigator for the McHenry County States Attorney.

Others will include experts in emergency medicine, rehabilitation and mental health, as well as a presiding judge, probation officer and high school dean of students.

AT A GLANCE

Schools try referendum

GRAYSLAKE—The financially beleaguered Grayslake School District 46 will again be pursuing an education fund referendum.

After voters rejected the initial try in April of this year, the school board promised it would be back. To hear, the school board's case, the needs are clear. The four-school district will be adding an additional elementary building for the 1996-97 school year. With that extra space comes new teachers, except, the school cannot hire a complete faculty without additional money in the education fund—hence the referendum. The referendum calls for an additional 60 cents be paid for every $100 of Equalized Assessed Evaluation (EAV). The owner of a $100,000 home would feel the pinch to the tune of roughly $170 per year if the referendum is approved. The school district has steadily lost money in its education fund since the 1991 tax cap was approved by the state legislature, a move designed to protect homeowners from skyrocketing taxes.

Accused man free on bond

KILDEER—A man accused of sexually molesting at least two children is free on bond awaiting his next court hearing. Leroy Simon, 64, of Kildeer, was released from Lake County Jail late last week after posting $30,000 cash as bond. His bond was reduced from $500,000 to $300,000 last week by Associate Judge Victoria A. Rosetti. A preliminary hearing was set for 10 a.m. Oct. 26, but Lake County Assistant State's Attorney Mary Schostok does not think that will happen. Cases involving children are typically sent to the grand jury, which is barred from public view. Schostok said Simon would likely appear before the grand jury on Oct. 25. Simon is accused of having sexual contact with two children for more than 10 years.

Business Park may be coming

LINDENHURST—A combination business park and residential development is proposed just south of Sand Lake Road west of Rte. 45. The development would have 36 acres for a business park, 28 acres for townhomes and 18 acres for apartments. Carl Baxter, of the Baxter Group, said the townhomes and the apartments are needed to help generate cash while the commercial lots are developed. He said the commercial property takes more time to sell. Trustee James Betustak felt the board should decide now if it will accept apartments and townhomes in an area planned for commercial. Trustee Carl Norlin said the commercial property needs to start somewhere. He also mentioned townhomes would buffer future townhomes in the Country Place subdivision to the west. The board will discuss the issue further at next week's board meeting. The board will decide if they wish to refer the developer to the Plan Commission for a recommendation.

Mayor serious about signs

FOX LAKE—The mayor of Fox Lake used the village board meeting Monday to urge all residents and motorists to keep an eye out for people damaging or removing street signs. Regarding motorists, Mayor Ken Hamsher said, "Either they'll be injured or killed" due to the missing signs. Ron Hoehne of the Fox Lake Street Department said the problem is worse than it's ever been. Over one weekend, more than $250 in street signs were damaged and removed, he said. If anyone sees anything suspicious, residents are being asked to call police.

Village buys phone system

LIBERTYVILLE—The Village of Libertyville will be installing a voice mail/information system to better serve village residents. The order for the system has been placed and the voice mail system should be in place within a couple of months. The information line will most likely be in operation by January at the earliest, allowing the Village time to create a directory and advertise the number in the January/February issue of Village Views, the Village newsletter.

New post office opens doors

VERNON HILLS—It's been a long time coming and it could have been an even longer time coming, but the U.S. Post Office officially opened its doors in Vernon Hills. The 19,000 square-foot, state-of-the-art facility boasts a new "Postal Store" as the post office of the future attempts to become more user friendly. Instead of asking a clerk behind a counter for stamps, customers are able to shop a variety of stamps in the Postal Store. Due to overcrowding at the Mundelein facility, Vernon Hills has been fighting to get a post office of its own for some time. To facilitate matters, the village donated land worth approximately $750,000 to build the new facility in the heart of the village's corporate park.

Police to get four squad cars

MUNDELEIN—The Mundelein Village Board has authorized the purchase of four, new Ford Crown Victoria squad cars for the Village Police Department. The total cost of the cars will be $77,000, with $70,000 coming from the budget and the additional cost being offset by the $16,000 trade-in credit of four older cars.

Gurnee backs Woodland bid

GURNEE—Woodland District 50's bid to build a new middle school received a boost from Gurnee trustees. Village board members approved a resolution in support of the school's $36 million building program. Bob Leonard, assistant superintendent, outlined the needs of the growing Gages Lake district. "Our enrollment has grown 1,600 students in the last four years and we are up to 4,541 enrollment. With ours and the county's projections, we expect 2,600 to 3,000 more students over the next five years," Leonard said. If approved by voters Nov. 7, the plan calls for sixth to eighth graders to be at the new 318,000 square-foot school. The site is located at the northeast corner of Washington Street and Almond Road. It would be open for the 1997-98 school year. Costs are estimated at $90 a year for a $150,000 home to $150 a year for a $250,000 home.

Vernon Hills wins Half Day

HALF DAY—In the battle over unincorporated Half Day, Vernon Hills won round one in trial court. Lake County Circuit Court Judge Jack Hoogasian ruled that Vernon Hill's forced annexation of 46 acres of Half Day was "valid and remains in effect", while Lincolnshire's annexation attempt over the same piece of property was ruled "null and void." In December 1993, the two villages tried to gain zoning control over the land near Route 45 and Route 21 in unincorporated Half Day. Several businesses and residences are included in the property. Vernon Hills annexed the property first, only to learn that Lincolnshire annexed the property a week later claiming the Vernon Hills annexation was illegal. The issue has been before the courts for the past seven months. Vernon Hills originally annexed the property to gain zoning control over the land near the Rte. 45 and Rte. 21 intersection. The annexation generally rounds out the geographical borders for Vernon Hills. Lincolnshire has 30 days to file for appeal.

CLC to unveil Lakeshore Campus expansion, Sunday

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

Closed for years, the former Globe department store building now represents a rebirth for downtown Waukegan and a continuing rise for Lake County's very own college.

"We are hoping this renovation will be the beginning of a revitalization of downtown Waukegan," said CLC spokeswoman Lyla MacLean.

College of Lake County will dedicate the 37,600-square-foot building Oct. 22 in a formal ceremony that will include remarks from top CLC officials. The building is a significant expansion to CLC's Lakeshore Campus, which for 15 years has operated in a 36,000 square-foot building next to the new location at 111 North Genesee St.

The new building will provide the Lakeshore Campus an opportunity to expand its collegiate services, including a full service bookstore and child care facilities. The campus will also dramatically increase its class offerings.

The campus will also increase activity in downtown Waukegan, which has slowly begun to transform itself to a service-oriented environment after all but retail stores all but vanished. The new expansion has already been an important spark plug to the district with a mass infusion of capital.

Since the college purchased the building from the City of Waukegan in 1994 for $185,000, the building has been thoroughly transformed into a modern campus via a $4.3 million remodeling effort. The college used the services of Legat Architects and Boller Construction, both of Waukegan, to complete the project. MacLean said the amount of money spent on the project signifies the college's commitment to the lake shore Campus and Waukegan.

The Oct. 22 grand opening ceremony, scheduled for 3 p.m. in the new building, is open to the public. Tours of the facility will be offered and refreshments will be served.

Mettawa

said Newton, who refused to sign onto the agreement during a committee meeting last Friday.

The annexation to Mettawa requires the forest preserve district's approval. Newton said the forest preserve district and the village have differing ways of governing the property which could become a future conflict. She also fears other villages may become encouraged to annex forest preserve property. She said she would only vote for the matter upon condition.

"I will be presenting an amendment that gives us greater protections," Newton said. "The big issue is that we're not setting a precedent. This could start a snow-ball effect."

If the forest preserve district approves the annexation, it sets the wheels moving to fully settle the agreement between Mettawa and Grainger.

"The benefit for us is that we get a new forest preserve now instead of having to wait for years and years of litigation," Newton said.

For Grainger, the company can seriously begin plans to build its new corporate headquarters.

"Our plans are to break ground some time in the spring," Baisley said. "Grainger will be focused on constructing the building."

Replace tax hike with 'user' fees

Voters reflexively cringe when school election time rolls around. This year it's Nov. 7. With frightening regularity, they are asked to increase their taxes to provide more funds to operate public schools.

With three weeks to go, campaigns are being conducted in 10 different Lake County school districts to raise more funds for educational purposes. Last spring the total was 15. All told, more than $224 million in bond issues and education-related needs is on the block. Fortunate, indeed, are property owners who are getting a pass Nov. 7.

The school tax hike is a last resort. With good reason, the school board holds off until the last stage before asking for more money. Last spring, only a handful of the 15 school money propositions were successful.

We're forever taken how bond issue advocates reduce the cost increase to minutia to dramatize how little affect there will be on tax bills or, putting it another way, how little money it takes to provide for education. This year there's a district where tax hike proponents are telling voters that the tax increase will be the equivalent of a 32 cent first class stamp a day. Are good schools worth the cost of a stamp? they ask. Or a candy bar. Or a trip once a week to McDonald's. In these politically correct days, the cost of a pack of cigarettes isn't used as an equivalency anymore.

Some politicians, the ones who understand the link between community growth and higher school taxes, say developers should be forced to pay higher impact fees. We agree. In the search for more money for schools, what about "user" fees? Parents with school age children could be assessed a greater portion of educational operating costs. Really, that's not so far fetched. Give taxpayers without children in school a break. By their advocacy for approving referenda, parents with school age children already indicate they are ready to pay more. Aren't parents who send their children to private or parochial schools paying user fees? It's called tuition. They pay gladly.

When you get down to it, school election day is about as welcome as April 15.

Levee walk looms as town landmark

It's always intriguing to watch what transpires when a community that doesn't have one sets out to "manufacture" a downtown. In helter-skelter suburbia, not every town has a town center or traditional downtown.

Remember downtown? Where people went to do their shopping or to fill professional needs? Maybe even some dining or entertainment. For younger readers, there were downtowns before there were malls.

Gurnee, which has flourished like topsy in becoming one of Lake County's premier growth communities, has set out to remedy what progress has overlooked. Interestingly, the prospective Gurnee town center will evolve from dire necessity.

What Gurnee officials are planning as a village center will be built as part of a new levee system designed to protect the village from the sometimes rampaging DesPlaines River. From embankment construction will spring a riverwalk that will lead north from Grand Ave. through a nature area that ultimately will become a municipal center and recreation site.

Mayor Richard Welton envisions pedestrian and bike paths atop the DesPlaines levee that will be lighted and provided with benches. The Gurnee portion will link a trail starting at Van Patten Woods at Rte. 41 and continuing southward to Rte. 41.

The dream of a riverwalk and village center is expected to be realized about the year 2000 or closely thereafter. In time, the DesPlaines walkway is seen as rivaling Gurnee Mills and Great America as community landmarks. While neighboring villages pride themselves on traditional town centers, Gurnee will have a focal point for community life and a unique riverwalk at the same time.

—Viewpoint— Extend RAPP program to entire Lake County

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Police Chief Ray Rose led off with a shocker.

"There is no safe place in Lake County," exclaimed the no nonsense lawman as he opened a seminar on gang activity sponsored by the Southern Lake County Regional Action Planning Project (RAPP) and Lake County Fighting Back.

Rose prefaced his stunning assertion with the observation that gang activity denial is widespread in this locality. Not long ago, Rose's concern about organized youth gangs was met with incredulity by fellow officers and a sort of wonderment on the part of the public. Chicago, sure, but not around here.

Events of recent years, however, have born out warnings from Mundelein's top law enforcement officer. Today, Rose is recognized for his foresight and leadership in combatting gangs. His is chairman of RAPP.

State's Atty. Mike Waller, addressing the audience as RAPP's membership chairman, views the focus in Lake County on anti-gang efforts and youth violence prevention at a crossroads. Waller said many communities fortunately are not in a crisis situation, but the time is at hand to "be ready."

No one could have capsulized what should be done about attacking gangs, drugs and juvenile violence better than Illinois Atty. Gen. Jim Ryan, who was guest speaker. The intense former prosecutor of DuPage County who was elected last year said violence is the state's most compelling issue. Considering the deterioration of public education, spiraling taxes and the assaults on our quality of life, Ryan said a mouthful.

Ryan emphasized that gang activity embodied in illegal drug traffic and firearms wielded by children is not an urban problem. The entire state is not immune, particularly when violence spills over into the schools. Nationally, violence in schools costs our country $45 billion a year.

With gangs, crime and youth violence everywhere, where do we go from here? As a starter, Grayslake Police Chief Dennis Kolotsos recommended that RAPP extend its program throughout the entire county.

If the school where you live is not now involved or your local police department is not participating, recommend that they get in touch with Waller. He can be reached at 949-3258.

Ryan said Lake County is "ahead of the curve" in combatting gangs and juvenile violence. We want to stay that way.

Thanks for the memories

Editor:

I wish to express thanks for your story about Bougainville, Guadalcanal and the Solomon Islands.

Thanks to Larry Loomis for his story. Through the years, when one read about the islands, they miss Bougainville.

I was with the 164th Cannon Co., Infantry on those islands. Bougainville had three battles. I was in the second one, then trained on the other side of the island for a landing on the Philippines.

There were road blocks set up by other units and we let the remaining Japanese have the one end of the island with no food or supplies.

When it was our time to leave the island, Australian troops took over to clean up those areas.

That was the last I heard anything about Bougainville.

'Unenforceable' limits questioned

Editor:

A few months ago the speed limit was raised on Atkinson Road to 40 mph because the 30 mph speed limit was unenforceable. Unenforceable by whom?

While driving through villages in Lake County such as Libertyville, Lake Bluff, Lake Forest, Deerfield and Waukegan, it is interesting to note (since it's now embedded in my consciousness) how many speed limits are 30 mph, 35 mph, even 25 mph on roads that have as few driveway entrances as the Village of Grayslake determined was acceptable for Atkinson Road.

Are these unenforceable in all of these other villages?

I know it's too late to return the speed limit to the original 30 mph. I just think at some point the Village of Grayslake should begin to care about the residents who live in each portion of the village, who pay high Lake County taxes to maintain and uphold a high standard of living, and not worry about the people who simply travel through the village. Safety should remain a concern because the bike trail still appears to dead end into a non-intersection of Atkinson (kudos granted for extending the west side trail south to the intersection) and still comes dangerously close to Atkinson See LETTERS page B5

Almost as an after thought, State Sen. Adellne Geo-Karis (R-Zion) confirmed what everyone already knew—that she's running for re-election.

Geo-Karis put her 1996 drive for the office she has held since 1979 into motion by telling her campaign co-chairs that it's time to go to work. Dawn Miller of Mundelein and Stephen Simonian of Libertyville will head the Geo-Karis campaign.

The Unsinkable Molly Brown of the Illinois Senate, Geo-Karis is working harder than ever now that her two surgically replaced knees are totally limbered up. Geo has proved the success of surgery by playing golf and dancing. A Party Lines helper can attest to the senator's terpsichorean abilities.

Retirement isn't in Geo's lexicon. A flock of senatorial wanabees have given up hope of representing the north county district in the face of Geo-Karis' energy. She's held public office for more than 30 years.

Keep 'em guessing—Retiring Recorder of Deeds Frank Nustra has a novel way to fend off inquiries whether he'll support Alberta Meyer or Bob Neal as his successor. "Maybe I'll change my mind," Frank replies with a twinkle in his eyes. Wouldn't that be something?

Dem aids Al—Was this intentional? Al Salvi Kustra couldn't help but benefit when State Rep. Louis Lang (D-Skokie) ripped Lt. Gov. Bob Kustra's performance as the governor's economic development czar. Lang said Illinois has lost 72,000 since June and has a growth rate that is behind the national rate.

Picking favorites—When Illinois Atty. Gen. Jim Ryan responded to a generous introduction by State's Atty. Mike Waller, he sounded like Mike is his favorite prosecutor. Ryan described Waller as "terrific." No doubt Ryan, the consummate politician, has 103 favorite prosecutors. Waller and Ryan became friends when the attorney general was state's attorney of DuPage County.

Where to be—At Mickey Finn's Oct. 24 for State Rep. Andrea Moore's fund raiser; at Mineola Hotel Oct. 27 for Coroner Barbara Richardson's Oktoberfest; at Waukegan American Legion Hall Nov. 3 for the Township Republican's spaghetti dinner.

Golfing with Mike: Gurnee village staffers had a chance to try out the exclusive Merit Club golf course. Little did they know that Chicago Bulls star Michael Jordan would be golfing ahead of them.

No cows here: Gurnee Public Works Department is expanding. The village authorized a purchase of land north of the present public works facility off Kilbourne Road and Route 41. It is the site of the former Bowman Dairy. "There are no more cows," Gurnee Admin. James Hayner joked.

Calling for a change—The campaign is heating up in the 10th District. Richard Rinaolo, who is challenging veteran John Porter in the Republican primary, is calling for Porter to immediately substantiate what he terms "reckless and scandalous attacks" made upon Rinaolo by Porter spokesman Dave Kohn or to terminate Kohn immediately.

Rinaolo is upset with comments Kohn made which indicate his financial backing is coming from right-wing organizations. Rinaolo says he has not received money from either the National Right to Life Committee or the Christian Coalition.

Kohn says his remarks did not indicate financial support but support in terms of campaign workers and other means. "I know this because at the press conference announcing his candidacy, a woman representing the National Right to Life Committee introduced herself to me," Kohn said. Kohn also believes if Rinaolo wants to garner support he needs to do so by getting in touch with residents of Dist. 10, not Washington beltway insiders who don't vote here at home.

Porter also added that despite Rinaolo's suggestion that Kohn be fired, he is still employed.

Kustra flip-flops—Bob Kustra has changed positions on gay rights and education, according to the Al Salvi for Senate campaign headquarters. At the McLean County Republican Committee breakfast, the first joint appearance of Salvi and Kustra, Kustra said "no special interest group should receive special rights." The statement was a change from Kustra's stance as a member of the 82nd General Assembly, where he rose in support of House Bill 357, which attempted to add sexual orientation as a civil rights issue.

Little arm twisting—Lake Villa Trustee James McDonald joked about seeing a Metra representative with his arm in a sling. "I asked him if he had been to another village. There were no problems after that," McDonald said.

Name recognition—Mike Salvi, older brother of Al Salvi, is running for state representative in Dist. 51, the seat being vacated by the retiring Verna Clayton. Mike Salvi said he will be working to establish his own identity. As one of nine Salvi children, it's a mission he's been preparing for all his life.

Deer hunter eyed—Village Trustee Jim Pappas of Fox Lake is helping police keep an eye on illegal bow hunting in town, especially near the trustee's home. On Monday night, Pappas explained while on the way to the board meeting, he spotted a suspicious vehicle parked near a wooded area where deer poaching has been occurring. There was hunting gear in the truck which may have been from the alleged poacher, stated Pappas. Pappas said the illegal hunting can be enforced by state ordinance.

leave for college. Has the board of education had the vision to capitalize on this? Do they know if "Suzie Brown" is an audible or a visual learner? Does the elementary school help the middle school know each student and their needs? Does middle school help the high school know each student?

I could go on but these are a few samples of my frustrations. I'm not an educator. I'm just a common sense mother. Parents, get involved in your child's education.

On Nov. 7 let's vote for change.

If we have consultants who maintain untenable positions, such as enforcing the speed limit, why continue to employ them? Frankly, the story about an unenforceable speed limit seems a specious argument designed to grant an increased speed limit for whatever reason. By the way, it's interesting that Center Street west of Atkinson has a posted speed limit of only 35 mph. Why not make Atkinson 35 mph? Or then again, back to 30 mph?

Racism paralyzes whites

Editor:

We have just witnessed an act of injustice which is probably unequalled since the days of the lynch mobs in the old south, the acquittal of O.J. Simpson in the face of overwhelming evidence of his guilt. The reason for this acquittal is clear, black racism.

We are all familiar with white racism, and fortunately that brand of racism has declined markedly in the past 30 years. But black racism has been growing, pushed on by black leaders who use the word racist like Joe McCarthy used the word communist. If you want to get tough on crime, reduce government spending, or just criticize the irresponsible behavior of some in our society, you are likely to be branded a racist.

Black racism differs from the white version in that it does not say that whites are an inferior race. Instead it blames most black problems on white discrimination. Can't hold a job; the whites are discriminating against you. Can't read or write; the whites won't spend enough money on schools. Accused of murder; the whites framed you.

We have seen this blame shifting drag many blacks further and further into a cycle of irresponsibility, poverty and hopelessness. But the further they slide into his abyss, the more they are convinced that whites are responsible for their problems. The O.J. Simpson trial shows just how far they have slid, when even cold blooded murder can be rationalized as a white plot.

But the most troubling part is that most whites, particularly those in the government and media are afraid to speak out. We are paralyzed by the fear of being branded a racist. But in not speaking out, we give a legitimacy to the charges and allow ourselves to be corrupted. Character counts. Morals matter. We must never be afraid to condemn immoral, irresponsible actions and refuse to subsidize them no matter the race of the persons involved.

Animal cruelty disgraceful

Editor:

Rodeos are particularly abusive. If you walk around the rodeo site before the show, you'll see three or four animals fenced in together. They are quiet and docile, barely moving around the small quarters.

These are the same animals that come bounding out of the gate, bucking and wild. Why? The brave and fearless cowboys have tied their testicles, used electric prods, twisted their tails, etc., to transform these common, ordinary animals into raging rodeo spectacles. Rodeos at one time were a part of our history—when animals were wild and cowboys were real cowboys. What can you do? Don't patronize rodeos.

In America we condone research on animals that is cruel beyond imagination—and worthless. Researchers with agendas of prestige and dollars care little about the animals used in experimentation. Animals are used in school dissections—totally unnecessary. Not only is it cruel to the animal, but it teaches our kids that animals are disposable commodities. What can you do? Encourage your children to refuse to dissect. Encourage your school to provide alternatives. Buy cruelty free products.

What else can you do? Get involved. When you see animals being abused, report it. Work for stronger laws that promote animal welfare. Join a local group that promotes these issues. (For those in the Barrington area, join the Northwest Animal League). Make a commitment to make America a better place for animals.

Change needed

Editor:

Nov. 7 is a very important day in Lake Zurich School District 95. It's a day when the voters get to choose the direction in which their children's education will go. I believe it is time for change.

This board of education has been a reactionary board not a visionary board. They reacted to growth and did not adequately plan for it as seen by the new additions to old and new schools alike. (Remember voters, two new schools have only been opened a little over two years). They had a knee jerk reaction to technology after parents were upset.

Has the board contacted colleges to find out how to better prepare our students for their future? Have they investigated the neighboring districts to find out what they do?

Our district is unique in the fact that our students are in one district until they

Twenty years ago, five Lake County artists decided to show their collected works to the public in an exhibit of prints and paintings called "Five to Show."

The first show was so successful that it became an annual event, usually held in one of the participating artists' studios and attracting hundreds of Chicago area collectors, art students and gallery owners.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of "Five to Show." It will be held Oct. 21 and 22 at the Layson Gallery, 622 North Avenue, Waukegan, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. The exhibit is open to the public and free of charge.

Participating artists are: Elizabeth Whitten-Misunas, Skip Wiese, Malcolm Layson and Everett Misunas, all of Waukegan; and Don Daniels of Lake Forest.

Art show celebrates 20th anniversary

All five artists have won numerous awards at varied juried art shows, and conducted classes, workshops and symposiums throughout the area. Their works are represented in galleries, museums and private collections in the United States and Canada. All are active members of the Lake County Art League.

The show, originally limited to watercolor paintings, has expanded to include works in oil, pastels, inks, etchings, block prints, serigraphs and monoprints to reflect the five artists' different styles and choice of media.

Works of the well-known husband-wife team of Everett and Elizabeth Whitten-Misunas hang in many galleries in the Chicago area, as well as galleries in New Mexico, Canada, Washington, D.C.; New York; Indiana; and Wisconsin. A former Chicago dress designer, she is a signature member of the Midwest Watercolor Society. "Having explored the landscape, cityscape and architectural impressions, I feel it is time to move on and explore other techniques," she says. "I manipulate the pigment to find subject matter and then define the composition."

Her husband, former chairman of the art department at Waukegan High School, where he taught for 37 years, does surrealist, whimsical prints which reflect his fascination with oriental art. "I fish for darkness," he says, "I love the myths and tales told by the old ladies."

Skip Wiese, a signature member of the Midwest Pastel Society and former commercial artist, teaches and works in a multitude of media and styles. Inspired by the impressionist painters he was admired since his student days at the Art Institute of Chicago, he says, "In my pastel paintings, I hope to capture the color mood of the moment, while my black and white monotypes are silhouettes of life and action."

Malcolm Layson, known for his attention to detail in the watercolors, serigraphs and etchings he produces, is a former commercial artist who gave workshops in silk screen and camera work in his Waukegan art studio and taught commercial design classes at the College of Lake County. A member of the Headwater Art League in Wisconsin and Deerpath Art League, Lake Forest, he recently displayed his watercolors in Marshall Field's State Street store.

Don Daniels, who recently gave up his graphic design business to paint watercolors full-time, does landscapes and still lifes with crisp clarity and attention to detail. "Beauty is everywhere," he says. "I feel there is as much beauty in a rustic old barn as in a sunset." His work has been accepted for special exhibits by galleries in Punta Gorda and Sanibel, Florida; Door County, Wis.; the Deerpath Gallery, Lake Forest; and the College of Lake County, Grayslake.

Women's Coalition commemorates anniversary of right to vote

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

Mrs. Wayne Colby was the first woman to cast her ballot in the state of Illinois when she voted on a referendum question to issue bonds to construct a municipal building in Libertyville. The date was 1913. The election occurred just days after the Illinois Women's Suffrage Law had been passed allowing women to vote on referendums held in Illinois municipalities.

On the day of Libertyville's election, Colby was waiting at the polling place when the door opened and the minute she walked out of the booth she started an all day job, traveling around town, talking to other women, urging them to do the same thing.

"I don't care if you're for or against this bond issue, just so you vote," she recanted in a newspaper article. "If women ever will have the opportunity to vote when officials are elected it will only happen because we've gone to the polls anytime and everytime a referendum came up."

Colby's urging resulted in 57 women voting, 34 were in favor, 29 against. The bond issue was approved 93 to 63.

Colby was the first to vote in Illinois but the Suffrage Movement began in the late 1800s over tea. The National American Suffrage Association appeared in 1890, formed by the merger of two smaller and older movements. The popularity of the movement grew from one tea to another to become an organized movement which culminated in the passage of the 19th Amendment giving women the right to vote in 1920.

A small gathering representing various women's groups in a Gurnee restaurant in August resulted in a seed of an idea blooming into the formation of the Women's Coalition of Lake County and plans to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the women's right to vote with a tea.

"With the passage of the 19th Amendment women achieved the right to vote," said Virginia Szatkowski, a coalition member. "As a nation, we came one step closer to realizing our dream for true equality for all Americans. This year, the 75th anniversary of the amendment is a milestone that there are no limits when we all work together."

Close to 500 area women are expected to attend an afternoon high tea, Oct. 29 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Marriott Lincolnshire. Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson is chairman of the event. Supreme Court of Illinois Justice Mary Ann McMorrow will be the keynote speaker. She is the first woman elected to the State Supreme Court.

"It's an honor to chair the event. This is a very, very important amendment," said Richardson. "The Women's Coalition is a powerful group of women who believe in equality and justice. This is an area in which we want to focus attention. We've come a long way, baby, but we still have a long way to go. There is not an equal rights amendment on the books, today."

Richardson believes the newly formed Women's Coalition of Lake County will be a voice for women on issues important to them. The group, comprised of 19 organizations representing women throughout the county, has adopted a mission statement.

"The mission of the Lake County Women's Coalition is to continue the pursuit of equality that brought forth the ratification of the 19th Amendment through perseverance, integrity and commitment. We shall pursue this mission without regard to race, creed, gender or national origin."

"The Woman's Coalition wants to remain active after the commemoration as well," said Szatkowski. "There are many important issues facing women in Lake County today."

Guest speaker for the event Justice McMorrow also feels it is an honor to have the opportunity to speak to the women of Lake County.

"It (the 19th amendment) gave us recognition as being equals," McMorrow said. "Prior to its ratification, men made laws and enforced laws. It gave women a voice in society."

McMorrow believes commemorative events, such as the Lake County tea, raise consciousness of the efforts which preceded the ratification of the amendment. "What we need to focus on as a society now is to get both men and women to exercise their right to vote. Only about 53 percent of the population does that."

The justice was one of the first women admitted to the Illinois Bar in 1953. She won election as a judge in 1976 in Chicago. In 1986 she became an Illinois Appellate Court judge and then was elected in 1992 to serve as a Justice of the Supreme Court of Illinois.

Member organizations of the newly formed Lake County Women's Coalition include: AAUW of Lake County, ABWA of Lake County, Altrusa International of Lake County, Association of Women's Attorneys of Lake County, Aux Plaines Chapter 99s, Beta Sigma Phi, BPW of Lake County, Church Women United, GFWC Illinois Tenth District, GFWC Illinois Tenth District Juniors, Lake County Association of Family and Consumer Sciences, Lake County Association for Family and Community Education, League of Women Voters, North Shore Links, Waukegan Women's City Club, Women of Color, Women Interested in Government, YMCA of Lake & McHenry Counties, XYZingers.

Tickets for the event are $15 each. For information call (708) 234-1730.

DONNA ABEAR

Want to get even? Hire a toddler!

It's such a harmless-sounding word: Toddler. Brings to mind sweet, roly-poly creatures that "toddle" around amiably all day, slowing when they hit a wall, after which they toddle in the opposite direction, until finally their batteries run out and they fall asleep. That is not real life, though. No—in real life, they all have a middle name—CHUCKIE (even the girls, as you'll soon see).

If I sound a little jaded, it's because I'm still in recovery after spending five days as a single parent with a toddler, while my husband and his friend Kevin were in the Ozarks catching all kinds of fish. Well, one kind of fish. Bass. Four of them. Ten hours of driving one way for four fish. Five days of fishing for four fish. They didn't even go to a mall to shop. Go figure!

Not that I didn't deserve this. He has reminded me several (100, maybe?) times over the past year that I went on a week's vacation to Florida with my girlfriends, leaving him in the company of a 15 year old, a 6 year old and a 1 year old. This, he would tell me, entitled him to inflict that same pain and misery on me at some future date, which turned out to be the first week of October. (Funny, but I don't remember those wedding vows saying, "Love, honor and get even.")

Of course, I can't really see how he can compare my Florida trip to his fishing trip. Did HE meet Michael Jordan? No. At least I inflicted pain and misery on him for good reason—the ocean, frozen margaritas and the opportunity to act like a moron with Michael Jordan. He, on the other hand, inflicted pain and misery on me for what? Four fish!

Still, I didn't want him to enjoy his revenge too much. Oh, sure, I made him feel plenty guilty before he left—"Don't worry about US while you're out there having FUN. We'll be just FINE." You see, it's not WHAT you say but HOW you say it. This is a technique handed down from generation to generation—you can't just pick it up anywhere. Unfortunately, it was also handed down in his family, so he had practiced it on me before I went to Florida, too.

So instead, I had to go him one better in the "capable parent" department. Show him just how well I could cope with the children, with or without him. Actually, for the first day or two that he was gone, it was true. When he called me to see how we were doing, I cheerfully assured him that it was a piece of cake, despite our toddler being sick. What I failed to realize is, she was being good BECAUSE she was sick.

On the third day, she recovered. At that point, my 6 year old wisely left us to visit his cousin for the weekend, followed by the 16 year old, who escaped to his grandma's house (cowards!). It was just me and Samantha "CHUCKIE" Abear.

The next three days were a fog of toddler chasing, using a vocabulary of three words—"No. No. NO!!!" Sammie toddled throughout the house, up and down the stairs, every so often stopping to giggle maniacally while she attempted to squash the cat. She tried her hand at re-decorating: Toys thrown over the balcony; cottage cheese flung across the kitchen; and a trail of milk drips from her bottle wherever she went.

By the time my husband returned from fishing, I was having a hard time keeping up the "all is well" pretense. Of course, the fact that my hair was standing on end and I hadn't showered in three days was probably a dead giveaway. Though I wouldn't admit it, he was definitely missed. It's obvious that toddlers are the reason two-parent families were formed in the first place.

P.S. As I was writing this column late at night, Samantha woke up and didn't want to go back to sleep. I went in to try and comfort her several times and, in response, she screamed louder and louder, jumping up and down in her crib. Suddenly, it was quiet for a moment, followed by a loud thump. Her bedroom door flew open and there she stood, holding a stuffed tiger and smirking like a miniature Napoleon.

Her crib was our last defense. If you don't hear from me next week, send in the National Guard.

Kauai—My Favorite Hawaiian Island

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

If you're looking for a dream vacation, any of the Hawaiian Islands will fit the bill. If you want to spend some time in Paradise, the island of Kauai has to be one of your stops.

But don't just take my word for it. When Hollywood was looking for the tropical island dream background for the filming of South Pacific, Blue Hawaii, Fantasy Island, Hook and dozens of others, they came to Kauai.

Jagged mountain peaks from which waterfalls tumble through a landscape filled with flowers and lush greenery are a backdrop for golden beaches and a brilliant blue sea on this 549 square-mile island inhabited by less than 52,000 people.

I must point out that Kauai may not be for everyone. If you're looking for nightlife, you are on the wrong island. This is a place for those whose ideas of nightlife is a walk on a moonlit beach with only the sounds of the waves breaking on a coral reef just out of sight.

Kauai's beauty is not confined to her beaches. A drive up into Waimea Canyon will have you wondering if you may be looking at the Grand Canyon in Arizona with its red, purple and gold rock walls!

Time for Jim's tips.

Leading off Kauai's only main highway are many dirt roads marked "No Trespassing". These roads do, indeed, cross privately owned sugar cane fields. However, they are used regularly by the local residents and are the only way to get to some of Kauai's real treasures, her "hidden" beaches. No one will bother you for using these roads as long as you respect the land upon which you cross. Once you get to the ocean, you will see signs pointing out public access to hidden beaches.

A good place to start is the cane road just past mile marker 1 at Ray's Auto Saloon. It takes you past several hidden beaches including a great body surfing beach called Donkey Beach. Watch for a strong undertow, though.

Cooking by the Book

Nothing corny about these recipes

Betty Fussell looks at corn's infinite variety and whittles it down to 170 irresistible recipes in "Crazy for Corn."

Lemon Pepper Oregano Bread

2 T. dry yeast

1 c. very warm water (110 to 115 degrees)

1 c. whole wheat flour

1 c. freshly ground yellow cornmeal, fine grind

4 to 4 1/2 c. all purpose flour

1 T. coarsely ground black pepper

2 tsp. salt

2 tsp. sugar

1 c. milk

2 T. corn oil

2 lemons

4 tsp. dried oregano (or 2 T. fresh)

Dissolve the yeast in the warm water in the mixing bowl of an electric mixer. Stir in the whole wheat flour, cornmeal, three cups of the all purpose flour, salt and sugar, and mix thoroughly.

Blend together the milk and oil and add them to the flour mixture. Grate the rind of the lemons and add to the dough, along with the oregano. Knead the dough with the dough hook, adding as much flour as needed to make a smooth and elastic dough (about five minutes). Place the dough in a large bowl, cover with a damp towel and let stand in a warm place about an hour or more until the dough doubles.

Punch the dough down, shape it into two long loaves and place them on the baking sheet. Cover lightly with the towel and let the dough rise again about 45 minutes. With a razor blade, cut four parallel slashes across the top of each loaf. Preheat the oven to 400 degrees and prepare a baking sheet by sprinkling it with cornmeal.

Bake for 25 to 30 minutes, spraying the oven with water (with an atomizer) two or three times during the first 10 minutes to give a good crust. Remove when the loaves are brown and sound hollow when rapped on the bottom.—by TOM WITOM

'Die' catapults Kidman to heavy actress list

To date, Nicole Kidman has been known for her beautiful face, slim but sexy body, as "Batman's" latest squeeze, and as Tom Cruise's legitimate one.

In the just released black comedy, "To Die For," she emerges as one of the top young actresses on today's movie screen, while losing nothing in the marvelous looks department.

Unlike the second-banana roles she has played with her husband and the indigo winged crusader, "To Die For," is all hers, with a competent Matt Dillon along for a very dark ride.

Suzanne Stone Marretto (Kidman) spends her entire life striving to be the next Barbara Walters. Her ridiculous fantasy invades the lives and souls of all those she uses, to that end, including her hapless husband Larry, played by Dillon.

Becoming a big TV star is a religious experience in our misguided heroine's eyes, since she actually believes she is striving for self-purification, but she wants the whole world to watch "Suzanne the Wonderful" in action. And she is wonderful; ask her parents.

As she embarks on her destructive drive for fame, even though her notoriety bodes never to get past the village border, she is even willing to start as a local weather girl.

She soon finds Dillon has changed from being her staunchest supporter to being a stumbling block along her "mythical" road to fame and fortune.

Ileana Douglas does a lot of scene stealing as Dillon's wise sister, who not only sees through Kidman from the start, but has a heavy hand in the surprise ending.

Nicole Kidman

Enter a retarded teenager, played by River Phoenix's brother, Joaquin, on whom she uses her sexual wiles to mold him like putty, bending him to her will, even to murdering her husband. Phoenix does a marvelous job in this, his first big feature role.

Suzanne's insanity, Phoenix's stupidity, and the many ironic happenings furnish some dark funny moments, but never being a devotee of "black comedy," this reviewer found sadness often drowning out the laughs.

"To Die For" is a very good movie in its own genre, but for the realists and sentimentalists in the audience it falls in its try to always tickle a funny bone, succeeding in confusing and depressing those of us who are not black comedy buffs. We recognize the wit purveyed by this glorification of surface beauty, but sometimes find it hard to laugh at.

Because of Kidman's performance and the rest of the cast who over achieve in trying to keep up with her, we give "To Die For" 3.5 out of five stars. The film carries an R-rating because of language, violence and nudity.—

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A disappointment occurs early in the week concerning a get-together with a special friend. Someone who lives out of town shows up unexpectedly and fouls up your plans. The weekend, though, could be a good time to reschedule.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A family member has a concern now which needs to be addressed, particularly if it has to do with finances. Something at work upsets you, but try to get to the bottom of what's going on before getting all worked up.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You and a loved one don't see eye-to-eye now and seem to be arguing about everything. Don't allow this situation to escalate into an unmanageable one. Take some time now to get back on track with this person.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your romantic relationship isn't going in the direction you'd like. Take heart, though. This soon resolves itself. A heart-to-heart talk is the answer. The weekend is iffy concerning social plans, so it's best to stick close to home.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You're taking something you heard in a casual conversation way too seriously. Try to put this in perspective. Disagreements are possible on the homefront concerning mutual finances. This weekend, things pick up on the social scene.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A chat with someone whose judgment you rely on proves very fruitful. Developments on the job could result in some unexpected travel for some. This could cause a change in plans for the weekend, so be flexible.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Once again, you're wavering back and forth about something and can't seem to make a firm decision. This is causing others around you to cool their heels while they wait. It's time to take a stand, right or wrong.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Someone close to you makes a suggestion which really displeases you. As a result, you have trouble concentrating on tasks at hand. Be careful about this since you don't want to have to bring work home over the weekend.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Early in the week, you can't seem to pin someone down on mutual plans. This causes some delays for you but it's nothing serious. Be careful when it comes to financial transactions, particularly lending or borrowing.

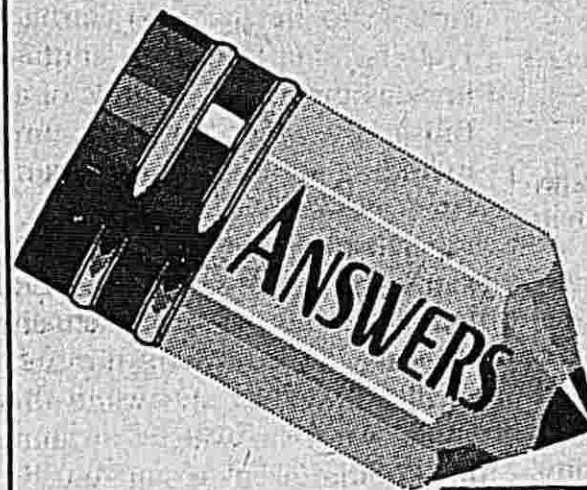

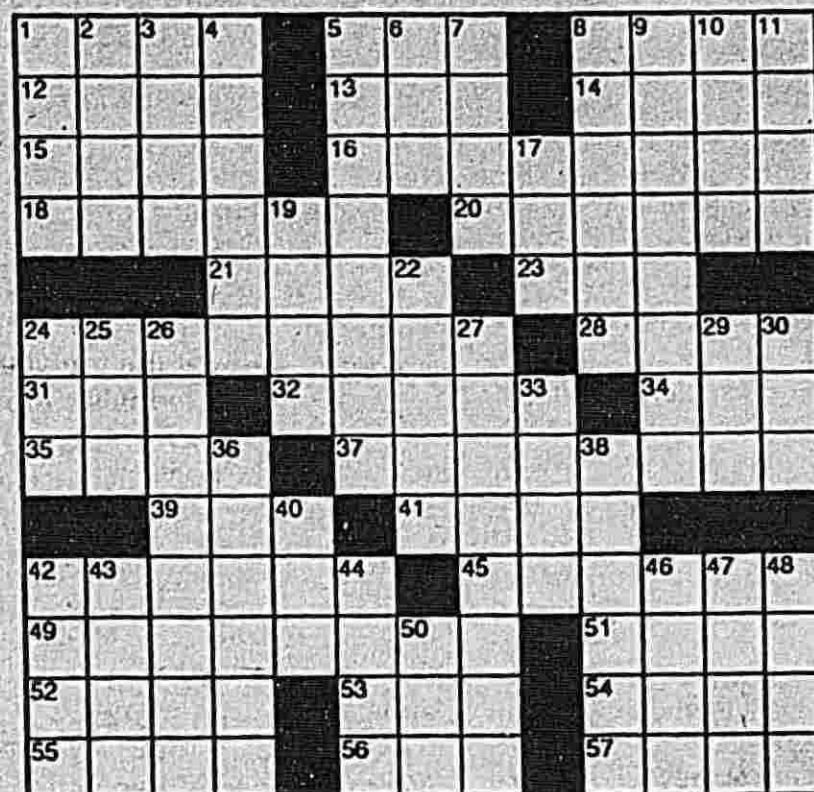

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You're missing some connections when it comes to trying to get together with someone. Concentrate on work instead and you'll accomplish much. The weekend is good for romantic times, so pick a very special place.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You're taken by surprise by the actions of a close friend. As it turns out, perhaps it's time to rethink this relationship. You are at your best this weekend on the social scene.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You're finally at peace concerning something which has been gnawing at you. Early in the week, unexpected events upset your normal routine. Go with the flow and you find you'll be able to make productive changes.

Enjoy great Chinese food at Yan's Hunan Inn's two locations

Yan's Hunan Inn is "the" place to go when you are craving Chinese food in Lake County.

The restaurants boast 20 specials which include hot and spicy dishes, meatless dishes, and old-time favorites. All specials include a choice of hot and sour, wonton, or egg drop soup, and are served with white rice. Combination plates feature a choice of soup, and are served with fried rice and an egg roll. Spare ribs, sweet and sour pork or chicken, beef chop suey, chicken or pork egg foo young, and shrimp with lobster sauce are just a few of the featured items.

There is a huge selection of dinner delights to choose from. Several of the dishes are hot and spicy, but Yan's Hunan Inn will alter the spice according to your taste. House dinners cost $15.95 per person and include a glass of house wine, soup, an appetizer, a choice from 13 main entrees, and dessert.

The sliced beef with scallions is absolutely delicious and the flowery chicken is out-of-this-world. Some of the spicy dishes include sliced prawns with garlic sauce, the Hunan beef, lamb with spicy and tangy sauce, and General Ching's chicken. For dessert, try the stuffed honey banana that comes with the meal.

Families are not left out at Yan's Hunan Inn. This great bargain costs $11 per person and includes from one to three main course selections with many sides. Families are offered a choice of soup, appetizers, and for dessert, an almond cookie.

Yan's has a number of house specialties priced from $7.95 to $15.95. The "Sizzling Three Musketeers" includes fresh scallops, sliced prawns and beef served with assorted vegetables prepared in the chef's special sauce and served on a hot plate. The house special beef, one of the spicier selections, is deep fried tender sliced beef that is crispy on the outside and tender in the middle. The beef is sautéed with orange peels, and has a sweet and spicy flavor.

The restaurant also offers more traditional Chinese fare including chow mein, chop suey, egg foo young, lo mein, fried rice, and vegetable dishes. Other favorites include sweet and sour chicken, seafood dishes, pork dishes, and beef and lamb selections.

Yan's Hunan Inn has two locations at 100 N. Milwaukee Avenue in Libertyville (816-6988) and at 911 Lakehurst Road in Waukegan (473-1660). The hours for both locations are 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Fall Foliage

This fall, composting can be quick and easy

This fall, a record number of American households will participate in home composting projects, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Increased interest is the result of a variety of factors, including leaf bans at local landfills, increased garbage pick-up fees for yard refuse and a desire to save the environment.

While homeowners have been forced into this action, most have been pleasantly surprised to find out how simple and easy compost is.

Most people believe composting takes a great deal of time and energy, and that is simply not the case.

Plus you can save up to $200 a year on fertilizers and garden products by composting leaves and grass clippings and then mixing the compost into the soil.

Follow these tips for successful home composting:

•Ventilation—A bin should be open to the earth to ensure that microorganisms from the ground can interact and spread into the compost. Also, make sure that your bin has adequate side and bottom venting. Inadequate ventilation will dramatically slow the composting process.

•Mixing—Blending products that are high in carbon (i.e. leaves and sawdust) with products that are high in nitrogen (grass clippings, vegetable peelings) is essential for proper composting. The goal is to achieve a ratio of materials that blend a 3-1 carbon/nitrogen ration.

•Shredding—Shredding leaves and other dry lawn debris is essential to the composting process. Reducing the surface area makes it easier for microbes to attack and decompose the material. A blower/shredder/vac. makes quick, safe work of collecting compostable materials by shredding eight bags of leaves into one bag.

•Watering—Keep the compost damp. Water is essential for proper composting. However, a pile that is too wet will begin to smell.

•Turning—Composting requires air. Turning your pile every two to seven days accelerates the process and ensures uniform decomposition. Look for a compost bin that makes easy, clean work of the turning process.

Fall Foliage

Trees provide wide variety of color to landscapes

Some trees and shrubs with vivid autumn colors are: the autumn blaze maple, amur maple and the red maple and cultivars for fantastic red fall color. Some of the sugar maple cultivars also show some orange-red fall coloring.

For shrubs in the red fall coloring group there are several: the autumn brilliance apple serviceberry, brilliant red chokeberry, crimson pygmy barberry, pagoda dogwood, cotoneasters, winged euonymus, rhododendron PJM, sumacs, blackhaw and American viburnums and several other cultivars of the viburnum.

If you like a reddish-purple fall coloring in your fall garden scheme, try reed twigged dogwood, gray dogwood, cardinal strain dogwood, oak-leaved hydrangea, winterberry, Anthony waterer spiraea, Chicago lustre, arrowhead viburnum and other varieties of viburnum.

For purple fall coloring in trees try the autumn purple, white ash, aristocrat, chanticleer and redspire pears, white oak and nannyberry viburnum. The hawthorns add a nice orange fall color to one's garden, especially the Washington and thornless cockspur varieties.

There are many more plants in the yellow fall color range than any other color. Most of the Norway maples and their cultivars are yellow as are the birch trees and many green ash varieties.

For some color variation each fall, try to mix the reds, purples, and oranges with the yellows for aesthetic interest.

Don't forget to consult with a professional for site locations on some of these plants mentioned, as they vary tremendously.—by MIKE GRECO, landscape architect and owner of Mike Greco Landscape, Inc.

Lipservice is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers. Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Lakeland Newspapers does not claim the content or the subject matter as fact, but as the personal opinion of the caller. Can you sleep?

This is directed to the man who hit our Lumina Minivan westbound on Grand Ave. on Sept. 27 at 8:15 p.m. After you drove away after lying to my husband, did you realize that there were four children in that car that could have been injured? How do you sleep at night? If the public has any information on this crazed hit-and-run driver who jeopardized the lives of my children, contact the Gurnee Police Dept. so we can get this maniac off the road.

Return to sender

Residents have been aware of the problem at the Gurnee Post Office, which has had such limited parking that there's often a waiting line for a parking space. Residents were hopeful watching crews on the lot, only to discover that three parking spots were eliminated to form a ridiculously narrow drive-through area. Who sent Gurnee this solution? Please return to sender!

Sympathizer

I'm calling from Fox Lake and used to be an employee at Stanton School. I can sympathize with the children over lunches they're getting now. I would like to congratulate them on boycotting student lunches.

Bring back clock

I've lived in Fox Lake for 40 years and watched the banks start in town. Finally after a few years, they put up a bank building with a time and temperature sign on the building. Now we have a large bank, a big conglomerate, and guess what, no time and temperature! We're going back in time. That clock was used a lot, mostly by commuters.

Pictures displayed

I'm calling about the "Let Pride Show" Miss Lindenhurst pictures. They are all displayed at the Lindenhurst Village Hall. If anyone bothered to look there. They include the black Miss Lindenhurst, too.

Support businesses

I'd like to send a thank you to area businesses for supporting our schools through donations, advertising, hiring, and training our kids. Area residents, please support the local businesses in Round Lake Beach who have helped support the schools.

Keep it up

I'd like to mention the McGee Middle School Open House. Coach Dunn, if anyone can inspire enthusiasm, you can. Keep it up. We really need you for our students and staff. I see you outside at drop off and as the kids leave. You are visible, exactly what's needed. The school looks great with fresh paint and the computer room looks fantastic. Thank you area businesses and volunteers who helped make this a much improved school.

Vote yes

On the Round Lake School referendum, please vote yes on the referendums. I don't want it to raise my taxes, either, but come on, there are leaking roofs and holes in the parking lot. Please help. Invest in the present education to turn out adults that contribute to the community. A technical program would be great. Not everyone can afford to go to college. A good school also brings property values up. It gives pride to the children and ourselves.

I will, but...

I would vote yes on the three Round Lake school referendums, but I want to see where and how much was spent specifically. Post it in the paper or through school handouts. For the teachers, this is to be used on the education for our children and their materials. Show us the same passion in educating our kids as you did when striking. Many of us cannot afford private schools, but with these referendums we'll give our kids a fighting chance in the future to complete their education. Do everything in your power to keep these kids in school. Don't forget, you work for me the taxpayer, not the other way around.

Warning

I have a few points to make about the article in the Sept. 29 Round Lake Beach News that Ken Wisniewski was mentioned in. The Oaktree and Sweetwater residents are concerned about unfinished projects. We know that Ken is going to bail out, leaving a trail of shoddy workmanship and bad business practices behind him once again. Driving our fears is Ken's past history and behavior toward customers that borders on threatening once he has their money, and a village administration that begins and ends with the words "We can't do anything because (fill in the blank)." Fox Lake needs to be warned, he's coming your way.

What about victims?

I find it appalling that there are people who hold candlelight vigils for those that have murdered others. Murderers should not be given any rights. Why is it that these people never hold vigils for the victims or their families?

Lousy mayor

It's a shame that Pat Carey has to send her goons out to do her dirty work instead of showing her true colors to the residents of Grayslake and doing it herself. I'm sorry I helped get you elected because you are truly not qualified to be the mayor of Grayslake. But don't worry, I'll help make sure you're not elected again.

Justified behavior?

It seems like the Round Lake school board is taking a lot of heat for having the new candidates kicked off the ballot. There are two major problems with what happened: I wonder how many thousands of dollars were spent on lawyer's fees, filing, fees, and court costs to get them off the ballot. Of course, the board would never disclose that. It'll just be tacked onto the $1.7 million we're already in debt. Secondly, the only chance to turn our schools around and avoiding another strike in two years has been crushed by the board. I hope you feel justified in what you did to our kids and that you can sleep at night.

Disappointed

I'm very disappointed in your paper. A week ago I left a message about a break-in with my car and was looking for some help in figuring out who did this. You chose not to print it. Maybe it's not important enough to bring people to justice in today's society. It's a shame.

Politically incorrect

I'm from Grayslake and thoroughly offended by Grayslake School Dist. 46's decision to change the names of Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine's Day in our schools. These holidays have been celebrated by millions over a hundred years and now the names and the way they're celebrated will be changed to be more politically correct—but for who? Dist. 46 is asking us for a tax rate increase in the next vote. Funny, when it comes to money they come to us, but when it comes to dropping American tradition, they can make that decision by themselves. Those 10 people made a decision for millions.

Bust smokers

Last week in another paper, it showed that the Libertyville police arrested some teenagers for smoking. At Gurnee High School, there's a bunch of kids smoking and the police just watch them. Maybe they should take a hint from the Libertyville police and start busting these kids.

Apology accepted?

In response to "An apology," while I appreciate the sentiments, I'm curious as to why you felt the need after so many years. I would like to hear from you. If you don't know how to contact me, call my mom. She's still in the area and has my phone number—Linda.

Not shocked

There's a surprise, an all-black jury found O.J. Simpson not guilty. What a shock. This trial should have been held where the murders were committed, not in L.A., because everyone bends over backwards for blacks because they're afraid they're going to riot if things don't go their way. This is a travesty!

Money not the issue

For "What can you get," I don't care how much the lunch costs, even if it was $10. If I could send a hot lunch to school, I would. I am not talking about the $1.80, I'm talking about the food. It stinks. That's why the kids were boycotting the lunches. If they had a good lunch, I'd pay $10 a week or more.

Incompetence

I just got back from the Lake County Courthouse in Waukegan and appeared before a judge that should not be on the bench because she does not know how to make decisions. I listened to a couple of cases before mine was up, and I feel she made wrong decisions. She cheated a landlord out of $1,000 when he had irrefutable evidence against a tenant. I was there because an ex-tenant of mine trashed my house and stole over $400 worth of rods, shades, and blinds. The defendant lied and had no evidence. I had photos and everything necessary. My attorney was flabbergasted about the decision. I asked her why and she said it was normal wear and tear. Regarding the stolen items, she said they were of no consequence. This woman doesn't belong on the bench. It was Judge Helen Franks.

No need to know

Would parents sing a song of praise to the music teacher who taught their child that Ludwig von Beethoven stood in a window naked? Is this the quality education your public school provides? Your third grade students in Antioch Dist. 34 are now enriched with this little known fact. How this information is going to enhance your child or mine to appreciate classical music is beyond my range to understand. But Dist. 34 feels this information is relevant to an eight-year-old's grasp of music history. Music can change the world, but what's next? This is not music to our ears.

Justice served

I'm calling regarding the O.J. verdict. I'm a white, 39-year-old middle-class male. It was obvious to me from the evidence that the prosecution had not proved its case. Fuhrman had the opportunity and the motive to plant evidence and blood was missing from the sample taken. For anyone to say this was solely a racially based verdict are themselves exceptionally racist. They had not proved their case beyond all reasonable doubt. It's that simple. The jury, I believe, made a very good decision. I feel relieved that our justice system works and works well. The glove didn't fit!

Secret's out

For the people of Round Lake Heights, what's with the water contract with Round Lake Beach? What's the secrecy? Are the present residents of Round Lake Heights going to pay for this new addition? I think there should be more input by the village into what's going on. Mayor Lumpkins and his nasty little crew should let the public know what's going on. Not everything is a secret. Let it be heard.

No fair

I'm a student at Antioch Community High School and was late for school so I had to park in the school parking lot. Since I didn't pay $50 to park in the lot this year, they gave me a Saturday school. I have to go to school on Saturday for four hours. If I refuse to do this, I get a three-day suspension. If I go to class during my suspension, they will call the police and have me arrested. Also, I was in the commons during my free hour and wasn't allowed to go to the library to read a book. I had to ask five teachers and was finally written a pass. The new administration and principal at ACHS are not fair.

Grateful parent

I want to say how grateful I am to all the teachers, staff, bus drivers, and all the people who help educate our kids at Gavin School, Dist. 37. It's a wonderful school. This doesn't have anything to do with the fact that we're getting a new building, which we needed.

There's a great group of people over there. Thanks for everything you give to our children. No amount of money can pay you for what you give of yourselves.

Permits too high

I just want to say something about the current administration of Round Lake Beach. I'm trying to get some work done by various contractors in the area and am being told that they don't want to work in Round Lake Beach because of the mayor and his administration. They've made it difficult for contractors, the permits are priced so high that no one will do anything. I built a deck and paid $180 for a permit. $50 of this was an abatement permit, of which I'd get back after the nuisance was gone. I had to check on this 10 times because they lost my file. Something should be done so contractors can work in this area.

Don't buy it

I'm calling in regard to the O.J. pay-per-view. If he was truly interested, wouldn't he want to go on TV for free and give all the information he knows to help find the real killers? America, don't buy into this and pay money to hear his false stories.

Not in public

I'm calling in regard to the Gavin principal at Central. I feel that she should reprimand teachers, students, and other faculty in the office and not in public.

Report abuse

In response to the caller who found appalling conditions in a Lake County pet store. Instead of hoping that the Dept. of Agriculture starts checking out these pet stores, anyone who observes these conditions should report them immediately to the Illinois Dept. of Agriculture in Chicago, (312) 814-6900, or Springfield at (217) 782-6657. The Illinois Dept. of Agriculture is responsible for the licensing, inspection, and regulation of pet stores. Readers should also be reminded that the Humane Society of the United States estimates that there are 5,000 "puppy mills" where puppies are bred in truly filthy and inhumane conditions. They provide 90 percent of the puppies sold in pet stores.

Wants to write-in

Each week as I continue to read the articles about the four school board challengers being removed from the upcoming Round Lake school board election due to discrepancies with their nomination petitions, I get more angry. I was pleased to hear there would be a choice in the upcoming elections. My anger is toward the school board and their ally, Veronica Smith. I resent their taking that choice away from me. I don't care the petition pages weren't numbered or that someone printed their name instead of writing it. I definitely will make the effort to vote the challengers in by the write-in campaign. Where can I get the information on how to fill in my ballot properly? Please call in and tell me!

Weeds in schools

I see once again that the union teachers in Round Lake are trying to harass the teachers that have crossed the picket line and are even suggesting they were poor teachers. A teacher has his desk in the back of the room and the students are forced to do handouts while he's reading a newspaper all day long. He must be the worst teacher in Lake County. If not the state. It must be difficult for him to understand that these people cared more about the children than they did about the raise. Now they want to celebrate the anniversary of the strike that had our children playing in the streets for weeks. Most of the teachers are doing a wonderful job. But a few of them need to be weeded out so we can have a wonderful school system.

Unsightly toys

We have a home in our subdivision that's beautiful and has been on the market for about six months. In their backyards, every neighbor has plastic toys in their yards that makes it look like a kindergarten area. I think this is why it's not selling. Plastic toys shouldn't be put in the backyard because they're ugly.

King or fool?

It appears that the mayor of Round Lake Beach is in the paper again. You should devote a column to the promises he hasn't kept as king of the beach. Another point regarding the king, there's no restrictions on his father's restaurant. There's no permits displayed. The building's foundation has no concrete under the slabs. The wood he's putting up isn't going to be substantial. Someone's going to get hurt.

Get behind counter

Mr. Fojtik screwed up again, huh? Rollins and Wilson and the beautiful oaks that were over 200 years old, what a shame. I think Fojtik should go back behind the prescription counter.

All play, no work

My question is for the Round Lake PTA and school board. You whine and cry and say you have no money for the district. When we parents suggest something, you don't want to do it. We suggest that the aluminum cans our children bring to school should be cashed in for the school. Do you just want the money without any work?

Need widening

To the person who called and was kind enough to point out that Rollins and Wilson was in Ed Fojtik's district, apparently the only section of the paper you read is LIPSERVICE. Before the project even started, there was an article about the Fox Lake Fire Protection District and Round Lake Fire Protection District making arrangements to cover for fire and rescue calls. If you have ever sat at the intersection, you'd understand why the construction is going on and the trees cut down. There needs to be room so in case there is an emergency, emergency crews can get through instead of being stuck in traffic.

Report bus drivers

When a school bus turns without warning, stops without warning, cuts in front of you when you have right of way, call the school transportation office. Let them know. Report the bus and plate number.

We have our rights, too. If they don't do anything about it, call the police. School bus accidents aren't always our fault. They're only car drivers like us, but in a bigger vehicle, and they know it.

Let there be lights

Hey, Round Lake Beach, on Cedar Lake Rd. between Rollins and White Hen Pantry, where are the lights you promised us two months ago when someone hit a box and knocked it 20 feet?

Do your job, mayor

I live in Lake Zurich. As taxpayers, we would appreciate the mayor spending less time designing t-shirts and more time scrutinizing political appointments. Isn't there anyone else in Lake Zurich capable of being a trustee besides Ken Grooms? He's no more independent than Larry Coffee, Jerry Blum or Kathy Schweit.

Keep open spaces

In rebuttal to West Trails' overpopulation, you're not addressing the issue. Because of West Trails' objection to construction traffic, all trucking and heavy construction moves to List Drive for two years. We came to this area for the country atmosphere, peace and quiet, as I'm sure most did. We were told that the area in back of us would probably never be built on because of the wetlands. Now, for the next five years, we'll have to endure heavy construction, dust, and noise. Talk to your Lake County commissioners about open space.

Hospital offers health card for emergency care

Heart attacks, accidents, sudden illnesses or allergic reactions can happen to anyone, anytime, anywhere. In a medical emergency, every second counts. Each year, thousands of people lose their lives or suffer trauma and long-term medical complications simply because of insufficient medical information.

Having your medical information—including your baseline electrocardiogram—instantly available can be as critical as getting the treatment you need.

The Midwestern Care Card, a free community service offered by Midwestern Regional Medical Center, Zion, has been designed to hold personal medical information about you that can speak for you when you cannot. The card provides the following important information:

Emergency contacts, primary care physicians, blood type, medical insurance information, electrocardiogram, allergies, current medications, medical history, organ donor authorization.

Arterial blood gases, personal data, physical description, physical impairments, glasses, contacts, dentures, hearing aid, pacemaker, living will.

This information is stored on microfilm within a plastic card which is the size of a conventional credit card. During a medical crisis, emergency personnel have instant access to the information they need to properly provide emergency care.

For a free enrollment form and information about the Midwestern Care Card service, call Midwestern Regional Medical Center at 1(800) 234-5006.

Lecture shows breast biopsy advances

New medical advancements in breast cancer treatment are now available at Lake Forest Hospital. For women who need a breast biopsy, it is now possible to have a procedure called a stereotactic core breast biopsy where there is no incision or stitches involved.

Dr. Allan Goodman, a Lake Forest Hospital radiologist, will discuss early detection of breast cancer including the stereotactic core breast biopsy. This method of breast biopsy is a unique alternative to surgical biopsy, and Lake Forest Hospital has the only dedicated stereotactic core breast table in Lake County.

Following the lecture an information open house at the unit will be held so that participants can actually see the equipment that is used. To register for the Welles Day Memorial Lecture, call 234-6112.

Making right choice among health care plans

SHERMAN M. WOLFF

The many recent changes in our nation's health care system have produced a greater variety of health care plans than ever before. While that's certainly good news for employers and individuals in search of health care coverage, it also means they must carefully examine all the choices before making their buying decisions. In other words, shopping for a health plan is becoming more like shopping for anything else.

Unfortunately being a well-informed consumer in the health insurance marketplace is not yet an easy accomplishment. There is not enough basic data available to facilitate comparison shopping. Frankly, there's more consumer information available on electric can openers than on health care plans.

Without extensive research or assistance from a knowledgeable insurance broker, it's difficult to expertly match a health plan with the needs of an individual or employer. There is far more than price that should go into the decision making process. Beyond the basic decisions between fee-for-service and managed care plans and the types of coverage required, there are many questions that need to be asked: What is the quality of the health care in the plan? How are the providers in a managed care network selected? Does the plan pay attention to customer service? Will the company that offers the health plan be in business five years from now?

Asking those sorts of questions have become even more important with the explosion of choice in the health care industry. There are so many new health care plans available that it's nearly impossible to keep track of them all. It seems like there's a new company, or a merger of companies in the health care field every week. Getting solid information about who stands behind a health plan can be challenging. Consumers, whether individuals or employers, should be especially careful because the health insurance industry is not immune to fly-by-night companies.

Methods for apples-to-apples comparisons among health plans are not yet available. For example, there are not generally accepted methods for determining if the members of one health plan get better care than the members of another plan. There are surveys that measure consumer satisfaction with health plans, but even that data is sometimes difficult to use for comparison shopping.

There are, however, some reliable measurements that purchasers of health care plans can use. For example, Standard and Poor's and AM Best are two companies that keep a close watch on the financial stability of health insurers. A high rating from one of these companies, like the "AA" (excellent) S and P rating given to Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois, is a good indication of a company's ability to pay claims and remain in business for the long-term. Brand name is also still a good indicator of stability in the health insurance industry. The well known trusted names, like Blue Cross, are generally the companies offering the best values in health plans.

While measuring the quality of care delivered by health plans is virtually impossible for individuals or even large employers to accomplish on their own, there is some help available. The premier organization in this field is the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) an independent consulting firm based in Washington, D.C. Its standards are tough and its accreditation procedure is rigorous. NCQA requires plans to gather member satisfaction data and it also looks at a plan's relationship with physicians, hospitals and other health care providers. Recently NCQA awarded its first one year accreditation for a health plan in Illinois to one of Blue Cross' managed care plans. Managed Care Network Preferred.

These are some valuable sources of information for the purchasers of health plans, but there is the promise of better things to come. Eventually, consumers will be able to determine, for example, which health plans have the highest success rates for certain procedures or which provide the best service. When the information gap is closed, the decision-making process will be easier and consumers will be able to more fully participate in the marketplace becoming a greater force for sharpening competition and improving health care.

Editor's note: Sherman M. Wolff is senior vice president and chief financial officer of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois.

ADA offers diabetes support for patients

The American Diabetes Assn., Northern Illinois Affiliate, Inc., has established a support group for parents of children with diabetes and a support group for teenagers with diabetes.

The Parents Support Group meets the third Tuesday of every month at 7 p.m. at Good Shepherd Hospital, 450 W. Hwy. 22 in Barrington. For more information about the Parent Support Group, contact Jeff Asquith at 612-5505.

The Teen Support Group meets the first Thursday of every month at 7 p.m. at Northwest Community Hospital, 800 W. Central Rd. in Arlington Heights. For more information on the Teen Support Group, contact Joanne Munao at 259-1000, ext. 4184.

The purpose of these support groups is to provide a safe environment to discuss emotional issues and the stress that can often result from dealing with diabetes. The support groups offer individuals the opportunity to share common frustrations and challenges that are part of the day to day process of coping with diabetes. While there is always some information sharing among the participants, the support groups are not meant to provide formal diabetes education, nor is medical advice dispensed.

Both support groups are facilitated by a trained volunteer and are free of charge. For more information about the American Diabetes Association's support group program, contact Jennifer Mundsack at (312) 346-1805.

Highland Park Hospital moves to information superhighway

Chicago area residents—and Internet browsers worldwide—can request physician information, check managed care plans, sign up for a newsletter, review information on women's health and other issues, or learn about Highland Park Hospital's famed fertility team by visiting the medical center's newly launched home page.

Those are a few of the activities available to visitors of the hospital's site on the World Wide Web, the commercial area of the information superhighway.

"Our responsibility is to provide residents and patients with convenient, reliable information with which to make informed healthcare decisions. Those decisions aren't always made between 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. so we thought it important to provide critical information whenever needed, 24 hours a day," said Mark Newton, senior vice president/marketing. "We're delighted to be among the first healthcare facilities in the midwest with a home page. It reflects our aggressive commitment to providing convenient, quality services."

Upon dialing the home page, visitors are introduced to a graphic depicting a world of good health surrounded by a series of buttons keyed to particular topics such as community health events, consumer news and a collection of commonly asked questions. Browsers with a sound enhanced computer hear a female voice welcoming them to the site, and the site will accept electronic mail directly to customer service representatives located at the hospital.

The site may be reached at <http://www.HPHosp.org>.

Health department urges residents to consider alternatives to leaf burning

Each fall, the Lake County Health Department (LCHD) receives numerous inquiries regarding leaf burning and its effects on public health.

Scientific studies show leaf burning poses a genuine threat to human health. Smoke from burning leaves and landscape waste contains cancer-causing compounds in addition to carbon monoxide, particulates and irritating organic compounds.

The above mentioned by-products pose a health to "high risk" people suffering from conditions such as bronchitis, asthma, emphysema and hay fever. These same individuals may become bedridden or have to be hospitalized due to various degrees of exposure. Moreover, the elderly and small children may be especially vulnerable to adverse health effects caused by leaf burning. The health department discourages open burning of leaves and landscape waste.

Burning leaves and other landscape waste can be avoided by using alternative methods of disposal. Many municipalities offer leaf and landscape waste pick-up services on certain days during the fall and spring seasons. Another environmentally sound method is composting, which can be done easily and inexpensively.

Further information on the health effects of leaf burning and proper methods of composting are available from the Lake County Health Department Environmental Engineering Section, at 360-6747.

Health Dept. sets Lake County AIDS Day observance

The eighth annual observance of World AIDS Day will be commemorated Dec. 1. The Lake County HIV/AIDS Coalition, an advocacy network of individuals and service providers has announced plans for two major events to be held in conjunction with World AIDS Day. "Partners in Caring: Shared Rights, Shared Responsibilities" is the theme for these activities.

The first event planned is an AIDS Day breakfast and program to be held at 8 a.m. at the Country Squire Restaurant in Grayslake. This event stresses the importance of the effectiveness of a partnership. Every community member, including service providers, elected officials, religious and community leaders, businesses, educators, health care providers, and the general public can play a part in sharing rights and responsibilities. The cost of the breakfast is $20 and reservations are required. Donations will be accepted to subsidize the attendance of persons with AIDS.

An interfaith religious commemoration will be held at 7 p.m. Dec. 1 at the First Congregational United Church of Christ, 320 Grand Ave. at Utica St., Waukegan. A reception will follow the service.

These two events have garnered the support of numerous community leaders who are serving as honorary members of the Lake County AIDS Day events. They include: Barbara Richardson, Lake County Coroner; Dale Galassie, executive director of the Lake County Health Department; Edward Gonwa, regional superintendent of schools; Rev. Ernest Hall, executive director, Interfaith Chaplaincy Services; Kathleen McGowan, division director of Catholic Charities, Lake County; Maria Elena Jonas, ChildServ; and Tim Harrington, CEO of Victory Hospital.

"It is our hope that the Lake County observance of World AIDS Day 1995 will increase awareness of an urgent and ever-increasing need," said Rev. Brad Lutz, chairperson of the Lake County AIDS/HIV Coalition. "By opening these events to people from all fields—medical, policy making, businesses, education, and persons with or caring for those with AIDS—we hope to emphasize that it is only when we act in partnership that we can make a difference."

For more information, breakfast reservations, or to volunteer for a World AIDS Day event, call the Lake County Coalition at 336-5368.

Health department offers free breast, cervical cancer screening

One out of every eight women in America today will develop breast cancer during her lifetime, and the risk increases even more as a woman grows older. Women age 50 or older should be concerned about their risk of breast cancer, and the Lake County Health Dept. can help them.

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month, and in October the health department kicks off its Breast and Cervical Cancer Screening Program. At no cost, eligible Lake County women can receive a complete medical exam, as well as a clinical breast exam and a pap smear. In addition, the program provides referral for a free mammogram at a local hospital. Ongoing yearly breast exams and medical follow-up are also available to treat any problems found.

"It is tremendously important for women to be screened often for breast cancer, due to the nature of the disease," stated Dale Galassie, executive director of the health department. Galassie explained that breast cancer can occur without any warning signs. However, if it is diagnosed and treated early, the five-year survival rate is more than 90 percent. "Early detection is the best protection," said Galassie.

In addition to the free medical services provided to women, community education is a part of the overall program. "We encourage community groups to take advantage of the health education services we can provide," said Galassie. He explained that

October is breast cancer month

Have you had a mammogram lately? It's a simple procedure that helps detect breast cancer in the earliest and most treatable stages.

In October, Saint Therese Medical Center is offering mammogram screenings at a reduced price of $55 35 percent lower than the regular price. That cost includes the radiologist's interpretation fee.

The reduced rate will be available at two locations: at St. Theresa in Waukegan which is located just east of Rte. 41 on Washington Street and in Lake Villa on Rte. 59 about half mile from the Grand Avenue intersection. This offering is provided six days a week. Make an appointment at the Waukegan location by calling 360-2020 or Lake Villa at 356-6600 ext. 15.

Most insurance companies in Illinois reimburse women over 35 for mammograms and a mammogram screening is approved by Medicare. Call your insurance representative to verify coverage.

health department educators are on hand to provide free presentations and information on breast cancer, mammograms and breast self-examination.

To enroll in the Breast and Cervical Cancer Screening Program, or to schedule an educational presentation for a community group, call Gisela Garrison or Cheryl Aredia of the Lake County Health Dept. at 360-2917.

Good Shepherd's Health Advisor health information line at 1-(800)-3-ADVOCATE.

As an additional community service, Good Shepherd's radiology and diagnostic imaging department will x-ray Halloween candy free of charge on Tuesday, Oct. 31. Parents who want treats checked should call Good Shepherd at 381-0123, ext. 5192, or bring the candy to the hospital between 3 and 10 p.m.

Median sales price of homes increases at record rate

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

Owning real estate in Lake County is better than having your money in savings. Those results can be concluded from the median sales figures released by the Illinois Association of Realtors® (IAR) through the first half of the year.

Median sales price for homes in the north suburbs of Chicago rose 2.9 percent in the second quarter over last year. Actual median prices increased from $172,400 to $177,400.

"Encouraging signs in the economy, the affordability of housing and downswing in interest rates mean conditions are prime for buying or selling," said IAR President Janet Andreotti.

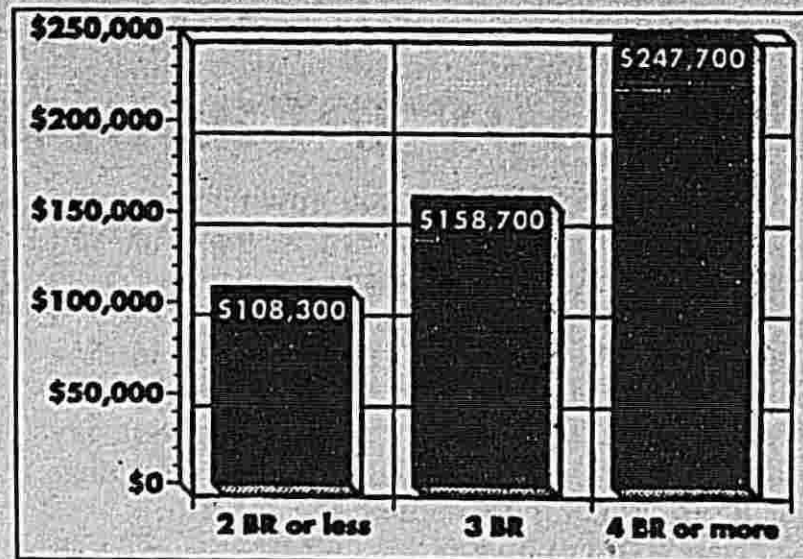

Overall, median prices in home sales in Illinois increased 2.6 percent. The prices of homes have been helped by consumer demand, which in turn have been helped greatly by the slight yet steady decrease of interest rates. The total homes sold in Illinois in the second quarter represents a 10,000-unit increase over the prior quarter.

"Low interest rates are an extra incentive for consumers to either start the home buying process or step up their search. With interest rates at their lowest level in more than a year, now is the perfect time to buy, especially for first time home buyers," Andreotti said.

Illinois is not alone with good news. The national Association of Realtors® (NAR) expects consumer confidence to rise even higher before the end of the year, boosting sales across the country, possibly above the anticipated rate. In Illinois alone, the affordability index has also risen, indicating home buyers are better able to afford a single family home.

The NAR predicts mortgage interest rates will continue to drop, dipping below 7.3 percent for a 30-year mortgage by the end of the year. Home sales will continue to rise, bolstered by the reinvigorated labor market in addition to the lower cost of borrowing money.

Housing prices are continuing to rise in Lake County. The median price of homes in the county rose 2.9 percent through the first half of the year over one year prior.—Chart by the Illinois Association of Realtors®

Top executives favor balanced budget proposal

Although Chicago business executives overwhelmingly favor a balanced budget requirement for the federal government, very few think such a goal will be reached, according to the BAC100 Survey, Bank of America's survey of top executives at mid-sized businesses.

A near unanimous 95 percent of the executives favor balanced budget proposals to reduce the federal deficit. Yet only 13 percent of those executives think the budget actually will be balanced by the year 2002, as proposed.

Nearly 60 percent of executives believe their business will not be impacted if the Congress imposes cuts on federal spending, whereas 40 percent of respondents fear the cuts could negatively impact their business.

And 53 percent of Chicago-area executives think tax cuts should be part of the tax reduction package pending in Congress, compared with 44 percent who disagree with the proposal. By contrast, 52 percent of Wisconsin executives, surveyed for the first time, oppose tax cuts.

In addition to the political questions, executives were asked for their opinions on the local and national economy.

Higher interest rates and inflation are no longer of concern to Chicago-area businesses, according to the BAC100 Survey. In a reversal from last year, only three percent of the executives said they expect interest rates to increase.

In the fourth quarter of last year, by comparison, 86 percent of respondents thought interest rates would rise. And at the end of the first quarter this year, 40 percent still thought

Home-owned bank succeeds despite the odds

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

In the treacherous waters of the banking industry during the early 1990s, banks went on a merging binge that still continues today. Streamline operations, centralize management, trim services and make all products uniform—those were the short term answers to weathering the storm.

In the midst of the tempest, Gerald O'Sullivan collected $3 million in investor capital to open a home-owned bank. No centralizing, trimming or uniformity, just customized service, service and more service. Industry experts surely must have thought he was mad.

The experts were wrong.

Four years later, those initial $3 million have been converted into $50 million in growing assets and several thousand banking customers at Lakeland Community Bank in Round Lake Beach. Bank President O'Sullivan says the local business people who created the bank with venture capital have the secret to the bank's tremendous success.

"They have to have faith in the individual but those who are running it also have to be visionary. They developed a bank they didn't have," O'Sullivan said.

In developing a bank the investors didn't have, they created an institution that would lend less than $100,000 to small, "Lakeland area" businesses and taking less than three weeks to make a decision to do so.

O'Sullivan, who has been in the community banking industry since 1970, knows several people who work for the large bank corporations.

"One friend of mine said if a loan is $100,000 or less they usually send those people to a finance company. He said they don't even want to deal with amounts that small," O'Sullivan said.

On the contrary, O'Sullivan said loans under $100,000 make up a majority of Lakeland Community Bank's lending business. If a business wants an $18,000 loan and they fulfill all the credit requirements, they can get $18,000, O'Sullivan said.

O'Sullivan also said the bank, located on Rollins Rd., not only differs from the corporate giants because its investors live in the area, but it does not feature a rotating stock of bank presidents as well.

O'Sullivan answers for his longevity by telling people he still has an 8-year-old at home, one of his eight children. He has lived in Ingleside for 17 years.

Ironically, Lakeland Community Bank's very success as a home-owned bank is what makes it attractive to corporate banks for purchase. O'Sullivan said the Lakeland communities, which span from Grayslake to Fox Lake, need not be concerned about the bank packing up its profits and moving. The investors formed the institution promising they would not even think of selling for at least 10 years and O'Sullivan says none are thinking about doing then.

O'Sullivan said his bank, like many home-owned banks, is successful because it gives the customers what they want. A bank merger is not one of those things.

"I've never seen a study showing there was a ground swell of customers looking for bank mergers. The customer is not the driving force for these mergers," O'Sullivan said.

Tips for measuring mutual funds

If you'd like to evaluate your mutual fund more carefully, but aren't sure what to look for, you should know about total return.

Total return is one of the best indicators of a mutual fund's performance. It includes income dividends, capital gains and changes in the value of a mutual fund's shares. Your total return will vary slightly according to whether you take your dividends in cash or reinvest them.

Here's an example of total return assuming all dividends and capital gains are reinvested:

Account Value 12/31/94	$20,250
Account Value 12/31/93	$18,000
Change in Value	+ $ 2,250

To find the total return on this account, take the change in value and divide it by the beginning value:

$$2,250 \div $18,000 = .125$, or 12.5 percent.

If you choose to receive dividends in cash, total return is calculated as follows:

Account Value 12/31/94	$18,558
Account Value 12/31/93	$18,000
Change in Value	$ 558
Total Dividends	$ 1,674

$$2,232 \div $18,000 = .124$, or 12.4 percent total return.

As you can see, taking dividends in cash rather than reinvesting them and letting them compound will give you a slightly lower total return. The difference becomes larger over longer periods of time.

You can find a mutual fund's total return in its annual report. The total return reported by the fund, however, may not agree with your calculations. Mutual fund performance figures are based on specific time periods. If you do not own the fund for the entire period covered by the annual report, your total return will be different.

Total return also is affected by additional investments and redeemed shares. If you buy more shares or sell shares right after a major increase or decrease in the fund's share value, your total return will reflect this.

However, long-term investors should not be overly concerned about short-term results. Over meaningful periods — five to 10 years or more — your fund's total return figures are generally a good measure of how well your investment is progressing.

There are several ways to measure the performance of any mutual fund, but total return is the most widely accepted. No other method simultaneously takes into account income, gains and changes in share value.

Budget

In the most recent survey, 67 percent of the executives think the rate will remain about the same. And 30 percent believe it will decrease—a vast difference from previous surveys, where almost to executives thought interest rates would decline.

Similarly, attitudes toward inflation have changed significantly in the last year. Asked if they expected the rate of inflation to increase, only 9 percent of executives said yes. A full 86 percent of the respondents expected inflation to remain at the current three percent.

By comparison, in the fourth quarter of last year, 61 percent said they expected higher inflation, and only 35 percent thought it would stay the same.

"This summer, the number of executives expecting higher interest rates is negligible compared to all of 1994," said Marcus W. Acheson, head of the Commercial Banking Dept. for Bank of American in Chicago.

"In addition, the turnaround in attitude toward inflation is truly remarkable. The overwhelming majority of executives think inflation is under control."

although executives expressed little concern about inflation or interest rates, the BAC100 Chicago Business Confidence Index showed a decline for the fourth consecutive quarter. Chicago scored a 46.8 on the confidence index, compared to a 55 for the second quarter of 1994. The Business Confidence Index tracks the changes in numbers of employees, labor costs, production output, and optimism regarding the Dow Jones average and the economy in general.

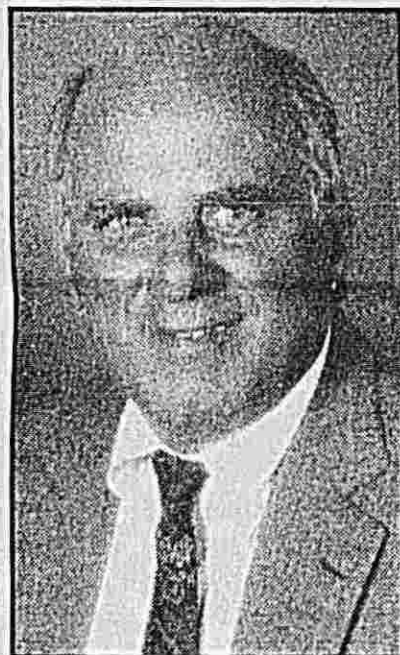

Despite the decline in the index, Chicago-area executives still have higher levels of confidence than do their counterparts in Wisconsin and Indiana, who were surveyed for the first time. Of the Chicago executives, 64 percent think the local business climate is better than the national business climate, and 29 percent think it is about the same.

"The level of optimism about Chicago-area business conditions is in a downward trend, but executives remain confident that the current conditions will remain steady," Acheson said.

"Very few of the executives at midsize companies in the Midwest think economic conditions will deteriorate quickly. The overwhelming majority think conditions will remain the same or improve by year-end."

Former Bears general manager Vainisi returns

After 23 years in the executive ranks of professional football, Jerry Vainisi is changing directions. Rather than offering his sports related financial and legal acumen exclusively to football organizations, Vainisi is joining the Chicago based law firm of Hinshaw and Culbertson and commencing a sports law practice. Generally, his clients will include amateur and professional athletes from all four major sports, colleges and universities, athletic conferences and associations and individuals or groups seeking sports franchises or representation in sports related matters.

ing my horizons and offering my legal and financial expertise to a larger population within the world of sports."

Vainisi's prestigious career in the National Football League began back in 1972 with the Chicago Bears and extended through Oct. 1, when he left the position of vice president of Football Operations for the World League. Chicagoans in particular remember Vainisi for his guidance of the Bears as General Manager during the 1985 to 1986 football season, which culminated in the team's first and only Super Bowl victory. The Chicago Bears have long been a Lake County fixture with offices and practice facilities in Lake Forest.

Donald L. Mrozek, Hinshaw and Culbertson's chairman, executive committee, said "The firm is honored to have Jerry Vainisi join our team. His prominence in the world of professional sports, coupled with his impressive streak of successes in each of his endeavors, can only mean that his sports practice here at Hinshaw and Culbertson will flourish. We welcome Jerry home to Chicago and extend our full range of support."

Vainisi currently lives with his family in Geneva.

"Ever since leaving Chicago for the Detroit Lions back in 1987, I always knew that I would someday return to Chicago. This desire to return home grew especially strong last year when the World League of American Football relocated their offices to New York," Vainisi said.

Vainisi further stated, "I look back at my career in football with complete satisfaction. I fulfilled all of my goals, including, of course, a Super Bowl championship. And, while I will miss the personalities and excitement of football, I am not leaving the sports arena; on the contrary, I am simply broaden-

Realty class a success

LIBERTYVILLE—On Sept. 30, Coldwell Banker of Libertyville conducted its second seminar for the benefit and education of homeowners who are attempting to sell their homes without the assistance of a realtor. The "For Sale by Owners" came to the Lake County Assessor's Office from as far away as Waukegan, Mount Prospect, and Niles. The seminar was well received by the attendees, who learned about contracts and disclosure from Attorney Betsy Wolf Friestedt, credit review and mortgages from David Areen of P.N.C. Mortgage, and home inspections from Kevin Freely of The Home Team Inspection Service. Marshall Rose, a Coldwell Banker broker, discussed materials that are available to For Sale by Owners and were designed to enhance the seller's property and marketing efforts. Marshall also discussed a method of using the resources of a Real Estate Agency to sell a home and yet retain the right to sell on one's own. Response to this community seminar was so well received that Coldwell Banker of Libertyville has scheduled two more seminars for this year. Reservations are now being taken for Oct. 28 and Nov. 18. All seminars will begin at 10 a.m. and will be conducted at the Lake County Assessor's Office at 359 Merrill Court in Libertyville. For further information or to register, call Richard Capocioni at 367-4900.

In Memory

In loving memory of ROCCO MONTELO
Who passed away
1 year ago Oct. 27, 1994
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you didn't go alone
Part of us went with you
The day God took you home
Perhaps all of the tomorrows
Would be easier to bear
If only one yesterday
We could again share
However we know
This can never be true
But we continue to cherish
All our memories of you
Thanks for the special memories you have given to us all. We love & miss you,
Your loving wife, Evelyn; Stephen Dennis;
3 grandchildren; Sister Brigitte; Brother James (Gee); Donna, Linda & Chuck from
"Nicky & Clem" (Laundromats), 6 friends

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: What is the rule on companies and severance pay? I left a company after 3-1/2 years due to a lay-off, and I was not offered any severance pay. I was told by a friend that I had it coming to me and that I should contact the company to find out why I have not received it yet. Please give me your ideas on how I should approach the situation. T.S. - Lakemoor.

A: Dear T.S. Your friend is feeding you improper information. Be advised that severance pay is not a "given". Companies are not required to give an employee severance pay upon departure from a company. In fact, companies are not required to give out severance pay for any reason whatsoever. Severance pay is a gift of sorts that often means "hope this softens the blow". Your friend may be confusing severance pay with unemployment compensation which you may be eligible for. Contact your nearest Illinois Department of Employment Security office, which for you would probably be the Waukegan office (although you may contact any Illinois facility), and they will have you fill out the forms necessary for which you may apply for the compensation while you are actively seeking future employment. You should have no trouble collecting as long as the reason for your termination is uncontested. The Illinois Department of Employment Security has launched a staunch effort to crack down on unemployment fraud. Therefore, be sure that you are actively seeking employment with an emphasis on actively. Be prepared when you go to apply at your nearest office to supply the representative with your employer's name, address, dates of employment, paycheck stubs if you have them, and a good attitude. You will then be required to meet with a job service counselor who will monitor your activity and offer recommendations as to possible job listings that may be available. You will be required to check in periodically.

Q: Dear...Search: I recently spent a fortune to have a resume typed by a service that omitted my year that I graduated college. They told me the reason that they did it, but could you please tell me what you believe would be a reason for not including that on a resume? I am proud of my accomplishment and feel it should be included. R.H. - Lake Forest.

A: Dear R.H. It doesn't sound as though anyone is trying to shirk your accomplishment. As I understand it, your degree is included in your resume; however, just the date of graduation was left out. The reason I can guess would be that a potential employer could possibly calculate your age, which could help or hurt depending on the position. If you feel more comfortable having it in...ask the service to do so, but it is not necessarily needed.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

PET OF THE WEEK

Rex

Our dog "Rex" is a handsome fellow. Rex is a four or five year old shepherd mix, with a soft brindle dappled coat. A larger mid-size, Rex has an even temperament and a sturdy build. Rex lost his home when his owners decided that they just had "no time" to give a loving pet.

Rex was pretty confused and upset when he first came here in January of 1995 but his true personality has earned him a place as one of our favorites. Rex was housebroken when he was brought here and he has a delightfully playful personality. In fact, Rex is a real clown at times, and has very endearing ways. This is a loving, very people-oriented dog who will fit beautifully with a family's lifestyle. He is an obedient dog who listens well and has had some obedience training. Rex doesn't need a lot of time, just some daily playful interaction and affection. And he'll always have time for you! Rex is waiting eagerly in Cage 15.

ARIE

For weekend travelers concerned about finding a safe place to park their recreational vehicle when they return home, the impressive Arie will put an end to those worries. A full-sized R.V. storage unit has been designed to fit alongside the garage of this 2171 square foot charmer. When you return from a trip, whether it lasts a few days or a few weeks, you'll be happy to have this beautiful house waiting.

A wrap-around porch, with waist-high railing, adds a homey touch to the exterior design. If the weather turns chilly, warm up by spending some time in the spa that's located in the glass-enclosed green room.

The interior motif will also lift your spirits. There is plenty of room here for entertaining friends in comfortable surroundings. Near the recessed entry, the vaulted living room serves as a cozy retreat. Warmed by a wood stove, this is the perfect spot for rejoicing in good conversation or savoring the view through the huge bay window.

Mealtimes are to be appreciated in the Arie. The formal dining room boasts French doors that open to the porch, allowing a cool breeze to grace your dinner table. For more informal eating, a breakfast nook and eating bar are on either side of the walk-through kitchen. In addition to all the built-in appliances, there is a roomy walk-in pantry.

The isolated master suite features personal access to both the greenroom/spa and a back deck that runs the length of the building. Other master suite amenities include a walk-in closet and private bathroom. The second bedroom, which is also isolated for privacy, will function well as quarters for overnight guests or an elderly parent that is part of the household. A full bathroom is close by.

Separating the two bedrooms, the large family room is the main gathering point in the Arie. Lots of space here to set up a pool table, or a couple of couches and a big screen television. When the sun is shining, put the barbecue out on the back deck.

For a study kit of the ARIE (403-03), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Fight leaves Carmel short-handed for league finale

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Ruben Rivera is used to being a marked runner by opposing defenses.

The Carmel High School running back will be even more so as he will be the lone regular starter on offense when Carmel travels to St. Joe in Westchester for a 1 p.m. clash Oct. 21.

The reason why senior Rivera will be more the target was 10 starters on offense were ejected following an ending-game fight with St. Viator players in a 46-26 Carmel win.

"It left us not in a good position for the last game," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

CHS improved to 6-2, 4-2 East Suburban Catholic Conference with the win and is likely in the post-season playoffs, but a better seed is on the line in the season finale.

Luke Chorazy gets the call at quarter-back for Carmel and some defensive stand-outs will likely go both ways against the 0-8 St. Joe team.

Another unusual aspect of the game is it will be played at St. Joseph High in a makeshift field which will be a future stadium, not Proviso West as in the past.

The third touchdown by Kevin Burris, an 80-yard run, ended the game Friday at Carmel.

"It was a dive play and he cut back and headed to the St. Viator sideline. One guy hit a St. Viator player and the frekas began. I do not have anything against the new rules, but there is no way they should have called the game," Fitzgibbons said.

The rushing game gave Carmel a commanding lead as Rivera had 234 yards and Burris 164. Rivera had three touchdowns. Burris had three scores.

CHS gained a 14-6 lead after one period as Burris had a 6-yard TD run and Rivera burst into the secondary for a 61 and 60 yard runs.

After a 20-0 halftime lead, Burris capped a drive with a 3-yard TD run, and Rivera added 10 and 28 yard TD runs.

Steve Golebiowski led the way defensively from his linebacker position. Taree Jones had two interceptions and caused a fumble.

"He is a fine high school cornerback. He always is around the ball. He did not play defense until this year, but he has really gotten accustomed to it," Fitzgibbons said of Jones.

As for the finale, Fitzgibbons said the Corsairs have had to deal with adversity before such as key injuries and losing close games for the ESCC title.

The game in Westchester will be Carmel's last in the present ESCC set-up, as a new football alignment will take place next year.

Vikes eye spot in title game, playoffs start

The Lake County Vikings are preparing for the post-season after completing one of their more memorable regular season efforts.

The Vikings shutout the Midway Jets 18-0 Friday in Chicago for an 8-2 regular season record. The team finished second in the West Division of the Midwest Football league and has some time off before a first-round playoff game Oct. 28. Gary or Indiana will supply the opposition for the game at Round Lake High.

"We are just now pointing to the championship game to get another shot back at the Falcons," Vikings Coach Russ Kraly said.

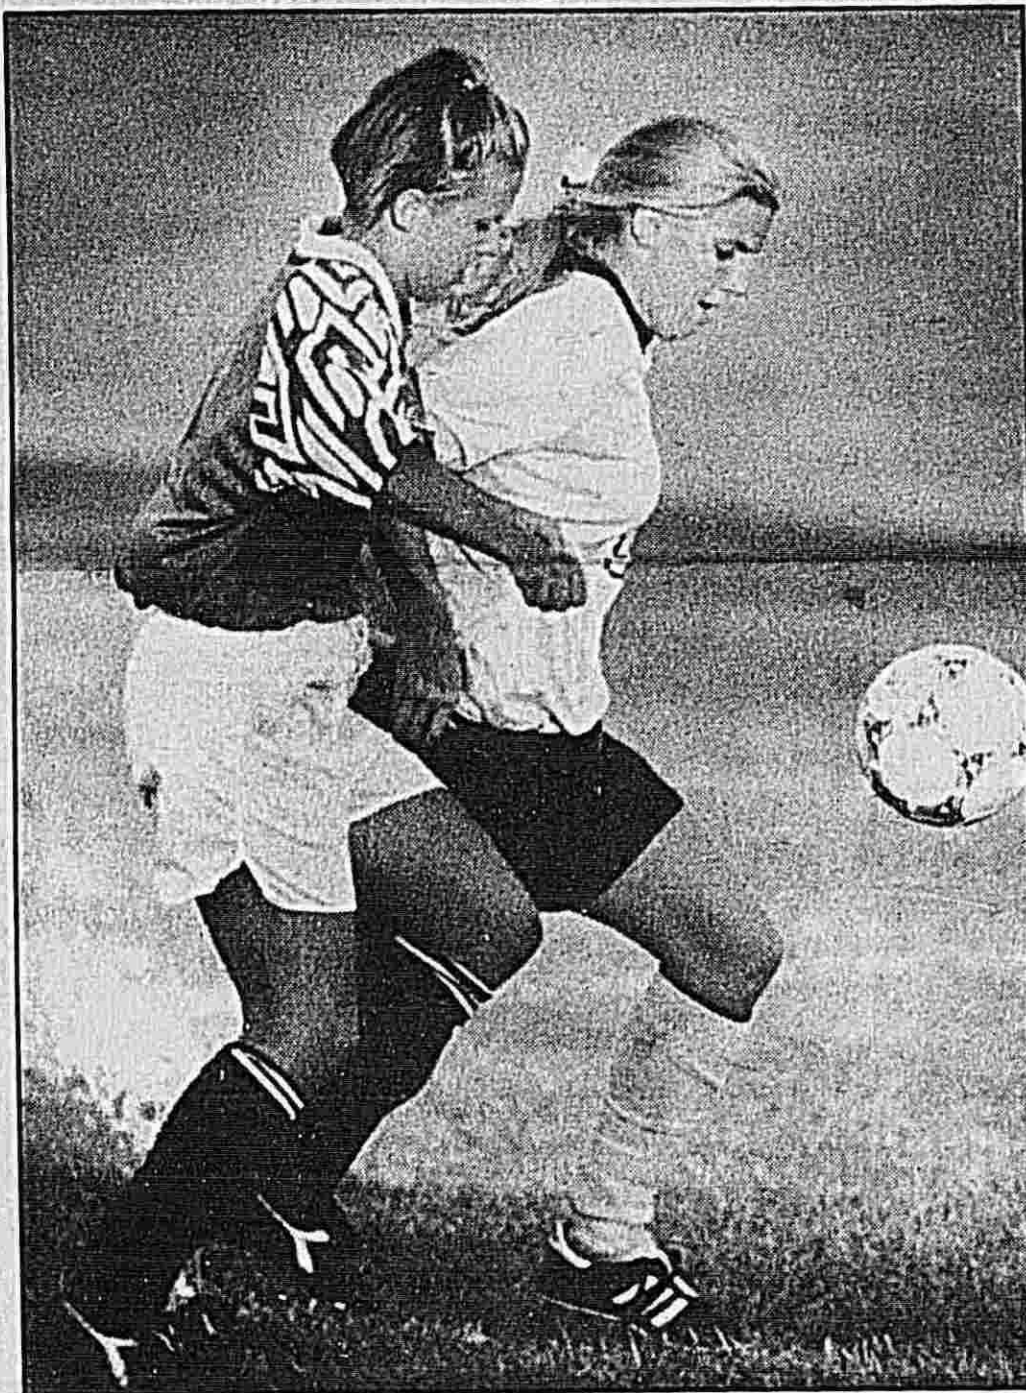

The Vikings lost to the Falcons 14-8 in overtime, ending a winning streak.

"We only had 30 guys," Kraly said of the Jets game. That, plus poor lighting limited the passing game early.

Walter Tesch directed the offense and continued to do a good job, Kraly said.

The Vikings drove downfield in the first quarter and scored on a 3-yard run by Luke Tesch. The Vikings built a 12-0 lead at halftime after Walter Tesch completed a 31-yard TD pass to Jerry Nash.

Harrison's setting among bright spots for CLC spikers

When the 1995 College of Lake County volleyball season began, Stacey Harrison was given a new task.

The Carmel High graduate had not played that position before, but is playing well, according to Coach Sue Garcia.

"She keeps hustling and going out there. She likes the game and wants to do well," Garcia said.

Harrison had 28 points serving and 4 aces and 56 assists as CLC won one of four matches at the College of DuPage meet. She was named CLC Athlete of the Week.

CLC beat Harper in the first round 15-7, 15-11 and 15-7. Next came a 15-6, 15-9 loss to MacComb, Mich. DuPage topped CLC 15-13, 15-11 and Sauke Valley won 15-12, 15-7, 15-11.

Along with Harrison, Stephanie DeGrott had a strong tourney. She was 35-of-36 serving with 24 points and 3 aces.

"In the Harper match, it was rally scoring and she took us from seven points to 15 points," Garcia said.

Carrie Curtis had 21 kills; Jenny VosBurgh and Jessica Rodriguez had 16 kills and Jenny Dennecke had 12 kills.

CLC (9-23) lost to Moraine Valley to end Skyway league play 15-7, 15-13, 15-11. CLC is at the Skyway Conference tournament, facing Oakton first on Oct. 21. Host McHenry is also the favorite.

A four-goal improvement over the first time College of Lake County women's soccer team battled College of DuPage has the Lancers eager for a third chance.

The Lancers lost 6-0 the first time these two teams met in non-conference play. On a breezy Wednesday in Grayslake, the Lancers held COD to a penalty kick score and another goal in a 2-0 defeat.

"I think our defense stepped it up. We knew it would be a tough game, but we gave them a run for their money," J.J. Ross said.

Ross, a sweeper from Mundelein, is a sophomore and the leading scorer on the CLC squad which has won four of six matches.

Next up is post-season challenges, beginning Oct. 25 is Moraine Valley. A win there gives the Lancers a probable third chance at College of DuPage.

"We did well. We are playing better as a team," CLC Coach Mike O'Flaherty said.

Jamie Ross's play at sweeper and Sara Stoutenberg and Tricia Henrichs and Sarah Meltzer midfield play earned kudos from the coach. "J.J. has been our team leader," the coach commented.

"And Jaimie Ross stopped one of the best forwards in the area," he added. O'Flaherty has seen better team play this year than last, when the sport was a club sport in its first year.

CLC was down 2-0 at halftime against COD, but had one shot hit the crossbar early in the second half and others go wide left or right. Tammi Gradecki was in goal for CLC.

Gridiron highlights: Rams munch after 3 straight wins

Grayslake High continued a tradition one can really sink your teeth into. Sam Guinta, owner of Sammies of Grayslake, offered Rams football coach free hot dogs and pop for his team. The catch: the Rams had to win three in a row.

A 13-6 win in the rain at Johnsburg satisfied that requirement, so for the second straight year, the Rams enjoyed a post-practice meal on Thursday. Unfortunately, Marian Central took care of any Northwest Suburban Conference title hopes with a 28-3 win, scoring 22 fourth-quarter points.

Tradition II: the youth team in Grayslake, the Colts and varsity Rams took center stage in halftime ceremony of the soph game Friday. The varsity Rams serve as "big brothers" to the future Rams...

Birds of a feather: Dillon was, as his custom at the time, an assistant at Northwestern University Coach Gary Barnett's football camp the day he signed on at Grayslake. He had to take a day off to make the Grayslake job official and Barnett had some sincere niceties when Dillon returned.

Warren High defensive back Sharnell Barnes lost a contact for one eye and had to play with a patch over it in a 21-8 win over North Chicago Friday...

Temperatures in the low 40s with wind gusts more than 20 MPH did not stop some loyal Bulldogs fans from cheering without shirts. Yes, they made it through their team's 30-13 loss to Round Lake... Grant High officials may wish to schedule Homecoming earlier. The Bulldogs, going through a frustrating season, have not had much luck with late-October weather.

Round Lake is seeking a 2-0 mark against neighborhood rivals when it hosts Grayslake Oct. 20. Last year's games with Grant and Grayslake were canceled due to the teachers' strike. The win over Grant was the first win in regulation four quarters for Round Lake.

Playoff update: this season marked the earliest start ever and unless you are in Lincolnshire (on the road to the state title in Normal?), Lake Zurich (on the bubble even with a win), Libertyville, or at Carmel High, players will be turning in their uniforms the earliest ever, after this week's games. Gunning for winning 5-4 seasons are: Warren, Antioch and the comeback of the year team, Johnsburg.

Goshgarian, NU football stars glow in team's wins

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

In the late 1950s, Gerard Goshgarian had a dilemma.

The former Grayslake High quarterback could either attend the University of Illinois as his father did, or attend Northwestern University.

He chose Northwestern.

When we had our 25th reunion, there were three or four doctors, dentists, college professors, and business executives. It was remarkable of what a Northwestern education can do for you down the road.

—Gerald Goshgarian

"Ara Paraseghian would say, 'come and play,'" Goshgarian said.

Dr. Goshgarian is a Gurnee doctor specializing in orthopedics. His smiles when the subject quickly turns to his alma mater's 5-1 record.

"I have friends who I have not talked to for 20 years calling. People are coming out of the wood-work," he said.

He played on three winning teams for the Wildcats, who hope to take a big step to another winning season Saturday at Minnesota. The Wildcats were 6-3, 5-4 and 7-2 while Goshgarian toiled as a linebacker.

"Coach Ara was a lot like Gary Barnett. They were motivators and their teams knew more about the game. We did not always match up with other teams, but were able to predict what they would do," Goshgarian said.

Barnett gives Northwestern, ranked No. 14, a confidence it has not had since the last winning season featured Mike Adamle's rushing ability.

Road victories over Notre Dame and Michigan have sparked back interest in NU, leading to possible huge crowds with the Wisconsin game Oct. 21 and others. NU did it again Saturday night, winning 27-17 in Minnesota, keeping its first-place tie in the Big Ten at 3-0.

"He is a throw-back. He is perfect for Northwestern," Goshgarian said of Barnett.

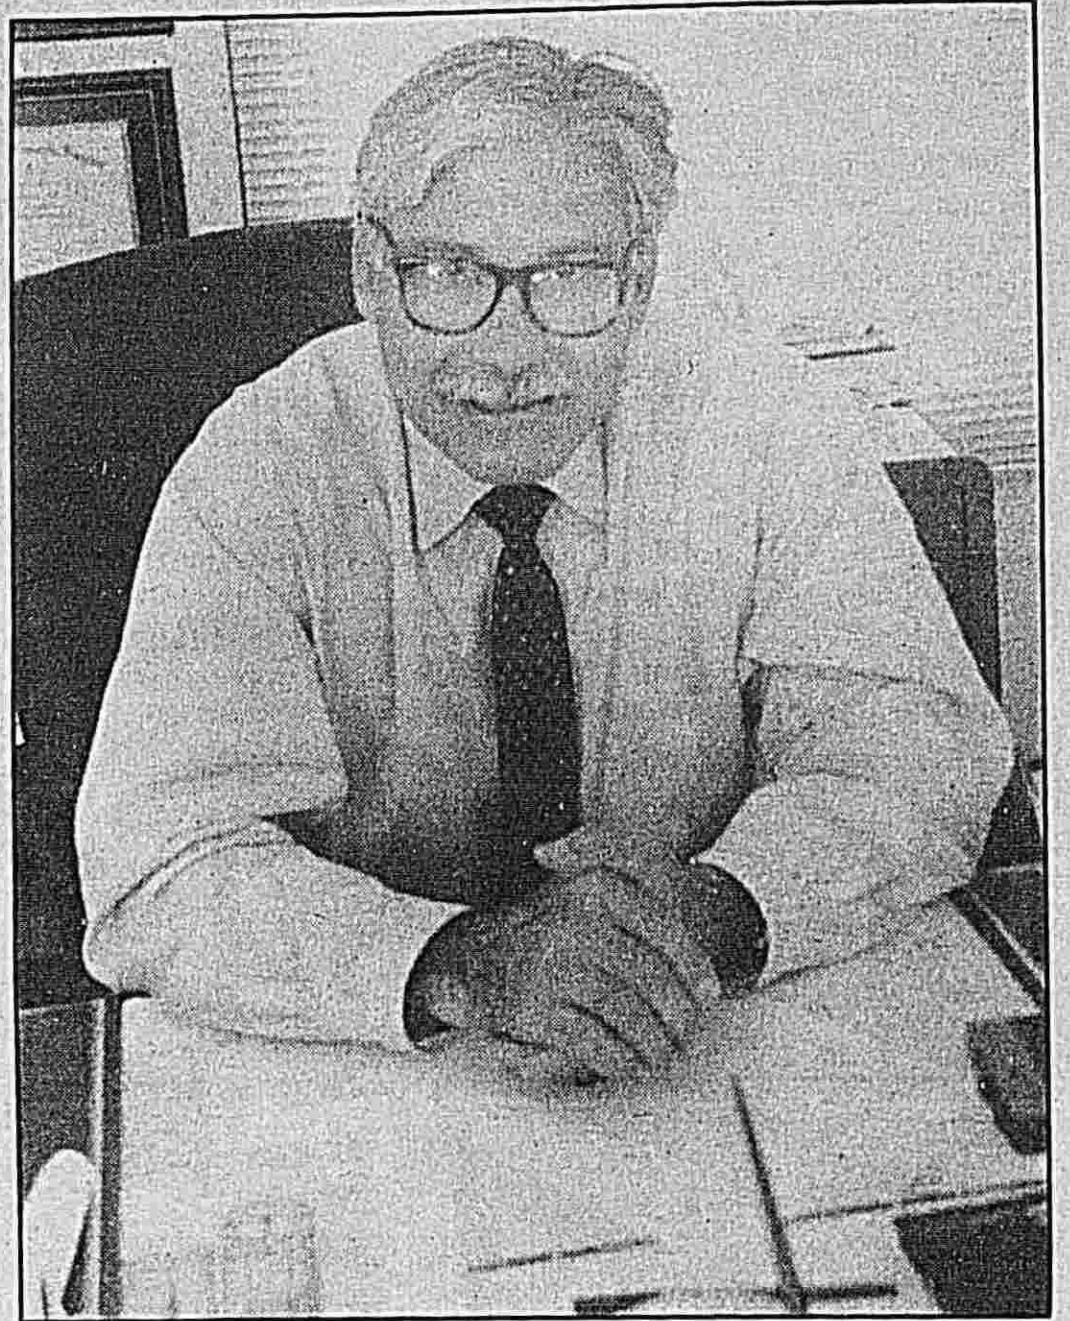

Larry Onesti of Spring Grove, Jack Cverco, Tom Meyer and Paul Flatley were football heroes along the north shore in Goshgarian's era.

College football in the 1950s was bigger in scope than its professional counterpart. Crowds at Dyche Stadium were regularly sell outs. "We had bigger crowds than the pros. Professional football really did not grab its attention until Joe Namath," Goshgarian said.

Goshgarian had success in high school, as the Rams were 8-1 and 9-0 on his varsity teams coached by Pat Rooney.

Northwestern has always had its calling card of high academic standards.

"When we had our 25th reunion, there were three or four doctors, dentists, college professors, and business executives. It was remarkable of what a Northwestern education can do for you down the road," Goshgarian said.

Northwestern alumnus Gerard Goshgarian is enjoying the Cinderella story of his alma mater's football squad this season. Northwestern challenges Minnesota Saturday.

Lambs Farm benefit proves fitness is fun

Lambs Farm will hold its most popular and successful fund raising event, the 19th Annual Lambs Farm Tennis and Fitness Ball, Saturday, Nov. 11 at 5 p.m. at the East Bank Club in Chicago. More than 100 tennis players and 300 fitness fans are expected to participate in this year's event.

Honorary guests Tim Weigel, WBBM-TV Channel 2 Sports, and Vicki Truax, Oldies 104.3 WJMK, will participate in the fitness activities and emcee a spectacular live auction.

Lambs Farm's 19th Annual Tennis and Fitness Ball is chaired, as it has been since its inception, by Cy and Lolly Rosengarten of Winnetka. The Rosengartens organized Lambs Farm's first Tennis Ball in 1977, the same year their daughter, Wynn, came to live and work at Lambs Farm. Since that time the Tennis Ball has raised over $1.5 million.

Tennis players participating in the Tennis Ball will compete in one of three rated hour long time periods. Trophies and prizes will be awarded to the top competitors in each category.

Karen Malkin and Emily Sandquist, both of Glencoe, have joined the Tennis and Fitness Ball team to organize a terrific evening for guests who do not play tennis. Fitness fans will have access to all of the East Bank Club's state-of-the-art facilities, and can participate in a professionally taught step and sculpt aerobic class, low impact aerobics with an introduction to slide, pick-up basketball games, a free-throw basketball contest with center-court Chicago Bulls tickets going to the winner, instructors to demonstrate proper use of all cardiovascular machines and answer questions on fitness and health, volleyball, golf driving range, weight room, jogging track, and swimming pool.

Everyone will enjoy browsing through the variety of distinctive items available in the silent and live auctions. American Airlines, the official airline of the 19th Annual Tennis and Fitness Ball, will provide airline tickets to Europe and the United States. Other spectacular prizes include vacations, restaurant packages, theater tickets, get-away weekends, electronics and, of course, fitness equipment and health club memberships. Anyone wishing to donate items for the auction can call Lambs Farm at 362-4636.

Whether you are able to attend the event or not, the Tennis and Fitness Ball Grand Prize Raffle offers the chance to win your choice of a new Acura Integra, Jeep Cherokee SE, Geo Tracker Convertible or $15,000 cash prize. Tickets are $100 each—no more than 1,000 tickets will be sold. Tickets for the drawing which will be held the evening of the event may be purchased at the event or by calling Lambs Farm.

Carol Smoler of Chicago, menu chairperson, has created a spectacular gourmet dinner including appetizers, main courses and desserts with low-fat/low-calorie options available.

Together, the Rosengartens, Karen Malkin, Emily Sandquist and Carol Smoler have organized a unique evening that no one will soon forget. More importantly, the event will continue, as it has in the 18 previous years, to provide vital support for the men and women of Lambs Farm and the variety of programs available to them.

Celebrating 34 years of service, Lambs Farm is a non-profit community in Libertyville providing comprehensive vocational, residential, recreational, and social support services to more than 250 adults with developmental disabilities. Offered a choice of programs, participants at Lambs Farm learn valuable daily living skills which help them to lead more productive lives.

Tickets to the Lambs Farm 19th Annual Tennis and Fitness Ball are $100 for tennis players and $75 for fitness fans. For an invitation or for more information, call Lambs Farm at 362-4636.

Chiefs baseball plans minor, majors for '96

Lake County Chiefs youth baseball organization is busy making plans for a revamped program in 1996.

The Chiefs, who offered a series of fall clinics, hope to field two teams of not more than 12 players per team that would play spring league and early-season tournaments in April May and part of June. According to Chiefs director Art Mansavage, the groups will try to have to teams each for age groups 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14 and under.

During the second half of June and prior to the state and national tournaments there will be major and minor league teams. Minor leaguers could be upgraded to the majors and the majors could be assigned to the minors depending on attitude, Mansavage said. The major league team will be the "blue chip" team that will represent Lake County Baseball in state and national playoffs. The minor league team could be eligible for the state and national playoffs, depending on willingness to participate and availability.

"The minor league team is not going to be a substandard team. We are striving to make it competitive as any other traveling team. The major league team will also play games and weekend tournaments prior to attending the national tournament," Mansavage announced.

For national or World Series tournaments, the Lake County Baseball program will pay entry fee and lodging. Food and transportation will be up to the players and their parents. Lake County Baseball will coordinate any fund-raising efforts.

The objective of Lake County Baseball is to have the teams pretty much picked before the Jan. 20-21 winter camp starts, including coaching staff. "We will have new faces this year and a slightly different philosophy. No one is guaranteed a spot on the team as of yet - coaches and players," Mansavage said.

He pointed out to success in 1993 when three teams advanced to national levels. Lake County Baseball was founded in 1986.

Lake County Baseball is looking for a permanent facility.

"One of the main goals of Lake County Baseball is to ready your children for high school and college ball. This is not as easy as it once was. It takes more dedication, discipline and attitude than ever before. We will assist in giving your boys the opportunity to learn and showcase their talents. In addition to team practice and games, there will be a mandatory day for each boy to come to Mansavage Field for lessons," he said.

The Chiefs concluded last year with a picnic and several trophies were presented to players, known as Coaches Choice awards.

Winners are: Ryan Bell from Long Grove for 10 and under; Lance Serbin of Arlington Heights for 11 and under; Mike Gerald of Russell and Joe Celia from Round Lake Beach for 12 and under and James Villalobos of Waukegan for 13 and under.

Most valuable Chiefs, picked by players, include: Scott Schroeder from Buffalo Grove 10 and under B team, Kris Oldeen from Highland Park for the 10 and under A team; Chris Hynes and David Michalkiewicz of Mundelein for the 11 and under team; Bryce McKinney of Wheeling and Mike Bruszer of Deerfield for the 13 and under team. Amanda Mansavage was given an award for her help.

Curbing your sweet tooth...with berry rind

Many dieters—successful and unsuccessful—might hope to find a naturally occurring food that curbs one's appetite for sweets.

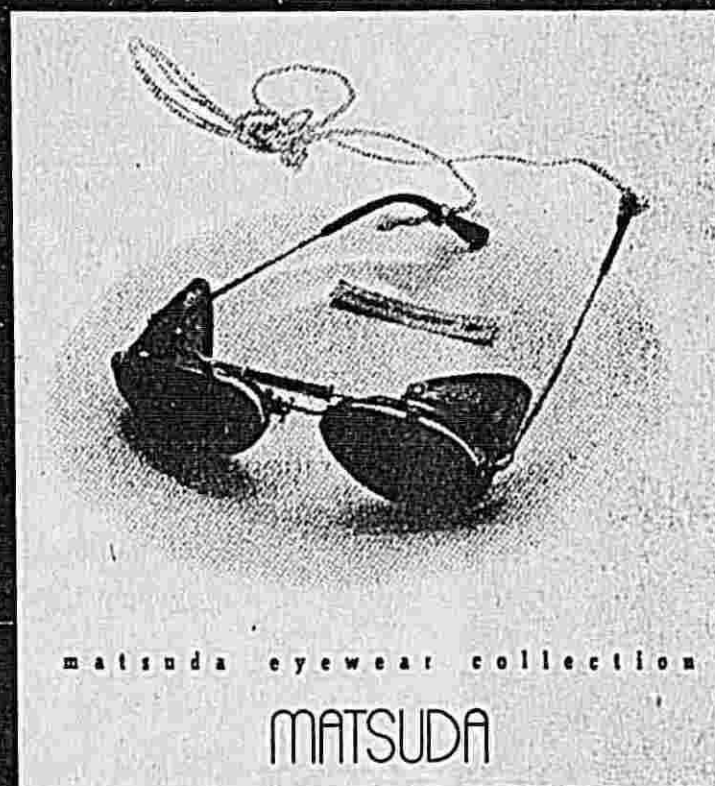

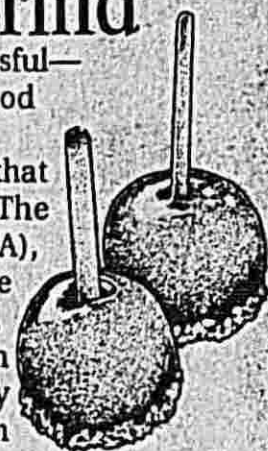

At least one published study found just that in the rind of the common brindall berry. The rind contains hydroxycitric acid (HCA), which, the study found, diminished the desire for sweets to a weight-losing degree.

The study found that a nonprescription capsule containing 500 mg of brindall berry rind extract, plus niacin bound chromium was three times more effective than a placebo in causing weight loss in a group of overweight people.

Anthony A. Conte, M.D., a respected bariatric (weight-loss) physician divided 54 overweight males and females into two groups. The group that received the berry-rind formula lost an average of 13 pounds while the control group lost an average of only four pounds. Neither group was instructed to decrease the amount of food they ate or to increase their exercise levels. All participants were advised to "eat smart" by choosing low-fat, low sugar foods with low sodium and high fiber, and to drink plenty of water.

The formulation is being marketed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation as Bio-Max 3000. Effective nonprescription alternatives for weight control such as Bio-Max 3000 are much sought after because they are less expensive and do not have the unsafe side effects of drugs.

For more information about non-prescription weight loss, call 1-800-729-8446.

Studies show that pets are good for health

Most people know it intuitively. Pet owners know it for certain. And now the scientific evidence is growing—pets are good for people's health.

That's one good reason to give a dog a home.

Studies show that pets are especially beneficial to seniors. For instance, a study of 1,000 Medicare recipients showed that the seniors who owned dogs had 21 percent fewer contacts with a physician. Another study, of heart patients, reveals that people over 40 who own pets have lower blood pressure levels.

The Pet Food Institute says that's easy to explain. For one thing, walking dogs keeps seniors active. And pets ease loneliness and depression. "Seniors," the Pet Food Institute says, "take better care of themselves when they own a pet."

Despite the benefits of pet ownership and model rules for responsible pet ownership in apartments, legal barriers force thousands of seniors to give up their pets each year.

That could change, though, if Congress passes the National Senior Citizen Pet Ownership Protection Act (H.R. 1619) introduced by Rep. Susan Molinari, R-N.Y., and Rep. Carolyn Maloney, D-N.Y.

The legislation would remove the distinction between seniors-only and other public housing.

For information about the legislation, contact your Congressional representatives or write to the Pet Food Institute, 1200 19th St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Tips for Finding an Animal Friend

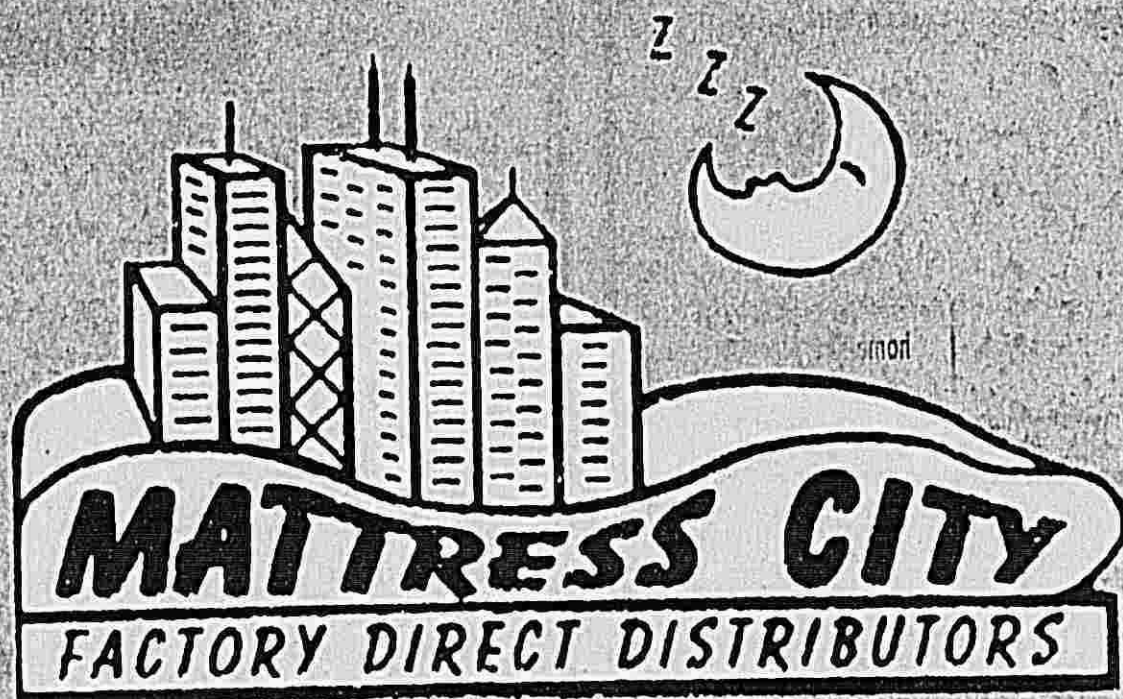

Before you adopt, consider this advice from the Pet Food Institute:

- Choose the right pet for your lifestyle. If you don't enjoy long walks, for instance, a lively dog who needs lots of exercise won't be a good match.
- Pet owners should consult a veterinarian annually to ensure their pet's good health and should follow their veterinarian's advice on spaying and neutering.
- Dogs need clean, fresh water daily, and they should be fed food that is nutritionally complete and balanced.
- At the shelter, look beyond the puppies. Mature dogs, too, make wonderful pets.
- Remember, giving a dog a home is a long-term commitment.
- Be sure to seek the advice of shelter workers. They can make sure you and your new friend are a good match.

For peak performance, give your eyes exercise

You may do sit-ups to strengthen your abdominal muscles, pull-ups for your arms or pump big iron to get your legs in shape.

But do you know what to do to increase the quickness of your eyes—a crucial element for any athlete trying to achieve peak personal performance in sports such as golf, baseball, tennis, basketball, skiing?

Answer: "eyeball calisthenics."

That's literally eye exercises that eventually allow you to focus ahead of the ball, or the action, so that you get the jump on the play and are at the right place at the right time.

There is increasing evidence that the eyes can be strengthened by proper exercise and care.

Dr. Don Teig, an optometrist who runs the Institute for Sports Vision in Ridgefield, Conn., says that being able to see detail when motion is involved is critical to better sports performance. Can you see the stitches on a baseball moving 100 mph? Can you detect the spin of a 110-mph tennis ball and see exactly where it hits your racquet?

If not, eye exercises can help. Teig's many professional sports patients find they are seeing important things they never saw before.

"If you focus behind a moving stationary object, you'll probably hit to the opposite field in baseball, be a back rimmer in basketball and putt long," says Teig. "If your focus is ahead of the ball, you'll pick up early on ground balls and come up short on putts and shots."

Correcting Problems: Besides the exercises, peak sport performance also requires proper eye care. Teig recommends daily disposable contact lenses because they allow athletes to see better, and athletes like the convenience of a fresh new pair of lenses everyday.

Pat Riley, professional basketball coach, chooses and recommends the new 1-Day Acuvue disposable lenses by Johnson & Johnson.

"The lenses are really comfortable. And I know that no contact lens could be healthier. That's important to me," Riley says. "1-Day-Acuvue fits my hectic lifestyle perfectly. With all the traveling I do, it's great to be able to pack and go."

For more information on daily disposable contact lenses, call 1-800-440-1329.

Relieving BIG headaches

Did you know that 90 percent of Americans have at least one headache yearly that causes them to miss work or social activities?

What are headaches?: "Most headaches are caused by chemical reactions in the brain affected by diet, emotion, medication, and hormonal changes," says Dr. William E. Baubie, an emergency physician in Kingston, NY. These reactions cause muscle contractions which lead to head or neck pain otherwise known as a tension headache. Migraine headaches are usually described as one-sided, throbbing, and may cause nausea and/or sensitivity to light and sound.

Avoiding headache 'triggers': "The best way to control recurrent headaches is to keep a diary of when and how they occur," says Dr. Baubie. Common triggers include bright light, stress, foods, noise, smoke, menstrual cycles, bad posture, sleep abnormalities, skipping meals, grinding teeth, and gum chewing. To help identify possible food triggers, Dr. Baubie suggests avoiding aged cheeses, alcohol, caffeine, salt, cured meats, chocolate, ice cream, nuts, and food additives for two months to see if headaches stop or decrease. "It is important to remember that the things that trigger headaches differ from person to person."

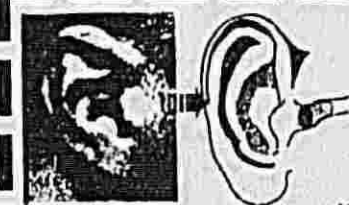

Headache remedies: Most sudden headaches can be relieved with ice packs, massage, sleep, and pain medications. "Overuse of pain relievers or a change in the duration or severity of your headaches should prompt a visit to your doctor," suggests Dr. Baubie. "Rebound headaches" can be caused by sudden withdrawal of caffeine or pain medication. "Hangover headaches" can be prevented by drinking alcohol slowly and moderately on a full stomach.

Government and private health officials have issued an urgent call for women to increase consumption of folic acid, a B vitamin, to reduce the risk of neural tube birth defects. Birth defects are the leading cause of infant mortality in the United States.

At a recent conference held by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, leading health experts recommended use of a daily multivitamin supplement with folic acid by all women of child-bearing age. The recommendation was endorsed by the CDC and representatives from the Spina Bifida Association and the March of Dimes.

As far back as 1992, the CDC recommended that all women of child-bearing age consume 0.4 mg of folic acid daily. Since the announcement, however, the incidence of neural tube birth defects has continued unabated and the message has gone unheeded.

A recent Gallup Poll of more than 2,000 women found that only 15 percent were aware of the CDC recommendation. In addition, only 20 percent of those who had given birth since January 1993 had taken a folic acid supplement prior to becoming pregnant. This is the critical time because the neural tube closes three to four weeks after conception, before most women know they are pregnant.

Godfrey Oakley, M.D., director of CDC's division of birth

Health officials urge women to increase folic acid intake defects and developmental disabilities, said that if the recommendation were followed, neural tube birth defects could be reduced by 50 to 70 percent.

Natural Sources or Supplements?

Good dietary sources of folic acid include orange juice, liver, green leafy vegetables, legumes, and fortified cereals. However, on average, women consume only 0.2 mg of folic acid daily. In theory, it is possible for women to obtain 0.4 mg of folic acid from their diet, but "from a practical point of view, supplements are the way to go," said Scott Simpson, M.D., director of women's health at the Texas Health Department.

The Food and Drug Administration is considering fortifying the grain supply to increase folic acid intakes. In 1994, the agency approved a health claim authorizing supplement manufacturers to state on their labels that folic acid may help reduce the incidence of neural tube birth defects.

Spina bifida results when the neural tube, which holds the developing spinal cord, fails to close properly in a mother's womb. About 2,500 babies are born each year with spina bifida in the United States. Treating and caring for spina bifida patients costs an estimated $200 million a year.

Senior footcare tips unless they hurt us. Surprisingly foot complaints and problems are very common, but sometimes it takes some time to catch up to us. Most of us will at some time have a problem with our feet. The human foot is an amazing machine—there are 28 bones and 107 ligaments, and 28 muscles. It is truly incredible what this foot has to endure.

Most of us will take between 5,000 and 8,000 steps a day and the foot will bear 1-2 times your body weight at each step. It is hard to imagine not having an ache or pain on occasion when you think how hard our feet work to hold us up and help us get around.

Since we all know that good health and attitudes will help us live longer, most of us realize that we must maintain a healthy lifestyle. Many health care specialists have encouraged us to stay fit by exercising and walking. Some of the benefits that come with exercising are: 1. Maintaining our weight; 2. Helping control our blood pressure; 3. Helping control our cholesterol levels; 4. Helping to control diabetes; 5. Improving circulation and strengthening the heart and lungs; 6. Helping to prevent heart attacks and strokes; 7. Improving muscle tone in legs and abdomen; and 8. Helping to reduce arthritis pain by keeping joints mobile.

Good foot health and care are important for everyone but is especially as we age, some reasons why are as we get older, we lose the protective fat padding under our feet, and this can lead to painful spots and eventually may lead to callouses and sometimes if neglected these callouses can lead to ulcers under these bony prominences. This can be serious if you are a diabetic or if you have known circulation problems.

Many of us, as we age, may develop some arthritis in our feet that can also cause pain and deformity. One tough arthritis on the feet is rheumatoid arthritis. This type of arthritis will attack the bone and the structures that hold the bones together, which leads to a collapsed foot and painful callouses and ulcers as well.

Although we all depend on our feet to get us from place to place, we usually don't think of them

Osteoporosis is another area that can affect the feet, although it primarily occurs in women's feet due to the loss of estrogen in the body. Men are not totally exempt, though. This condition can lead to painful fractures in the bones of the foot. Many times we see this in the form of stress fractures.

Although most foot conditions are a product of our genetics, age and gender, there are some tips that can help the feet to stay healthy and strong: 1. Stay active by walking; 2. Get your feet checked and cared for on a regular basis; 3. Wear good supportive shoes, running shoes are great for walkers; 4. Do not neglect your feet, especially if you are a diabetic or have circulation problems; and 5. Keep a healthy attitude!

Dr. Schoene practices in Gurnee and treats many seniors and diabetics. She counsels her patients on proper foot care and shoe guidelines.—Dr. Lisa M. Schoene

Medical breakthrough can help 40 million dyslexics

More than 40 million American children and adults suffer from the many varied symptoms of dyslexia and related Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD). Thanks to the groundbreaking medical research of Dr. Harold Levinson—a world-renowned psychiatrist and neurologist—there is renewed hope and help for all dyslexics, their loved ones, and all interested educators and healers.

Using real-named and pictured dyslexics in a provocative and important "text that reads like a novel," "A Scientific Watergate—Dyslexia" (Stonebridge Publishing) clarifies the dyslexic syndrome while exposing the confusion and "cover-up" characterizing prior research efforts—hence the Watergate title.

Following the examination of 25,000 dyslexics over the past 30 years, Levinson proved that:

- Dyslexia is due to a simple signal-scrambling disturbance of inner-ear origin—and not due to brain damage as mistakenly believed for the past 100 years.

- Children can be easily screened for dyslexia before symptoms arise and before emotional scarring occurs—using a uniquely designed and patented 3-D optical scanner.

- Safe medications and nutrients—similar to those given astronauts before space flights—result in rapid and often dramatic improvements in more than 75 percent of treated children and adults.

For clear and vital insights into helpful therapies, "A Scientific Watergate—Dyslexia" is strongly recommended. It is available at book stores, or call 1-800-344-READ.

The good news is that you may be able to get through the fall with barely a symptom, thanks to a free Allergy Management Kit from the American Lung Association and the makers of Tavist-1 and Tavist-D. The kit contains a calendar with year-round tips for allergy and sinus management and more.

Fight Fall Allergies

Here are some tips to help you enjoy fall, even as the allergens fly.

- Avoid being outside on windy days when the air is especially heavy with pollen.
- Wear sunglasses to keep pollen from irritating your eyes. Avoid wearing contact lenses when your allergies are bothering you. They can trap pollens against the eye tissue, causing more irritation.
- Avoid raking leaves or, if you must rake, wear a particle mask. (Raking stirs up molds.)
- At football and soccer games, sit on a blanket or bench to avoid direct contact with pollen.
- Take advantage of the fall planting season to create a sneeze-less landscape. Remember that brighter plants such as mums are pollinated by insects and are better choices than plants that rely on the wind for pollination.
- If pets are inside more often, bathe them weekly to prevent accumulation of salivary and skin proteins that trigger allergies.
- Wash sheets and blankets weekly in hot water. (Dust mites are killed at temperatures over 130 degrees Fahrenheit.)

• Clean air conditioners, humidifiers and dehumidifiers often to prevent mold growth.

• Avoid oscillating or ceiling fans which keep allergens and dust suspended.

• Dust twice weekly with a damp cloth to capture, rather than stir up, allergens.

• Use double vacuum bags and change them regularly. Or choose a vacuum with a HEPA filter to capture allergens.

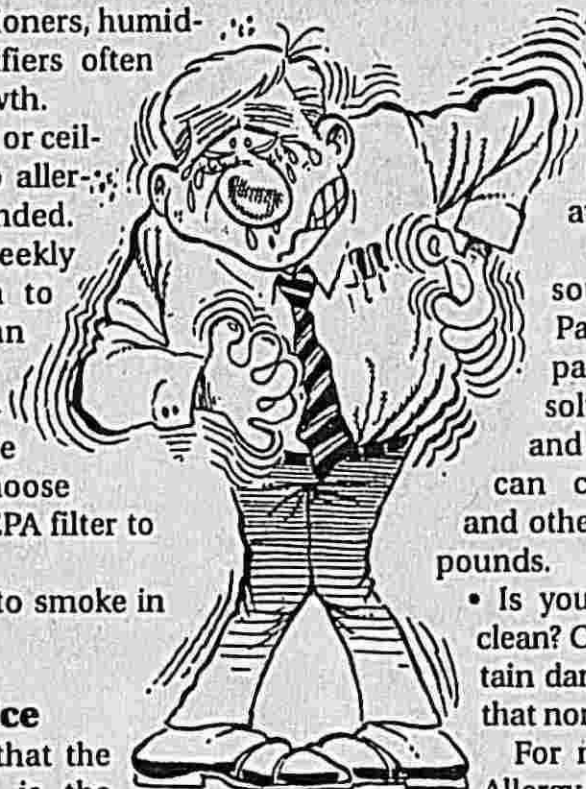

• Ask guests not to smoke in your home.

The Healthy Office

Do you suspect that the air in your office is the source of your sinus problems? Chances are you're not alone. Here are some questions to ask to promote a healthier workplace:

- Is smoking forbidden or restricted? Promote a smoke-free policy at your office. Or ask your company to establish a separate, ventilated smoking area in a space that can be avoided by nonsmokers.
 - Can you remove sources of pollution? Particleboard furniture, paneling, partitions, glue, solvents, felt-tip markers, and even correction fluids can contain formaldehyde and other volatile organic compounds.
 - Is your office breathtakingly clean? Cleaning agents can contain dangerous ingredients. Ask that non-toxic cleaners be used.

Laser surgery reduces wart pain, scarring

For over a decade, laser surgery has been reducing the pain, risk, and recovery time of many surgical procedures in a wide range of medical specialties. Now these benefits are available to the podiatric patient.

Dr. Griff J. Winters, foot and ankle specialist in Grayslake, has been utilizing laser surgery for plantar warts since 1983. In Dr. Winters' experience, laser surgery for warts has the greatest success rate.

Podiatric Laser Surgery is the modern, effective choice for the treatment of resistant plantar warts or areas that involve multiple sites of warts. Laser surgery minimizes the amount of scar tissue produced. This is an important factor since scar tissue may cause as much pain as the wart did. If traditional treatment (acid, burning, freezing) for plantar warts have failed, laser surgery is indicated.

Laser surgery is done in the office and allows normal shoe wear and no time off from work.—Dr. Griff J. Winters

A NEW APPROACH TO GYNECOLOGIC SURGERY

A new and more advanced form of laparoscopic surgery, called "Pelviscopy," is enjoying increased recognition and popularity in this country. With the development of special instrumentation and new suturing techniques, pelviscopic surgery permits the physician to perform major conventional gynecologic operations through a closed abdomen. Standard surgical procedures that can be performed with this closed pelviscopic technique are: removal of ovarian cysts with preservation of the ovaries; excision of uterine fibroids; the evacuation of a tubal pregnancy without removing the fallopian tube; treatment of pelvic endometriosis; lysis of extensive pelvic adhesions after previous abdominal surgery or inflammation; the diagnosis and treatment of pelvic pain; and bladder suspension for urinary incontinence. When indicated, an ovary or fallopian tube can be completely removed via this technique. Hysterectomies, when indicated, can now be done with this advanced laparoscopic technique.

The gynecologists at Women's Health Specialists have been performing pelviscopic surgery for over six years with excellent results and patient satisfaction. They are recognized as leaders, innovators and educators in female minimally invasive surgery.

There are many advantages to laparoscopic surgery such as: decreased post-op pain; shorter hospitalization; recovery within 10 to 14 days; and small cosmetic incisions. With greater demands placed on women in both the home and workplace, and greater participation in making health choices, pelviscopic surgery occupies a prominent place in women's health care. The doctors at Women's Health Specialists have long recognized the importance of providing their patients with this valuable surgical alternative.

Baking soda: we can't seem to get enough

Dentists admit they're not quite sure how—or why—baking soda made its way from the kitchen to the toothpaste tube. Some speculate that it's just the fact it feels good—consumers love that foaming-action, baking-soda feeling.

Whatever their reasons, Americans are buying toothpaste with baking soda in growing numbers. Over the past year, baking soda was an ingredient in 25 percent of the $1.5 billion toothpaste market in the United States. The newest entry is Baking Soda Formula Rembrandt.

But toothpaste is just one use for the derivative of trona, a naturally occurring mineral. Researchers at Rembrandt discovered numerous other personal care uses for baking soda. Here are a few of them:

- Sprinkle baking soda in shoes to remove odors.
- Mix a small amount of baking soda with shampoo for a deep clean that helps remove styling products from your hair.
- Turn your favorite facial cleanser into a facial scrub by mixing it with baking soda.
- Dust underarms with baking soda for a natural, effective deodorant.
- Soothe sunburn by taking a lukewarm bath mixed with a box of baking soda.

For all the reasons why brushing your teeth with baking soda is good for you, call 1-800-548-3663.

Parents should be ready to protect themselves and their children against some common ailments. Typical childhood respiratory and ear infections, prevalent among children from infancy to seven years, can mean lost time from day care or school for kids and lost work time for mothers.

A national survey conducted by The Gallup Organization found that a majority of working mothers (58 percent) indicate they miss work as a result of their child's respiratory or ear infection. On average, working mothers miss nearly three days of work a year, and one in five (20 percent) miss an entire work week (five days) or more.

Nearly three-quarters of mothers (72 percent) with children ages six months to seven years report that their children experienced at least one respiratory or ear infection in the past year. Almost half of these children (45 percent) have had two or more episodes, with an average of 2.38 respiratory and ear infections per year.

Parents know

"Parents are acutely aware of the impact of respiratory and ear infections on their children. It keeps them from work and their children out of school or day care. This has become a major medical problem in the United States," says Manford Gooch III, M.D., department of pediatrics, Primary Children's Medical Center, Salt Lake City.

"After the common cold, acute otitis media, an inflammation of the middle ear, is the most common reason for taking a child to see a physician. By the age of three, more than 80 percent of children other respiratory infections is the germs that cause these illnesses have gradually become resistant to the antibiotics commonly used to treat them," says Gooch. "As a result, even children who appear to be cured after being treated with a standard antibiotic may have a recurrence of the same infection a week or two later."

New treatment

The newest antibiotic for children, Biaxin® (clarithromycin) for oral suspension, gives pediatricians another weapon in their arsenal to treat infections in children because it is effective against a broad spectrum of pathogens responsible for pediatric infections and because it does not cause the same gastrointestinal side effects as many other antibiotics. Biaxin for oral suspension does not require refrigeration and can be taken without regard to meals. It is available in fruit-punch and vanilla flavors.

The survey, based on 601 interviews with mothers of children aged six months to seven years, measured the prevalence of respiratory and ear infections suffered by children in this age group over the past 12 months. Three out of five mothers interviewed were employed outside the home; 40 percent of these mothers worked full time.

SURVEY: Ear infections are why moms miss work will experience at least one ear infection. Nearly half of these children will have four or more ear infections by the time they are three," Gooch says.

The survey indicates that during a typical year, children's infections require an average of 2.1 prescriptions. Nearly half of the mothers (47 percent) note that even after treatment with prescription antibiotics, their children still experienced the symptoms.

A light touch can do so much

YES—The body will respond to gentle manipulations.

NO—X-rays are not always necessary for a DNFT Chiropractic evaluation.

NO—Twisting or rotation of the neck and spine are not necessary to make an effective chiropractic adjustment with DNFT correction.

YES—Even serious musculoskeletal problems can be effectively treated in a minimum number of sessions.

Directional Non-Force Technique (DNFT) was developed in the 1920s by Dr. Richard Van Rump. He discovered that each body contains a simple neurological reflex. This reflex can be combined with a series of "gentle challenges" or very specific touches allowing the body to indicate the presence of nerve interference or subluxated segments and how to correct these areas. A DNFT doctor can also challenge and correct the cranial bones (the bones of the skull), the TMJ/jaw, as well as the muscles and ligaments of the skull. DNFT is the only chiropractic procedure to provide a direct adjustment to the disc. Dr. Van Rumpt found by correcting all the directions of a subluxation and the related soft tissue structures that only a very gentle non-forceful adjustment was required to make a correction. X-rays are not routinely used except to check for fracture, pathology, abnormal spinal curves or where otherwise indicated.

DNFT is based on the premise that the body has a memory of its innate perfect shape and all it requires are very gentle, specific and light thrusts along with exact vectors of correction to return it to that shape. The result is a procedure that allows each person's body to participate in its own analysis. The special DNFT neurological reflex allows for accuracy and specificity. This respect for the body's own process provides a thoroughness that allows for adjustments that have excellent holding power beginning with the first treatment.

The end result is a technique which rarely requires more than a minimum number of visits. This is perhaps what endears this technique to patients once they have experienced its effects.

DOES DNFT CORRECT THE SPINE ONLY?

Although the emphasis is on spinal corrections, DNFT provides analysis and adjustments of the other joints of the body, including the shoulders, knees, and feet. These corrections are just as powerful and accurate as the spinal adjustments. DNFT is known for its quick and effective results in these areas of the body making it an excellent choice for athletes with sports injuries. Adjustments of the TMJ/jaw as well as the cranium provide relief from head related musculoskeletal problems and TMJ pain.

DNFT usually requires few visits, even when dealing with long-term chronic cases. DNFT is also a very effective preventative treatment that can detect and remove problems early, before they create health problems or functional impairment. Overtreatment is impossible with DNFT since the body itself is indicating the interferences and subluxations. If none are present, nothing will cause the reflex to react. It is then possible to know when the nervous system is See LIGHT TOUCH page 18

Twice in the past year, millions of high blood pressure patients were alarmed by news reports suggesting that they may be at increased risk for a heart attack if they are taking a blood pressure medicine known as a calcium channel blocker.

Major professional medical organizations promptly issued statements that patients should not stop taking their blood pressure medicine and that any change in medication should be discussed thoroughly with their doctor.

Patients must understand that if they stop taking prescribed blood pressure medicine, their blood pressure may rise significantly and cause a heart attack or stroke, experts noted.

Key facts patients should know about their blood pressure medicine:

Q. Are calcium channel blockers safe?

A. Calcium channel blockers have been used by millions of patients for 20 years. Their safety and effectiveness have been established through numerous clinical trials. Currently, there are more than a dozen calcium channel blockers approved by the FDA for the treatment of high blood pressure. Nevertheless, in some patients calcium channel blockers may not be appropriate. Raise this question with your doctor.

Q. Should I stop taking my present calcium channel blocker medication?

A. No. It is important to discuss all treatment decisions with your doctor before discontinuing medication. Patients who discontinue their medication may experience dangerously high blood pressure levels, risking a stroke and a possible heart attack.

Q. What treatment options do I have?

A. Several different classes of drugs are used to treat high blood pressure. They include:

- Calcium channel blockers.
- ACE inhibitors.
- Beta blockers.
- Diuretics.

Each class works differently to produce the desired effect of lowering blood pressure. Not all classes of drugs are appropriate for all patients and, within each class, the desired effect can vary for individual patients. This is why it is important to discuss therapy options with your doctor.

Additional information is available by calling 1-800-896-9925 or writing Citizens for Public Action in Blood Pressure and Cholesterol, Inc., P.O. Box 30374-HBP, Bethesda, MD 20824.

Are you a stroke risk?

Has anyone ever said to you, "Calm down before you have a stroke?" It's a warning worth heeding. Stroke is the third leading cause of death in the United States and the number one cause of adult disability. Nearly 550,000 Americans have strokes every year. More than 150,000 of them die.

A stroke is a "brain attack." Strokes occur when a blood clot or ruptured artery interrupts the flow of blood to the brain, the body's most vital organ.

Older Americans at Risk: There are a number of risk factors for stroke which can be addressed by therapeutic interventions or by altering behavior, including high blood pressure, heart disease, cigarette smoking, heavy alcohol use, high cholesterol, a previous stroke or transient ischemic attack, previous heart attack, heart disease, arterial fibrillation, diabetes, carotid artery (in the neck) disease, and a family history of stroke.

Here are the symptoms to watch for:

- One-sided numbness, or paralysis of face, arm, or leg.
- Sudden blurred or decreased vision.
- Difficulty speaking or understanding.
- Dizziness, loss of balance or loss of coordination, especially when combined with other symptoms.
- Sudden severe, unexplainable headache, often described as the worst of your life.

For more information on strokes, call the National Stroke Association at 1-800-STROKES.

clear and treatments are complete. DNFT, therefore, is an excellent choice for health maintenance, disease prevention and as a system of diagnostic check-up to determine if treatment is needed.

WHO CAN BENEFIT FROM DNFT?

DNFT's gentleness makes it a perfect technique for everyone, including expectant mothers, infants, children and the elderly. Those with acute and sensitive injuries, osteoporotic individuals, low back disc patients or those with vascular problems are greatly helped by this technique. DNFT is also a valuable procedure for those who have had back surgery or who have chronic long-standing symptoms or conditions. Of course, those with many other conditions too, will appreciate the minimum number of sessions and maximal holding power of this remarkable technique.

WHO CAN PRACTICE DNFT?

Only a licensed chiropractor can practice DNFT. Learning this technique requires extra study outside the general school curriculum. It also requires the development of special motor skills and expert anatomical knowledge to deliver the very specific DNFT adjustive thrust and to master the unique leg reflex test. As a valuable healing technique, DNFT has withstood the test of time. The technique continues to improve and advance even after its inception 60 years ago. There are only three certified practitioners in the state of Illinois.—Dr. Mark T. Will is a DNFT chiropractic physician with advanced proficiency in the technique. He is on the referral list of recommended DNFT doctors across the nation. There are two locations in the greater Chicago area: one in Gurnee and the other in Deerfield.
